OUR INDEX.

Our subscribers receive with this issue the Index to Volume XXIV. of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, covering the period of six months from July to December, 1879—one of the most important in the history of New York real estate. This Index is the key to the vast treasure of information given week after week in these columns, and at once enables all those interested to ascertain with promptness the value of a certain parcel of property at any particular time during said period. In addition to the references of this exhaustive Index regarding all the transfers filed in the Register's offices of New York and Brooklyn during the past six months, its pages also furnish the same facilities for ascertaining all information about the new buildings in the two counties, the Mechanics' Liens, the various topics discussed editorially and the new projects that have engaged the attention of owners, architects and builders during the past year.

When it is remembered that, for the purpose of getting at all these facts so valuable to purchasers and sellers, there are no other sources than the volumes of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, now properly indexed almost up to this very date, our friends will share with us the pride we take in pointing to the labor and care which have been bestowed upon this Index without which the mass of statistics gathered during the past six months would indeed constitute a labyrinth which might ruffle the temper of the coolest Pine street broker.

Completing, as this Index does, the history of the marked changes for the better which have come over values during the year 1879—a year that in time to come will be studied with as much avidity as it has been closely watched during the past twelve-month—we do not see how any one at all desirous of investigating before investing can be without THE REAL ESTATE RECORD. Its more than thousand pages printed in 1879 present in cold and hard figures the true inwardness of a market, which, after all, is the true test of a people's prosperity. It is the value of the soil that reflects a nation's wealth, and our columns have teemed from week to week with the fluctuations of these values. Of course New York and Brooklyn, with its myriads of streets, avenues, parks, places, squares, laues and roads do not in every instance show a marked variation from previous values, but whatever the spot, whatever the alley even, the Index will readily direct the investor and broker to the page reflecting the transactions in said spot or street.

BROKERS' COMMISSIONS.

To the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD.

Please answer the following question, as I think it is time the matter should be finally settled:

A party leaves with me a piece of real estate for sale at a certain price; negotiations are commenced by making an offer for same; finally, on the 24th December, I again see the owner, coming to his terms all but $50, and then on the 26th December, about three o'clock (Christmas day intervening), I notify the owner my party will take the property on his own (the owner's) terms, and that the contract is already drawn, ready for signature, whereupon he informs me the same is sold.

Under the circumstances, am I entitled to a commission?

GOLGOTHA.

ANSWER.

A broker employed to sell, in the ordinary course of things, can do no more than find a person who is able and willing to purchase upon the owner's terms. When he succeeds in doing this, his brokerage is earned, and the owner who refuses to sell on the terms given to the broker, or disables himself from conveying, becomes liable for the brokerage. This is the general rule which, like every other, has its exceptions. If the owner revoked the broker's authority before the purchaser was introduced, or if he preserved the liberty to sell, himself or through other brokers, upon the understanding that he was to be liable only to the person who made the first actual sale, the owner would not be liable. Of course, every owner may sell his property whether he employs a broker or not, but if he does, he ought to notify his broker so as to relieve him from further labor or efforts. If he fails to do this, or, in other words, to revoke the broker's authority, it would be manifestly unjust to deprive the broker of his commission, who, ignorant of the sale by the owner, continued to labor and incur expense until he had accomplished the object of his employment. While the owner has rights the broker, after employment, has rights, too, which his employer must respect or pay the penalty, which in this case is the brokerage.

PROPOSED CHARTER AMENDMENTS.

On Monday evening, the Municipal Society met at 67 Madison avenue, Thatcher M. Adams, Esq., President, in the chair.

The committee on amendments to the Charter of New York (Messrs. Myer S. Isaacs, Dormau B. Exton and Artemas H. Holmes), presented a preliminary report suggesting the principles which should underlie municipal governments, the special defects of the present charter and the proposed remedies.

The report recommended: (1) a triennial election of the Mayor and Comptroller, the election of Aldermen for three years, to be classified, one-third to be chosen annually on a general ticket; (2) the appointment of inspectors of election to be taken from the Police Board, and vested in a supervisor appointed by the Mayor; (3) the appointments of heads of departments, to be made by the Mayor, without confirmation by the Aldermen, the Mayor to have the power of suspension and removal; (4) subordinate officers to be appointed by the head of the department, to hold office during good behavior, to be promoted for merit, and liable to suspension or removal for inefficiency or dishonesty; (5) appointment in the fire and police department, to be made first for a probationary term, promotion to follow after competitive examination; (6) the discipline in the police and fire departments to conform as nearly as practical to the system of the army or the militia; (7) an increase of the power of the Board of Apportionment, so as to provide for the reduction of salaries, consolidation of bureaus, etc.; (8) supplies for the departments to be purchased after the method adopted for stationery and printing; (9) the street cleaning to be taken from the Police Board, and vested in a special officer, with strict limitations as to contracts for cleaning in sections, removing ashes, garbage, etc.; (10) the fixing of responsibility by substituting single heads of departments for commissions, except in the case of the Board of Education and Board of Health.

The report deals with the great evil of municipal administration of this city, the apparently uncontrollable power of the political machines; and insists that the city should be governed on business principles, the service to be regulated as a great financial corporation should be conducted, and absolutely divorced from State or national politics.

Remarks upon the report were made by Messrs. Sinclair Tousey, Geo. B. Butler, R. C. Hawkins and others, and the committee were instructed to present at the next meeting formal amendments to the Charter, to be printed and considered by the Society.

OUR ANNUAL MARKET REVIEW.

In the regular market columns of this number of THE RECORD will be found an exhaustive review of all descriptions of Building Material for the year 1879, with comparisons of prices, statistics of receipts, shipments, &c. Upon the majority of the articles enumerated, it will be found that the first half of the year brought still further shrinkage in values, uncertainty respecting the future and competition among sellers generally acting as decidedly depressing influences. During the final six months, however, there was a change for the better, with the improvement rather slow until within about six weeks of the close of the year, when a sudden flurry sent prices up with a whirl in many cases, and January 1st found a very strung, confident feeling over the prospects for spring trade. In view of a very full consumption during the fall, and even up to present writing, consequent upon the open weather, dealers are carrying comparatively small accumulations, and this with the belief that building operations will open early and freely, inspires buoyant hopes for the commencement of the incoming season.

THE WEST SIDE PARKS.

PRESIDENT OLMSTEAD'S ADDRESS BEFORE THE WEST SIDE ASSOCIATION--NECESSITY FOR IMPROVING THE PARKS.

The West Side Association held a most interesting meeting last Saturday evening, when the room was crowded with members who paid close attention to the proceedings. President Olmstead was in the chair, and upon calling the meeting to order stated that the topic for consideration that evening was the improvement of the West Side Parks. He then said:

GENTLEMEN OF THE ASSOCIATION:

The topics for consideration this evening are the improvement of Manhattan Square, Morning-side and Riverside Parks. These are the only unimproved public parks within the section of the city covered by the operations of our association. Manhattan square was taken for a public park nearly forty years ago, and ever since then has lain until recently entirely unimproved, except by the construction upon it, at a large expense, of a single interior wing of the Museum of Natural History. In September and November of last year, two large meetings of influential owners of property in the vicinity were held at the Museum Building, which resulted, through the active endeavors of the committee appointed to prosecute the matter, in an appropriation by the Board of Estimate and Assessment of the sum of $20,000 towards the improvement of the square. It has been drained, and is now ready for surface work, some of which has been done. I regret to say, however, that in November last $2,000 of the appropriation was transferred to the account for the maintenance and government of roads, avenues, &c., in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards. Why the Commissioners should have deemed the improvement of the latter comparatively remote region of so much more importance than a section immediately contiguous to the built up portion of the city, and needed for immediate occupation, no one but a politician could guess. It was probably for the same reason that the early appropriation for high water service on the West Side was diverted to the upper part of the Third avenue.

No effort has been spared on the part of the neighboring owners to prepare the region about Manhattan square for occupation. In this they have not been supported by the city authorities, who are at least three years behind hand in their work. This condition of things is wholly without excuse. No general of an army, or public city official in the discharge of his office, whose duty it is to anticipate and meet emergencies, has the right to plead lack of forethought.

Manhattan square should be completed at once, and a bill providing for its improvement should be introduced into the Legislature this winter. As this particular improvement is to be commented on more at length by gentlemen who are to succeed me, and who are fully conversant with the subject, I will confine the rest of my remarks to Morningside and Riverside parks. Half of a generation has passed away since these works were undertaken. They have sent to ruin many a man who foolishly pinned his future on the public faith. Indeed, that the West Side has become the graveyard of so many lost fortunes and buried hopes is due chiefly to neglect of the city to do what it was morally, and, as I believe, legally, bound to do relative to those improvements. When the future historian shall write the history of this city—and written it will certainly and truthfully be—the foul blot will stand irradicable on its page of the great robbery committed by the great body of the people in the exercise of their sovereign power upon the helpless few in the acquisition by the city of the large tracts of land constituting the West Side parks. I venture to say that in modern times, in a civilized country, since the advent of modern civilization, no greater crime has been committed against private property than the imposition of this special tax of upwards of $4,000,000 for the acquisition of Morningside and Riverside parks by this city, without the return of any benefit to those who furnished the money for the purchase.

The plain facts of the case the public must expect to hear until this great wrong is righted, even at the cost of some repetition. By an act of the Legislature, passed April 24, 1867, chap. 697, it was provided that the Board of Commissioners of the Central Park, in the city of New York, should have power to lay out and establish streets and public places between Fifty-ninth and One Hundred and Fifty-fifth streets, west of Eighth avenue, and also that, on the application of said board, Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment should be appointed by the Supreme Court, who should have power to "assess for such openings all such parties and persons, lands and tenements, as they should deem to be benefited by such improvement to the extent which said Commissioners should deem such parties, persons, lands and tenements benefited thereby."

The act further provided that all such public squares and places, when opened, should immediately be under the control and management of the Commissioners of the Central Park as to improving and maintaining the same. The Central Park Commissioners proceeded to lay out streets and public places, pursuant to the act, and filed maps thereof within the two years limited by the act for that purpose. Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment were then appointed by the court, who made and filed their reports. The report for opening Morningside Park and Avenue was confirmed July 28, 1870, and for opening Riverside Park and Avenue, August 2, 1872, and those parks thereupon became public parks and the property of the city. The assessment by the Commissioners upon the adjacent property owners for opening Morningside Park and Avenue was $896,693, and for Riverside Park and Avenue, $3,104,479, and nearly equal sums were assessed for those improvements upon the city at large. The exact amount of the local assessment upon the property owners for both improvements being $4,001,172, and upon the city, $3,892,981. Of course the persons so assessed were called upon to pay not only the whole of the local assessment, but their share of the general tax of $3,892,981 upon the entire city, in addition.

The assessments were made, by law, a first lien on the property charged therewith and carried interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum from the time the assessment books went to the Clerk of arrars. They have, in fact, been nearly all paid, but this is immaterial, since they are amply secured. The money thus collected went into the city treasury and was used for general city purposes. It was not kept apart as a special deposit. It may be said to have been indirectly appropriated in paying for the land taken for the parks and avenues.

The principal and interest of such local assessments for Morningside and Riverside parks and avenues amounted, on January 1, 1880, to the following sums:

Morningside Park and Avenue, assessment	$896,693
Interest from July 28, 1870, to January 1, 1880, at 7 per cent.	$591,592
	<hr/>
	$1,488,285
Riverside Park and Avenue, assessment	$3,104,479
Interest from August 2, 1872, to January 1, 1880, at 7 per cent.	$1,611,741
	<hr/>
	$4,716,220

Total

$6,204,505
For this large amount thus taken from the property-owners, without their consent or concurrence, the only return which the nature of the case admitted of, and which was intended and provided for, namely, the improvement of the parks, has been utterly withheld, and the property-owners have received no benefit whatever. Morningside and Riverside Avenues, which border the interior lines of the parks, are now being constructed, and are to be paid for by local assessments, like other street improvements. Now, it has never been supposed that a local tax could be imposed without the return of any benefit to those assessed. On the contrary, all the authorities agree that the same act authorizing the assessment must also provide for the return of the benefit. This, it is insisted, was intended to be done, and was actually done by the act of 1867, above referred to. The act itself, and the proceedings of the Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment thereunder, show, beyond dispute, that it was the intention of the legislature, as well as of the Commissioners, that the benefit to accrue to the adjacent lot owners, for the assessments imposed on them, should be the immediate completion of the improvements, on account of which the assessments were laid.

The public squares and places were, "immediately" after the same were opened, "to be placed under the control and management of the Commissioners of the Central Park, as to the regulating, grading, paving, sewerage and otherwise improving the same." As to the streets and avenues, the department authorized to complete them "shall, upon the requisition of the Commissioners, proceed forthwith to do such work and make such improvements."

The eighth section of the Act directed the Comptroller of the City to deposit, with such bank or trust company as should be designated by the Board of Commissioners of the Central Park, such sums of money as said Board should from time to time require for improving said streets, public squares and places, and he was empowered to issue bonds of the city for the purpose of raising the money. This is, in substance, the same financial provision as that contained in the original Central Park Act. The proceedings of the Commissioners of Estimates and Assessments, to whom was delegated by the Legislature the power to fix the amount and extent of the assessments are conclusive on this subject. The wide extent of the area of the assessment shows indisputably that the benefit intended by the Commissioners to be returned to the property owners, was to be the immediate improvement of the parks. Thus the area of the assessment for Morningside Park comprised the region bounded by Eighty-sixth street on the south, One Hundred and Forty-fifth street on the north, Seventh avenue and Central Park on the east, and Broadway boulevard on the west; while the area for the assessment for Riverside Park was bounded by Forty-second street on the south, One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street on the north, Eighth avenue on the east and Hudson River on the west. Upon what principle could land below Fifty-ninth street or above Manhattanville have been assessed for the latter park if it was to lie idle and unimproved at the convenience of the city? The bulk of the land covered by the assessment is at a great distance from the parks themselves, and can receive no benefit at all from them, unless and until they are put in such condition that the whole region of the West Side shall feel the influence of the improvements. A glance at the city map shows this to have been in the minds of the Commissioners who laid the assessments. Upon no other theory could they have been imposed at all. The only works of importance laid out under the above act of 1867, which have not been completed, and for which special assessments were imposed, are Morningside and Riverside parks and the avenues bordering those parks. The latter, however, are in process of construction, Riverside avenue is nearly ready to be opened to the public and Morningside avenue will be finished next season. There are no other improvements for the completion of which property owners have like claims upon the city, and therefore, in all questions relating to city improvements, these must have special consideration. So strongly did the equities of the case appeal to a former Legislature that the so-called Woodin Charter (which passed both houses, but failed to receive the Executive approval, through some constitutional objections) expressly excepted Morningside and Riverside Parks, from the clause of that bill, limiting the issue by the city of assessment bonds. It has been sometimes charged that Morningside and Riverside parks are unequal for improvements. In respect to this, it is enough to say that they are mostly hill sides, of no use, except as parks, and abstract little or no land from the market available for building purposes. The wisdom of the Commissioners who laid them out will be fully demonstrated when the avenues bordering them are opened to the public. Even the Council of Political Reform which has never been supposed to be a particularly progressive association, said of these parks, in a pamphlet formerly published that the debt of the city for them "has been honestly, legitimately and wisely incurred." To some extent merely laying them out on the city map did enhance, temporarily, the marketable value of the lots immediately fronting them, but even this must be taken with some allowance, when it is understood that the assessable value of such property has been greatly increased on the tax books in contemplation of the improvements, valuations having been advanced in some instances since the parks were laid out, several hundred per cent. Their present waste and unsightly condition is a positive damage to the great bulk of the assessed property instead of a benefit, retarding improvements, which otherwise would be made, and objectionable for sanitary and other reasons. Although it is nearly ten years in the case of Morningside Park, and of seven years in the case of Riverside Park since the assessments for them were respectively confirmed, and nearly seven years since the plans for the former were adopted, no perceptible improvements of any kind have been made on either park. Some sewerage has been done and some paths have been marked out, but the land lies in the same rough, uncultivated state as when it was taken by the city. I will now call the attention of the association to two bills which have been prepared, and will be introduced into the present Legislature early in the session.

The first is a bill authorizing the Department of Parks to proceed at once with the improvement of Riverside and Morningside Parks, and directing the Comptroller to furnish the necessary funds for the purpose.

The other bill is one necessary to enable Morningside avenue, now in process of construction, to be completed. I will explain briefly each bill.

As to the bill for the completion of Riverside and Morningside parks: The obvious return to the property owners who were to be assessed for these parks contemplated by the act of 1868, was to be their immediate improvement and completion, and the act directed the Park Department to draw on the Comptroller for such money as might be required for the purpose. As before remarked, it was precisely the same in form as the Central Park Act. I admit it to be wholly in the power of the Legislature to determine the limit and manner of taxation. But in this particular case the intention of the Legislature is plain. The whole act, taken together, comprised a scheme to take certain lands for public parks in the city, to charge by special local assessments those persons who would be specially benefited, and to improve the parks and to compel the city to provide funds for such improvement as a part at least of the benefit to be returned for such special assessments. If this be so, and of it there cannot be the least shadow of doubt, then not only was it the duty of the city to make the improvements with reasonable dispatch, but after the parks were once acquired and became the property of the city, and local assessments had been levied and collected therefor, no subsequent Legislature had the right either to permit the city to delay the improvements or to decline to furnish the requisite means. Suppose the Legislature had passed a statute subsequent to the acquisition of the parks, and the levy and collection of the assessments, releasing the city from its obligation to proceed with the work, would such an act have been valid? I think not. I do not think it within the province of the city authorities to delay the construction of these parks at their option. For if they can delay it ten years, why not twenty or a hundred years, and thus make a practical end of the matter? The city is bound to go on with the improvements in a reasonable time—not what is reasonable in view of the financial condition of the city, or the state of the times, because these are equally good excuses for repudiating all debts whatever, but "immediately," according to the intention of the act.

Aside from a very nice legal question, I think the public will admit that the delay which has occurred of ten years, in the case of Morningside Park, and seven in the case of Riverside Park, is entirely inexcusable, and a violation of the spirit if not of the letter of the law under which the parks were laid out. Now, why is not the work on those parks proceeded with? It is because the Charter of 1873 contains a provision that "no expense shall be incurred by any of the Departments, Boards, or officers thereof, unless an appropriation shall have been previously made covering such expense." The Board of Estimate and Assessment refuses to allow any sum for the improvements named; and this is the present condition of the matter. Although a clause in the section of the Charter of 1873, which repeals all previous inconsistent acts, makes a reservation that "this section shall not prejudice or affect any right accrued * * * except as herein specially provided for," still I claim such reservation to have been unnecessary to protect the rights of the property-owners.

The conclusions, then, to which I have arrived are as follows:

1. That the charter of 1873 does not in terms interfere with the act of 1867 so as to affect either the right of the property owners who have been assessed to have the parks completed or the power and duty of the city to complete them and provide the necessary funds.

2. That if the charter of 1873 had attempted to interfere with those rights and duties it would have been pro tanto void; that the whole must be taken as one scheme, both the assessment for benefit and the return of the benefit; and the provision for raising money is a part of the general plan by which the benefit was to accrue.

3. That the Park Department, as now constituted, has the power to proceed with the improvements. This is conceded. I think it also has the power to compel the Comptroller to raise the funds necessary to make the improvements.

Three years ago I submitted to the Department of Parks a brief, embodying the foregoing views, by whom it was referred to the corporation counsel for his opinion. I am unable now to find the opinion, which was sent to me from his office, but it was in substance to the effect that so much doubt existed with reference to the matter that it would be better to procure action by the Legislature before the Comptroller should be advised to issue the bonds as provided by the act on the requisition of the Park Department.

So here we stand. The Board of Estimate and Assessment, acting, it is presumed, under instructions, refuse to grant any money for the improvements, and the Comptroller cannot be expected to issue bonds for the purpose, there being doubt as to his authority to do so. The legislation we propose to ask for this winter, as to these improvements, is simply a re-enactment in substance of section 8 of the act of 1867, authorizing and directing the Comptroller to provide the moneys required by the Park Department in making the improvements, so that the rights and duties of the lot owners of the city shall remain precisely as they were under that act and prior to the charter of 1873. Such an act will, at least, enable the Comptroller to issue the bonds legally. If the Legislature think proper to limit the amount of the issue to a sum in its judgment sufficient for the work, no one will complain.

I may say, in conclusion, so far as this whole subject is concerned, apart from other considerations, the interests of the city require these parks to be improved as soon as practicable. The opening of Riverside and Morningside drives render this necessary. And this, after all, is the most effective argument to urge at a time when individual rights are of so little account as now in the public estimation.

Now, a word as to the other bill to which I have referred, authorizing the completion of Morningside Avenue by the Department of Public Works. The regulating and grading of this avenue was commenced in August, 1872. Regular payments continued to be made for that work until it was suspended in September, 1873. The amount expended up to that time was $154,516.41 one-half of which is a charge upon the city and one-half upon the property owners, independently of the sums heretofore paid for opening the Park and avenue. Work was resumed on the avenue in August, 1875. It remained in abeyance, therefore, for five years. Let us observe the wisdom of the city authorities as to that work. No assessment for it can be laid upon the property owners until it is entirely completed. One-half of $154,516.41 is $77,258.20, being the amount payable by the property owners. Five years simple interest on the latter sum at 7 per cent. is $27,045.35 which the city has lost by the delay and the interest will continue to run against the city until the avenue is finished. Now, this is without regard to the gain which would have ensued from increased taxation, had the avenue been finished before the panic. This is a fair sample, in a compact shape, of the way things are managed by the departments of this city. Morningside Avenue cannot be finished completely without completing at the same time, the approaches to and connections with Morningside Park which it borders on the high ground on the west; and this last bill is for the purpose of giving to the Department of Public Works the charge of the whole improvement of this avenue, whether lying within or without the Park, both for economy and to insure unity of design. Moreover, delay in the completion of the avenue will delay the collection of the assessments for the same, as they cannot be laid until the improvement is finished. Inasmuch as the Department of Public Works is building the avenue, and doing the work in a highly satisfactory manner, it is suggested to permit that Department to take control of the entire work. If thought best there may be incorporated in the bill a provision authorizing the Commissioners of Public Works to employ temporarily at a reasonable compensation, a Superintendent of Design, in order that the present designs already adopted by the Park Department may be properly and effectively carried out and in a manner creditable to the city. Should the Legislature conclude to relegate this work to the jurisdiction of the Park Department, the act so doing should contain a provision for supplying the requisite funds for its prosecution. It is to be hoped, gentlemen, that these bills for improving the public parks on the West Side will have your approval, and when they are before the Legislature for consideration you will exert yourselves to promote their passage. The things of the greatest importance which claim our attention this winter are the completion of Manhattan Square, Riverside and Morningside parks and the removal of the shanties. Other matters will not be neglected, but those to which I have especially referred this evening will demand a large share of our time and attention.

Owing to the crowded state of our columns we are reluctantly compelled to omit the interesting remarks made by Mr. Fleming Smith, Gen. Viele, and Commissioner Salem H. Wales.

THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE.

"Well written and to the point, so far as it goes, but lacking in comprehensiveness," such is the verdict passed upon the Mayor's Message. There is certainly an advantage in the official head of this city giving yearly to our people a history of the condition of the municipality, with suggestions as to future improvements. A. Oakey Hall, who is nothing, if not eccentric, was the first mayor of New York who omitted the annual message, and since his time these documents have not been of much account. Mayor Cooper has one grievance. The courts have interfered with his authority and he finds himself a mere clerk, utterly without power to help giving New York good government, or efficient officials. The judges who have stripped the Mayor of the power meant to have been given him by the statutes should hereafter be marked men in this community. It would be well for them to consult the document put forth by the supreme judicial authority in Maine, touching the recent controversy respecting the election of the Legislature in that State. That court laid down the proposition that the aim of constitutions and charters was good government; the carrying out of the will of the people and that precedents and all technicalities must give way to the equities of the situation. This we believe to be good law and good morals, and in so believing we hold that the courts who have endeavored to strip the Mayor of the little authority he has are amenable to the gravest public censure.

There are a dozen important topics which the Mayor might have alluded to, but which he has seen fit to omit. He seems to be satisfied with but one department of the city government—the Board of Public Works. We hope our well meaning chief magistrate will see the necessity of transmitting to the common council another message, covering the points which he has left untouched in the one under review.

WATER WASTE.

Before the Aqueduct Department indulges in the costly luxury of new reservoirs, it would be well to heed the lesson taught by the restricted use of water meters. It seems from the records kept since these meters have been employed that our people have been needlessly extravagant with their cistern water. Factories, hotels, restaurants, livery stables, steamship lines have been wasting water, without any sort of reason. We hope the time will never come when there will be any restriction upon water in private residences or tenement houses, but certainly it is not just to our taxpayers to permit the waste of water which has gone on for so many years. We will not repeat the figures which have appeared in the daily papers, but enough is known to satisfy any one that there is no need of new reservoirs if the criminal waste of water in this city could be put a stop to. The exacting of rents for these water meters has had one good effect. It has turned the attention of large brewers and certain manufacturers to getting water from other sources and it is now found that within fifty feet of the surface there is an abundance of pure water underlying this island. Analysis shows that the water which is under the clay stratum is far purer even than Croton and, being colder, is especially fitted for the manufacture of lager beer. It may seem visionary to apprehend any such thing as cutting off the water supply of New York, but still nations do get involved in war and this city will be exposed to the peril of being starved out for want of water should an enemy be enabled to cut the croton water mains, between the Harlem and Croton Rivers. The wells which have been driven by the various factories show that there is no danger of any famine from water in the city of New York. We can get all we want in times of need, without any reference to the Croton supply.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots for sale see first column, page iii of advertisements.

Auction sales at the Exchange Salesroom during the past week were few and far between, and, with the exception of some property on the East Side of the city, created but little comment. Mr. Bernard Smyth sold an East Broadway house, now fully rented, at $6,500, one of the bargains of the week, and Horatio Henriques sold two houses on Sixth street, near Lewis, for $4,800 and $4,900. In both instances the property was disposed of below its actual value.

Some leasehold property in Eighth avenue, near Twenty-first street, was sold on Thursday by the Messrs. Muller at fair prices, while Mr. Harnett sold on the same day a three-story brick house, 20x70, on the west side of Sixth avenue, near Carmine street, for $10,900.

In Brooklyn, one hundred and thirty lots, forming part of the well-known Brevoort estate, were sold at an aggregate of $89,130. These lots were located along Nostrand and Marcy avenues, Hancock and Jefferson streets. Mr. T. J. Riley bought ninety-seven of these lots and Mr. Needham thirty-three.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

When in last week's "gossip" we alluded to the sale of the Cheseborough farm by L. J. & I. Phillips, and termed it one of "the best managed" sales, we desired to point to the fact that the private contract was made within a short space of time after Mr. Cheseborough had repurchased his own property, thus showing tact and energy on the part of the brokers. We make this correction for the purpose of removing any misapprehension on the part of those who construed our words as meaning that the consideration was too high. On the contrary, General Butterfield, not many years ago, refused nearly three times the amount at which Mr. Ehret has now purchased this fine tract of land.

The same firm has made other sales during the past week, particulars of which will be given in our next issue.

Other brokers, however, are also feeling the effect of a favorable turn in the market, but we are in duty bound not to print their transactions, until contracts are actually signed. One of them we know to our certain knowledge has handed more than a half dozen contracts of sales for signaturo to parties representing capitalists, and most of these contracts will be signed, but not before this edition goes to press.

Lespinasse & Friedman have sold for Mr. Charles Osborn, the well-known Wall street broker, his two lots on the southeast corner of Forty-eighth street and Fifth avenue, 25x125 each, at $145,000, all cash. Mr. Robert Golet is the purchaser.

Hall J. How has sold for Mr. Aaron Ogden, nine lots on Tenth avenue and One Hundred and Forty-fifth street, being 100 feet on the east side of the avenue, and 225 feet on the north side of the street, for $27,000, to Mr. Joseph W. Patterson. These lots have been held by Mr. Ogden during the past ten years, and the purchaser may congratulate himself in becoming possessed of a choice plot like this at what must be regarded a low figure to day, considering that including the corner, he only pays at the rate of $3,300 for them.

Eight lots on the east side of Fourth avenue, between Sixty-ninth and Seventieth streets, have been sold to Ashbel H. Barney, for $110,000, an advance of $10,000 since November.

The property recently purchased by Mr. Ehret, comprising the block bounded by Riverside avenue, Ninetieth and Ninety-first streets and Eleventh avenue, for $80,000, it will be seen in our list of transfers, has been resold by him for $140,000, making over 75 per cent. profit.

Messrs. Scott & Myers have sold for Alderman McCafferty, No. 38 East Sixty-eighth street, a four-story brown stone house, 16x60, lot $\frac{1}{2}$ block, with three-story extension and oriel window, on second-story front, for \$31,500. Mr. McCafferty, who has built some fine houses recently in that section, says he cannot duplicate it for \$30,000.

We hear of quite a number of ladies who have recently invested in real estate, in contradistinction of those members of the fair sex who, a month ago, joined the procession of "lamb" in Wall street. Among those who have purchased lots advantageously during the week is Madame Demorest, who has secured three lots on St. Nicholas avenue, near One Hundred and Thirty-second street, paying an average price of $3,000 per lot.

A number of large real estate purchases have been made recently in Suffolk County. Mr. Henry Havemeyer has bought several hundred acres of what was formerly the Bergen estate, about a mile east of Babylon, for about $44,500. Mr. William Nicholl has sold to Mr. Frederic Neilson, of New York, 463 acres for $20,835. Mr. Christopher R. Roberts has bought 749 acres adjoining the property of William H. Vanderbilt, for $24,474, and another gentleman is reported to have bought 895 acres of plain lands for about $10,000.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Sales-room for the week ending January 9:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

REVIEW OF ALL THE LEADING ARTICLES FOR THE YEAR 1879.

We present below our regular yearly review of the market for about all articles of merchandise used in the construction of a building, direct or remote, with comparisons of prices and various matters of statistics to be found in no other journal in this city. The salient features of the majority of the reports, and more especially on building materials proper, are a larger aggregate of business than in 1878, at very low prices during the greater portion of the year, at times almost cutting off margins to the manufacturer, with a final quite decided recovery just at the close of the season, and the year winding on very strong values, comparatively moderate stock of goods in hand, and generally cheerful expectations respecting the winter and spring trade. This reaction, however, has come too late to prove of any general benefit on the product marketed during 1879; but the producers and the dealers are congratulating themselves that, while their goods have not secured the full share of surrounding buoyancy, the long-looked-for "hard pan" has been reached, and all the chances are favorable for a first-rate year during 1880. Real estate was about the last to succumb to the breakdown of value from the inflated altitude reached, and in natural sequence it is also the last to recover; but the symptoms are numerous and encouraging. The increased consumption of building material for the year may be cited as one of these, and the higher prices asked, and in many cases agreed to, for spring delivery of additional supplies may be named as another. The money made in speculation and in the regular and legitimate handling of merchandise last year will, no doubt, this year seek permanent investment in houses and lots in a large number of cases; and, while there is a great many of the recently erected buildings seeking customers, further improvements of a liberal character may be calculated upon, should present prospects be realized. In addition to the better local consumption of material, dealers have recovered a considerable portion of the shipping trade, both domestic and foreign, and this has further increased the volume of business over 1878. Indeed, the general outlet for supplies has been quite sufficient to exhaust all the surplus carried over from last season, force such productive capacity as might be available to about its utmost, and lead to preparations for the resumption of operations by numerous manufacturers in various lines who consider the outlook bright enough to warrant them in again investing capital in works previously abandoned as unprofitable. Supplies now in hand are very well assorted, but not large or likely to receive many additions before spring. It may be well to add to the above the opinion of some of our more conservative dealers, who, while admitting the general encouraging nature of the prospect, are fearful that the sudden improvement of the fall and winter has been accepted in too sanguine spirit. Especially do they suggest the possibility of over-production to an extent sufficient to materially modify results on prices expected if no more disastrous form is reached.

The following shows the export movement on

NOTE.—This week's markets have been fairly active and without much change on values except for Lath. These under more liberal arrivals somewhat freely offered have gone back to $2.00 per M., cargo rate, and the prophets who so strongly predicted 50c. @ $1.00 higher seem to be at a discount for the present.

BRICKS.—The market for Common Hard Bricks is one of the very few in the line of building materials where the selling interest has had the average advantage, and where business developed a brisk, cheerful tone during the earlier portion of the year. This was in part due to a combination of forces among producers to cut down supply and in part to what may, in contra-distinction, be called legitimate influence in the form of consumptive demand far beyond the calculations of even the most sanguine. During the winter and early spring there was the usual slow, wholesale market, the North River being tightly frozen and remaining so unusually late, the only supply in the meantime coming from Long Island, the rates on which commencing at $4.50 gradually worked up to $5.50 per M. Consumers, however, were drawing heavily upon the yard accumulation, for although the cost was adverse, operations were pushed with all the vigor possible, especially by the contractors for the extension of the elevated railroads. Indeed, the calls on the latter account had pretty nearly exhausted the stock of Brick available when a strike among the workmen of some little duration, temporarily checked the demand and proved of material benefit to the parties under engagement to deliver, as the late opening of the river had prevented them from getting stock forward with the expedition calculated upon. Not until the middle of March did the ice fairly break up, and then with the yards here pretty well cleaned out, the supply of Long Island, Staten Island and New Jersey about exhausted, calculations were made upon an extreme rate for "River" stock at the opening, something like $6.50 or higher, and especially so as rumors were rife of a strong and determined combination among the producers. There was disappointment over the opening rate, the very miserable condition of the weather almost entirely checking consumption, and the early arrivals somewhat exceeding expectations. The supply, however, did not continue of full proportions for any length of time, the weather, naturally, finally became more settled, resulting in an immediate increase in the demand for Brick, and after standing with $5 per M. for a short time as the top rate, there was an upward turn and a better market. It had, also, in the meantime, become evident that the manufacturers' combination was of entire different form from those formerly attempted, and that instead of looking to an effort to control shipments and fix a positive rate it simply bound the members, under penalty of a heavy cash forfeiture, to reduce production 25 per cent. and not commence work until the 5th of May, with all the principal manufacturers agreeing to this compact. About a month after the production commenced there came a strike among the workmen at the yards, and of course at this critical season the volume of supply was impaired still further, though employers only resisted a week or so and then accepted the situation. All these influences tended to impart a strong tone, and constant predictions of an advance were to be heard, but the market preserved a remarkable uniformity during May and June, with scarcely a variation from $5.50 to $5.75 as the average cargo rate for Haverstrays. Soon after the first of July, however, it was very clear that reduced productions and a consumption running far ahead of calculations were decided stimulating elements and a firmer tone was soon followed by a sharp upward turn on values, the next four or five weeks witnessing much excitement and simply a general "scramble" after Brick, buyers taking all they could get hold of on spot or to arrive, and receivers delivering stock almost red-hot. As high as $7.25 was reached on this flurry when a portion of the demand having been killed by the increase of cost, and those compelled to purchase about all filled up, a lull came, followed by a slow, dragging trade and a reaction which put the top rate back to $6 per M. Here it remained for some little time and then commenced to creep up again, consumers taking stock freely and dealers now and then laying away an odd cargo or two for winter use. The latter demand, however, was a very cautious one, and, notwithstanding the evidences of the growing strength of the market, dealers seemed inclined to hold off in hopes of getting better terms at the end of the season. They suddenly woke up about December 1st to the fact, however, that while they were waiting, certain builders and contractors, backed by "down town" capital, had gone direct to the yards and bought up the bulk of the supply. Then came a renewal of excitement which greatly unsettled the market and sent price up with a whirl until close quotations could scarcely be given, so rapid was the advance in the eager haste shown to secure supplies. About $8.50, however, was the highest fairly established quotation. The average of quality has not been quite as good as last year, partly owing to poor weather, but more generally to the haste shown in getting stock ready for market.

Pales have sold during the year as low as $2.00@2.25 under pressure to realize, but after the new crop came in the demand was steadily exhaustive from week to week, and always buyers for more. There has been fluctuations on value in sympathy with Hards, but not to the full extent, and goodly proportion of the business took place at from $3.00 up to $4.00 per M., with full rates reaching $5.00@5.50 for the latter for choice.

In view of all contracts entered into early in the year and the larger number of sales made direct between producer and consumer, it is not likely that either our dealers or commission men could have found a very liberal margin during the season, but the manufacturer has certainly realized far beyond expectations, when it is pretty generally understood that $6.00 was about as high as the combination expected to realize by their action in cutting down the make. At present the feeling is very strong and buoyant, in view of the small available stocks at all points, and the prospect of a good winter consumption and an active spring demand, and it is very likely that, with the incoming season, combinations will be abandoned, every maker will press to the utmost capacity of his works, and that in addition a large number of the heretofore entirely idle yards will resume active operations. This, at least, is the current talk, but met in occasional instances by a more conservative tone, which suggests that the production may be overdone, and result disastrously to makers especially, if a little recent experience has not cured them of the desire to market the Brick themselves. As we have recorded during the past two years, one of the greatest stimulants to the consumption of Brick has come through the elevated railroads. Heretofore, the amounts used in the construction of the roads themselves was the principal item, but during 1879, in addition to the millions again taken for the same purpose, we have the vast amounts exhausted in the improvements on the upper end of the Island, growing out of assured rapid transit facilities.

The market for Fronts has in all general particulars followed the course of the more common grades. For a short time during the early portion of the season business was quite dull, but subsequently the demand took full form, and the movement steadily exhausted the offering, especially of the Hudson River product, the Croton Point stock as usual taking the lead. Cost somewhat increased, and no doubt could have been greater still, but manufacturers did not appear inclined to force matters to an undue extent. Philadelphias and Trentons have found a fair sale and commanded about their usual relative price, but at times appeared to be in the unfortunate position of finding no work just adapted to their consumption. They were of course entirely too good for builders who could get along with the "River" grades, and not good enough to compete with the Baltimores when buyers were determined to have the best of stock. The latter grade has found good favor for extra fine work, its superior claims for durability and finish being considered as a fair offset to the difference in cost.

The productive capacity of the Hudson River yards was, as noted in our review above, cut down 25 per cent. during the early portion of the season, but after demand set in with full volume, and the price became more remunerative, the compact between manufacturers was abandoned, and production proceeded without restriction. This, and the favorable weather which permitted work until quite a late date, has brought the aggregate make for 1879 quite up to the preceding year, or 350,000,000 brick, and some estimates range as high as 400,000,000. As to the stock on hand, we were unable to secure quite as positive a count as hoped for, but after consultation and comparison with well informed members of the Trade, have arrived at the estimates given below, which probably approximate to the amount on hand. An excess is shown over January 1st, 1879, but we think that last year's figures were, if anything, under estimated, and of this year's accumulation a portion is already sold ahead on contract, and merely remains at the yards awaiting orders for shipment:

CEMENT.—The market for Rosendale has been free from wide or numerous fluctuations, and probably a noticeable feature of the season is the uniformity shown on values. Owing to the late date at which navigation was resumed, the wholesale market did not fairly open until about the first week in April, when the prices were fixed at 80c. on the "Creek" and 90c. here, followed about the first of June by an increase in the asking rate to 90c. and $1 per bbl. for the respective deliveries. Between the extremes above noted, the business of the year has about all been transacted, and, while something above the average of 1878, gave little margin, and sellers found their profit by no means attractive, especially as competition has kept a great many pearls constantly under sale at inside rates. It may be added, however, that certain of the leading and well-known brands, which have become favorites with the Trade, have flatly refused to shade from $1 per bbl. since the rate was established, and report no difficulty in securing this for all they could produce, with necessity occasionally arising for the refusal of orders. The latter feature, however, has been common with all manufacturers, as the distribution has been very liberal and very general, and continued as long as supplies were within reach. Our local consumption alone has made a material increase, the wants of the elevated railroads again affording liberal consumption, in addition to the larger amounts taken for ordinary purposes. Shipping orders were also free from all points of the compass, and also continuous, with some contracts unfilled, we understand. Dealers were a little slow in making their winter accumulation, and, with early freezing weather, would have been caught short, but the late closing of the river afforded an opportunity to get a fair amount together. The domestic product of Portland cement (Saylor's), has continued in increasing favor, the consumption proving much larger and more general, and forcing the manufacturers to very materially increase their facilities for production. The price has remained quite uniform on the open market for the ordinary run of sales, but under special contracts, etc., there was at times some shading. At the close the tone is firm, and the available supply only fair.

Foreign cements have found a good market, apparently if the increased importation and claims of only a moderate stock remaining in hand can be taken as an indication. Some pretty heavy contracts have certainly been secured for foreign Portland, for public work, etc., and the distribution to various points in the country for all ordinary forms of consumption has been quite full, beside something doing in the way of a re-export movement to the West Indies, etc. The English product has unquestionably been the favorite, but beyond this it is useless to particularize as competition is very sharp, and each and every importer or agent solemnly claims that the particular brand he happens to represent is just the very one buyers are all most anxious to secure, and others are taken only as a matter of necessity. There has been a considerable amount of irregularity and prices mostly in buyers' favor, though without the "slaughtering" on cost which took place last season under somewhat peculiar circumstances. The lowest open quotations given were at $2.65, but this has been shaded considerably on special contracts. Of late a firmer tone has prevailed and the cost has been increased, but the business is very dull, owing to the seasonable light consumption, and the heavy expense of moving supplies to the interior. Of the finer grades, such as Keener's, etc., the movement has been slow, the class of work calculated to consume these proving quite moderate.

DOORS, SASH AND BLINDS.—Some little irregularity in the volume and form of business has been experienced during the past year, but on the whole the final result is satisfactory and the outlook promising for the incoming season. On home account the distribution has been general toward all points now dependent upon this market, the Southern orders taking quite as much as during the preceding year, with some growth of orders from old customers and the additions of new buyers from localities not before represented. The near-by shipping trade also has been first rate, and suburban towns even up to the close are well represented for this season of the year. A very gratifying feature has been the growth of the city trade proper, a large percentage of the buildings erected on the upper section of the Island consuming the ready made stock as in every way suited to the work, and contractors who have once used the factory goods giving them decided preference in the future. Indeed, in some of the most pretentious rows of buildings are to be found the machine-made trimmings for the window and door openings, and showing strength, durability and beauty. This, of course, is the desideratum of our principal manufacturers and has been reached only by a careful study of the wants of consumers, both as to size and styles of product, by a rigid selection of first class and well seasoned stuff and the employment of the most skillful mechanics. Prices have followed the course so common on pretty much every article of merchandise during the year, the commencement finding a weak tone and the spring price lists generally marked down, with still further allowances subsequently made. The summer activity, however, gave a little more stamina to the position, and as lumber and the price of "trimmings" commenced to rise in cost, doors, sash and blinds followed quickly until at the close the feeling is extremely firm at the rates recently revised and given in our regular column. Stocks are not over abundant just now, but fair for the season, and manufacturers in position to increase the product whenever called upon. A good business is calculated upon during the coming year, with some negotiations already pending for considerable sized contracts. The export trade has, on the whole, been disappointing and will not in all probability afford much of a margin. There has been a decided falling off in the distribution to the East Indies, etc., but the limited amounts taken for Great Britain afford the principal causes for dissatisfaction, and as yet there is no signs of much revival. No fault has been found with American goods abroad, either as to quality or price, but the prostrate condition of building operations has greatly lessened the opportunities for sale, and the orders received ran much below calculations. It is just probable also that competition to secure the English trade has been quite strong enough to divide the business in small and unprofitable parcels, especially with values cut down to the lowest notch without showing actual loss. The Swedish manufacturers of doors also have been "cutting" low on cost in order, if possible, to prevent inroads upon a trade of which they have heretofore had a sort of monopoly.

The following shows the exports of doors, sash and blinds from the port of New York for the years named:

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—This business appears to have been in a most unsatisfactory condition throughout the entire year, without improvement up to the close, and, dealers say, without the prospect of any change for the better. The movement of supplies, in common with everything else, is claimed to have been larger, including some increase in the city consumption and in shipments to near-by points on the "Hudson" and the "Sound," but there was no money in it, and manufacturers have scarcely found it worth while to continue the production. Indeed, one concern is going out of the business. The old price lists have been retained, but discounts were very liberal as a rule, mostly at 70@80 per cent., though in very exceptional cases on small local orders as high as 50@60 per cent. discount could be obtained. The basis of all this difficulty is to be found in competition, keen, sharp and decisive, from Western manufacturers, who seem to be able to offer at all prominent points much better terms than the Eastern producer can figure out and leave a clear margin. Indeed, it is claimed that even right here in the city trade this has been done. Of course, all intermediate business is stopped, and our makers and dealers rarely secure a respectable or profitable contract. The advantage of the Western producer lays in the situation of factories directly upon the clay banks, somewhat cheaper labor, and very liberal terms with the transportation companies respecting freight charges and prompt despatch in delivery. The stock now in the city is small, but there has been a seasonable diminution of consumption, and the close of the year is upon a dull and nominal market.

FIRE BRICK.—During all last winter, spring, summer, and even for a short portion of the fall, the business was jogging along in a slow, unsatisfactory manner, with scarcely a margin sufficient to clear the seller on expenses. Our domestic manufacturers had in fact commenced to feel quite discouraged, until the start took place in the iron market, which at once infused a feeling of hope, and expectations have not been disappointed. During the past eight or ten weeks the demand has assumed very large proportions, and not only is the desirable supply on hand about all sold up, but contracts have been made for the products some time ahead, while prices naturally improved and close very firm at $30@40 for No. 2 to No. 1. The liberal sales of iron and its product, and the immense contracts yet to be filled, have started apparently every furnace in the country, and the consumption of Fire Brick seems at last to have received a new impetus, considerably aided also by a growing call from other sources, such as sugar refiners, etc. Foreign styles have not sold with as much freedom as domestic, but have been greatly benefited by the same influences, and all desirable grades have found an increased sale. Some of the importations we understand, were decidedly lacking in attractions, and even when offered down to $23.00 did not secure customers readily. Really first-class English and Welsh grades (no Scotch, to speak of, offered), however, sold well and close firmly at about $27@35 as to quantity and quality. The silica grade has been in very decided favor, and especially where intense and continuous heat was used, as under these circumstances it is said to be far superior to anything else, but under the changes of heating and cooling is not desirable. The average quality costs about $35@40, but extra fine has sold as high as $50 per M. Stocks of foreign now on hand are larger than last year, with more expected.

The movements of Fire Brick, so far as reported, were as follows:

The imports of tiles reported as such during 1879, were 861 packages. The exports 6,747 pieces, valued at $1,760. In 1878 the imports of tiles were 558 pieces and 574 packages. The exports 319 packages, valued at $2,856, and 3,805 pieces valued at $1,478. In 1877, the exports were 3,252 pieces of Tiling, valued at $2,701, and 109 cases valued at $283.

There was shipped to San Francisco, via clipper during 1879, 750 Fire Brick and 500 pieces Tiles, and during 1878, 6,393 Fire Brick, and 1,549 Tiles.

FOREIGN WOODS.—On most styles, but more particularly the choice varieties, the market has, during the season, gradually worked into good shape, and assumes quite a decided contrast with the preceding two years. General offerings have at no time been liberal, importers having sent out comparatively small orders, and this, as demand improved, gave sellers a decided advantage and values enhanced on all leading grades. For house and office trimming, the consumption has probably been about as before, or slightly greater, but car work and kindred use, with cabinet production, has required much more stock. Some few re-exports to Europe have also taken place. The close of the year finds the inquiry still very active for Mahogany, of which the supply is limited, and for Rosewood also, of which there is none in first hands. Satin Wood also appears to be out of stock, and quite a number of calls are making. Lignumvita is also wanted, more especially 7 to 10 inch, and buyers are very rarely enabled to fill their orders. Of cedar there appears to be much larger supply than of other kinds, but the demand is very good from all regular sources, and prices supported without much apparent difficulty at the advance recently made. Generally, there appears to be a cheerful feeling on the market with many hopeful expectations for the new year.

GLASS.—In common with so many other articles of merchandise, glass, both window and plate, has found hard pan, and made a very decided rebound. It was, however, a long time before this happy consummation was reached, the earlier portion of the year witnessing a repetition of the irregularity of 1878, with everybody in the trade, from the manufacturer and importer down to the smallest jobber running a little market of his own, and charging prices to suit the necessities of current negotiations, until there was no fixed line of valuations at all, and attempts at quotations had to be abandoned. Business, too, became excessively dull, the home production and the importation fell away, and the entire Trade for a time had nothing to report, except the most lugubrious accounts of the ruling condition of affairs. With the revival of general business, however, this market soon began to brighten, and once securing a fair start, the improvement was rapid, general and somewhat exciting, orders pouring in from the entire dependent interior upon a small and poorly assorted stock, and values securing the long hoped for buoyant tone. Importers and manufacturers once more came together in their respective trade organizations, revised lists, fixed upon discounts and adhered to them with such advances as were from time to time decided upon, while both the import orders and the home production were stimulated into renewed and liberal volume. Indeed, many, or the majority, of our domestic factories secured orders for their full capacity for weeks and months ahead, and for some time there has been only a nominal valuation on the home production, owing to the absence of offerings. Foreign qualities are not accumulating as the arrivals are pretty much all sold and go direct into second hands, where they are held with much firmness, especially the regular sizes, though the demand has covered anything of a really merchantable character. The reduction of supply during the early season had the effect to clean out sweated and otherwise imperfect lots, and the present accumulation is probably of a more attractive condition. In view of the sudden rise in values having started an increased flow of glass from abroad there is a claim that foreign product is again receiving the preference over the American made, but this idea is indignantly repudiated by the domestic manufacturers who assert that they are giving quality fully equal to the average imported article, and that the latter owes its increased sale here of late only to the fact that the factories of the country have been compelled to refuse further orders to enable them to complete contracts in hand, both for ordinary window and plate glass. On the latter, however, the foreign as yet remains superior where perfection of finish is required. Our jobbers have done a tip-top fall trade, and still find demand fair, especially on local account. They are uniform and firm on prices, and naturally expect to be met on a reasonable basis by customers, who, during the dull times, were constantly demanding, and to a large extent obtaining, terms through which the seller frequently found it a difficult matter to secure a clear margin.

During the years 1877 and 1878 the Custom House reports made no distinction between Looking Glass Plate and Window Plate, a fact not to be overlooked in making comparisons.

HAIR.—The market generally has been a stupid one, and without much worthy of record for the entire season. Probably about the only feature to record is the almost total absence of the sale of cattle hair, as it does not pay to prepare it at the price it would bring, and the sale would be very doubtful at the best, consumers giving all the preference to goat hair at the current line of cost. The latter has been a little irregular in price, ranging from 15c. down to 12c., and then on the upward turn again, with the latest reported sale from first hands at 14c., and this is the nominal valuation at the close.

HARDWARE.—Probably, never in the history of the trade has there been such a liberal distribution of goods at so rapid and general an advance in values, as during the past six months. The first half of the year was dull and somewhat stupid, the orders coming to hand in the moderate and cautious form so common during the preceding season, and manufacturers, competing for such trade as was to be found, keeping values weak, and, in many cases, steadily on the downward turn. The late summer and early fall orders, however, gave evidence of some improvement in the views of buyers, and as soon as the influence of the increased cost of metals commenced to show itself in a corresponding addition to value on their product, demand set in with greater force, which gradually increased in volume, fanned by the excitement prevailing in all business circles, until matters became simply rampant. From early morning, until late at night manufacturers were kept on the drive week after week, and frequently found themselves so far sold ahead as to make it necessary to refuse further orders until they could catch up. Every dealer, jobber and retailer in the city or country appeared to have entirely cast aside the old spirit of caution and become possessed with the idea that "now or never" was the time to buy hardware, and during the period of animation the purchases were unprecedented as compared with any corresponding period. To say that prices advanced is very tame, they simply bounced, and so rapidly that a large number of manufacturers and agents were compelled to withdraw price lists altogether and make special rates at time of sale. The additions to value on hardware, as compared with that of the material, and especially iron, was very much greater with many articles of which metal was only a small component part, advanced quite in the same proportion, but sellers had the power and were determined to use it. Of course this could not last for any great length of time, and about November 1st business slackened off and the market very decidedly lost tone with quite decided evidences of weakness developed, though mutual protection induced sellers and late buyers to sustain a surface appearance of steadiness, whenever it could be done. All classes of the trade were loaded with much heavier supplies than usual, mainly because consumption was not in proportion to the amounts taken by dealers, and as manufacturers could not afford to cease production, it commenced to look as though the apparent abnormal additions to values would have to be materially modified before business could revive. Of course a reaction to last spring's rates was not to be expected, as the "slaughter" then made was quite as unreasonable as the subsequent advance, but a conservative line between the two extremes, it was thought, would restore matters to a healthier basis. The export movement has been very fair, but accounts at hand from some parts of the world, especially the East Indies, would seem to show that the movement has been a little overdone, and further shipments at present rates not likely to prove very profitable.

Within the past week or two the general market has regained considerable tone once more, and instead of working out a set-back on prices as suggested above, a strengthening and increase of values is talked of for the price lists of the new year. The stimulus comes principally through the growing cost of material, especially iron, but there is a good prospect for a full consumption of hardware, and building operations will, no doubt, aid this greatly.

The following shows the exports of hardware and cutlery from New York during the past three years:

LABOR.—There has been little agitation and no positive excitement on the labor market during the year. Some of the laborers employed upon the elevated roads were successful in losing several weeks wages and detaining the work for a time, rather to the benefit of a portion of the contractors, who would otherwise have run behind on their deliveries. A few mechanics employed in the building line have "struck" against a contractor or two, now and then, who might happen to be temporarily unable to resist, but there was no general movement of an offensive character among workmen. All the leading and responsible contractors have dealt as liberally with their employees as circumstances would admit, and while some portions of unskilled labor was at times pretty low, the average has been about as good as during the preceding year, and in the higher branches a shade better. The supplies of workmen have been ample, and to spare, even with the increased demand for them, but the surplus not so great, especially of first-class and experienced mechanics. We find an occasional expression of fear, that should building become as brisk and as general as now expected for the incoming year, an opportunity will be afforded for a renewal of the old form of threatening demonstration on the part of the laboring classes. It is barely possible such a result may follow among the ignorant, but we have greater hopes of the more skilful and necessarily better educated portion of the workmen. Time and reflection has shown them how simply ridiculous were the predictions and promises of the demagogues whom they suffered to become their aders and array them in open defiance of law, order and justice. Indeed, we are fain to believe that, except under positive oppression and tyranny, the intelligent workman is no longer inclined to resort to the absurd "strike," but will adopt the more pacific and politic course of settling grievances with employers through the medium of arbitration. What will, under such circumstances, become of the miserable "committeemen," who incite and nurture strikers, it is difficult to determine, but charity will suppose that, having no more "relief funds" made up from the hard earnings of their dupes, as a source for fat salaries and "expenses," they will make an effort to now themselves the workmen they claim to be.

LATH.—This market has, with one or two exceptions, done quite as well as any on our list. The cost did not go below the level of the "bottom" figure for the two preceding years, and when the time for all recovery came, the response was quick and decisive, with a figure reached much above anything shown in 1878. Upon looking back we find that during January, and up to about the middle of the next month, the rate was $1.50 per M. then came a rise of some 10c per M, followed by a steady backward set, until $1.25 was reached. From this, cost soon worked up to $1.40 to 1.45, and there remained for a long time. Dealers did not appear to object to these last figures, and as fast as they could clearly see their wants would purchase stock if it was here and occasionally engage a cargo to arrive. None, however, would anticipate their distributive requirements to any extent, and business dragged along without much spirit, while all attempts to increase the price met with vigorous and successful resistance. Receivers, in the meantime, appeared to be gaining rather than losing confidence, and were constantly predicting much higher values, their advices from primary sources proving very strong, and one or two even "piled out" a cargo now and then, rather than accept the current bids. A few dealers were impressed with the arguments to a sufficient extent to induce them to buy somewhat more liberally, but not until the discovery of the fact that other cities, both to the eastward and south, had been free buyers at relatively more than here, and were getting the best part of supply, was there a waking up to the necessity for action. Then demand suddenly became spirited; everything found a market as soon as offered, including some parcels before fully loaded from the mills, and, with this advantage, receivers gained control, and put the screw on through which the cost increased to $2.20 to 2.25 per M. afloat. In brief, the oft repeated story about scarcity at the mills, scarce and high transportation facilities, etc., was at last verified, and notwithstanding the comparatively open fall and winter, it was next to impossible to bring the accumulations up to the ordinary standard, even at the increased price. The prospects are now favorable for a strong market for many weeks and some negotiations are pending for spring delivery upon an extremely full basis. The accumulation here in yard, can at the best only be called fair, has been made at an extreme cost, and this will no doubt prove a decided support to the position, although some dealers assert that they are compelled to sell on so close a margin as to barely let them out without a loss. There is, at the close, rumors of considerable amounts afloat for this port, but the arrivals uncertain.

LIME.—The business has been of a slow and dragging character, at times simply stupid, with the tone depressed, and the wonder is that manufacturers have consented to furnish the supplies which have probably filled a larger outlet than afforded during the preceding year. Buyers have simply taken their time in operating, and followed the plan of keeping orders to the limit of actual necessity, and while this occasionally engaged cargoes to arrive, it more frequently left the weight of something unsold to carry over from day to day, dealers still appearing to hope that even the low prices ruling during the winter and early spring would be still further shaded. In this they were not disappointed. After some moderate fluctuations, consequent upon the arrival of cargoes detained during the early winter, the year opened at nominally 80c. and 90c. per bbl. respectively for the two grades of Rockland, and there remained until some time in the latter part of April, when a weakening set in, which lost about 5@10c. per bbl. on price. At this juncture competition among the sellers, which had for some time been sharp, became apparently feckless, and one of the principal receivers, assuming the aggressive, suddenly dropped the price of common Rockland to 60c. per bbl., not on a single sale for effect, but because he had goods to offer, and proposed to show his antagonists that underselling could be done on one side as well as another. As soon as the dealers fairly recovered from their astonishment they became liberal buyers, for the only time during the year, and took pretty much all the stock in port or known to be afloat. After this hush on the wholesale market settled into a very slow sort of tone again with the price, by easy stages, getting back to 75c. per bbl., and there it remained until about the 1st of last month, when the lighter offering and time for winter to commence to show, sent the cost on the further upward turn to the point at which the year closed. The season has certainly been a far from remunerative one to the producer, but, in common with the feeling on all other material, there is much confidence felt in the coming spring trade. The accumulations on hand are very small as compared with former years; the coming consumption promises well, and it is expected that the early offerings at least will command a good, full rate. There has been rather more of what is known as the Rockport line on the market this season than usual, and we have heard some adverse comments upon its condition, the general claim being that the grade was inferior to the ordinary offering of Eastern. It is produced about seven miles from Rockland, but from a different range of quarries, and has heretofore found its principal outlet along the southern coast cities. The demand from these sources falling off, the oversupply has naturally sought an outlet here. State Lime has followed the fluctuations on Eastern to some extent, and at times appeared to be entirely independent, the market ruling quite irregularly throughout. Common sold as low as 60c. per bbl., and when the cost of production, transportation, package and commissions are deducted, it is very difficult to understand where the profits are to come from. With the approach of the end of the year there was naturally a tendency to harden up on values, and the feeling became quite firm at higher figures, with a much lighter quantity of stock available in first hands than for many seasons.

LUMBER.—In two particulars the lumber market has realized the predictions made at the close of 1878. Prices have reached down to the turning point, and apparently made a fair start for recovery, and the volume of business increased in pretty much all the leading grades of stock. The Trade, however, do not look back upon 1879 as a particularly profitable year on the operations taking place during its regular season, but rather that it seems to be the date from which the era of returning prosperity is to be calculated. In point of fact, margin for profit have been extremely narrow on the bulk of the business during the past year, and if money has been made at all, it is rather in the surplus left through a much larger amount of sales than through any fair line of advance over cost and expenses. During the earliest portion of the season the same policy of the preceding year was carried out, the selling interest on the one hand pushing and crowding each other in constant and sharp competition, and naturally at steadily shading values, notwithstanding the palpable evidences of a largely increased outlet both on home and shipping account, the exports to August 1st running much ahead of last year, and both builders and manufacturers using up immense amounts of stock. Under all this depression and plain showing that supplies were cheap, however, buyers confined their operations almost solely to the immediate wants of the hour, nor were they subsequently found to depart from this policy, even when the accumulation of stimulating features became of the most decided character. From all primary points came advices not in the usual form of higher prices asked, but of higher prices actually paid, our regular Chicago letter and the exchange clippings from all important points were teeming with account of the vast distribution taking place entirely independent of any Eastern demand, and, of course, a consequent reduction in the available supplies, with a steady and excited feeling throughout the country, which was further intensified by the heavy additions made to freight charges, and the reduced facilities for transportation, growing out of the tax upon the railways and canals in moving the crop of cereals. Notwithstanding all this, however, buyers who would consent to anticipate their wants were quite exceptional, the feeling being expressed fairly by the remark of a leading dealer, who said, "I must feel my side of the improvement before I purchase against it." In fact, the hand to mouth plan which was the safeguard of buyers during the preceding years appears in this instance to have been carried to extreme, and has left a great many of the Trade with much less stock under contract than the outlook would seem to warrant. Building has been good during the year, and promises better during the incoming season, as much of the money made on recent stock and merchandise speculation, it is thought, will seek to improve real estate and create even greater demand for material. Hence those of the Trade who were far sighted and secured supplies have of late greatly advanced the limit of cost, and anxious buyers find that for both immediate and spring delivery it is difficult to secure stock, as even of some of the apparent large accumulations at primary points, only a portion is available, the bulk having been sold and remaining over in storage under contract. A scarcity of desirable lumber in the spring, especially heavy stock, seems to be a settled fact, and with any kind of a respectable demand the prospect for the general market is certainly encouraging. At other leading Atlantic cities the course of action has been much the same as here, and we are pretty certain that along the entire seaboard the accumulation is smaller than usual, and the prospect for business very encouraging. So far as strictly shipping grades are concerned, however, we think that in all probability our market contains nearly or quite a much stock as last year. The sudden lull in the demand about October 1st, and its subsequent failure to recover, owing to the extreme freight charges and doubts over the foreign markets cut down the volume of sales materially, and thus with stock already coming through for the winter left the amount larger than expected. Holders, however, carry it, with confidence that the delay in sale will accrue to their benefit in the way of higher prices. Our general table of exports, as given below, show an increase over last year, the gain about all made during the earlier portion of the season. The West Indies still lead as affording the best market; the South American trade having proven unprofitable, partly on account of a bad state of business and partly owing to action of shippers from other points (Canada it is said) sending in supplies totally unfit for the markets to which they were shipped. Of course the shippers of attractive stock will eventually be appreciated, but this requires time to work the cure. The amount reported for Europe foots up respectable proportions, and is largely composed of ceiling boards, etc. We would also call attention to the extended detail of the balance of our export table, covering as it does the product of the forest in every known condition, it appears on the regular clearances of the New York Custom House, and making a money value of $5,129,583 for wood and its manufactures at the exports for the year.

The Deal Trade with England appears to have amounted to nothing this year, notwithstanding the hopeful feelings entertained at the close of 1878. A few old and very small contracts have been filled out, but beyond this there is no record of anything accomplished. Indeed, a writer from the West, during the season put it: "The Deal business has died a natural death, and our sawmillers manifest no disposition to attempt a resuscitation of the lifeless industry."

In addition to our export table we append to the review a statement of all the receipts of which it has been possible to get an account. The table, covering the amounts from the Southern coast may be accepted as correct, and showing an interesting comparison with last year, and the arrivals from the British Provinces also in all probability cover everything received. These showings, of course, give only a faint idea of the aggregate amount of lumber brought to this city, but there are no present means of reaching anything reliable respecting the receipts from the Eastern coast and the Interior. It was always a matter of surprise to us that the Lumber Trade of this city was without an organization for the collection and dissemination of information upon the product of the forest, until told by a leading operator that "the lumber dealers had too much information already." We sincerely hope, however, that this does not express the sentiments of the majority of the Trade, and that with the prospect of returning prosperity steps will be taken to perfect some sort of a Lumber Exchange, either as an adjunct of one of the already existing commercial bodies or as an independent organization. Other large seaboard cities have long had their Lumbermen's associations, and last year the Baltimoreans erected a building for sole use as a Lumber Exchange.

Spruce has not, we think, afforded much profit to any one from the logger to the retailer during 1879 taking the average business through, but seems to have reached a turning point for the better and a very positive recovery was made on the final sales of the season. According to most accounts there has been quite as much sold as during the preceding year and probably more, as the run of logs at nearly every point was full and they have been closely cut with nearly all of their product disposed of and shipped. This, however, was only accomplished under steady and constant pressure from the sellers, who found that after the little flurry usual when Spring trade first opens, buyers had not only become cautious but decidedly indifferent, and it was frequently a difficult matter to coax them into negotiations. So far as our local trade was concerned it would seem that it was coming to hand happened to find a dealer just at that moment out of stock a sale might be closed without much difficulty and at about current valuations, but it on the contrary it became necessary to look up a buyer, a matter of 50c. or even $1.00 per M. shading from the price which the receiver started out to obtain, was no uncommon ex-tion before the offering could be disposed and then the purchase seemed to be considered a great favor. It was useless to run around to other points, such as the near by towns and cities usually obtaining their supply through our receivers, as demand at these outlets were even more prostrate than during the previous year, or so exacting over quality that no ordinary offering would find favor under these depressing influences and prices fell away gradually until one desperate push sent the figure on actual sales to $9.00 per M. for very good random stock, and offered an opportunity for first-class buyers to contract for specials with much freedom on about the usual difference above the cost. Luckily for the manufacturer our buyers did not wake up to the bargain and the shipments in this direction being for a time curtailed there was a recovery of $1.00@1.50, with some trade done both in the way of exhausting random and engaging specials, through which another advance started aided by the additional cost of freight charges, and finally culminated in the flurry through which $16.00 became as low as manufacturers or their agents would negotiate and some asked even a higher rate for delivering during the winter. Too late dealers discovered their mistake, and some, it is thought, in order to be prepared for next season, have already made contracts for spring delivery with $15.00 mentioned as a price, in one or two instances at least, though as a rule terms are kept private. At certain regular points there is winter sawing going on, but in part to meet back contracts and the output of stock amounts to very little, while the facilities for moving it forward are small and the cost high forming an additional feature of strength to the general position. The competition between dealers has continued to a considerable extent and the anomaly of goods selling from yard for less than the cargo rate was again to be observed. Even after the fall advance we hear of dealers offering at $1.50@2.00 per M. less than they could replace their stocks, and shifty houses who could by no possible means be considered as among those forced to realize.

The policy, however, is evidently much less general and seems to be an evil gradually correcting itself. Some complaints have been made during the season of the unattractive condition of many of the randoms offered, but the quality has in all probability run about up to the average, with rarely anything real choice. Extra large and heavy spruce appears to be a thing of the past and other wood is being used as a substitute. Taken altogether it would appear that offer undergoing the final squeeze during the spring and summer months, the market for spruce has made a solid recovery through the fall and early winter, with every indication that the spring will open on a good trade and at high rates. It may be however that the pretensions of sellers will have the influence to hold in check much of the demand calculated upon and partially or wholly neutralize the scarcity of supplies. Extreme cost has also in former years proven a factor in bringing to light many parcels of stock in unexpected quarters, and even seemed to run a few extra logs just at the most convenient time and it is possible that this may again be repeated. While, therefore, the year opens with cheerful prospects, we find the principal operators inclined to a conservative point at the start, and until the true strength of the position can be determined.

White pine during the greater portion of the year has found an unsatisfactory market. The movement of supplies has been steady and full on all outlets, with an aggregate in excess of the preceding season, but the margin of profit was, if anything, smaller and indeed frequently amounted to almost nothing at all. This was especially noticeable during the first half, or say the first two-thirds of the year, and while with some truth attributed to a revival of the old competition between leading dealers, it was in a measure due to the universal policy current at the period named, which led to "hammering" down the value of the products of the country without reason or apparent thought of the absurdity into which the movement ran in too many cases. Under the weakness and evident low cost of supplies everybody who really had any immediate use for lumber kept steadily buying right up to the capacity of their wants, and probably these wants were increased somewhat by the cheapness of the offering. There was certainly a much larger business done on both home and shipping account, and rarely any great accumulation of stock to carry over from month to month, though an actual scarcity was at no time shown and more could have been hurried forward if wanted. Buyers, however, did not make this necessary. As above noted all that could be used was taken, but right then and there demand ceased and it seemed impossible to offer inducements which would lead to further purchases, except in a very few cases. This was all the more remarkable from the fact that at pretty much every point in the interior there had been the positive evidences of growing strength and a final culmination in some rapid advances of considerable magnitude on the cost of lumber itself, with exactions in the way of freight charges, which made supplies relatively cheaper here than on the main market. Of course manufacturers' agents refused to negotiate except at an advance. This for a time materially curtailed demand, and when buyers did finally wake up to the merits of the situation it was beyond the period when they could more than partially make amends for the carelessness of the early portion of the season, and there are a great many dealers and large consumers who now regret their failure to see the shadow of coming events. This rule, like all others has its exceptions, as a few of the trade who have been carefully picking up supplies almost since the opening of navigation, are pretty well stocked and this with the rush purchases made at Albany and other available points by the ciliary ones will give an accumulation probably equal to the winter wants, though some predictions are made of a great scarcity in the spring if business opens with anything like the animation expected. Dealers who cater to the foreign trade have apparently had the most abiding faith in the future, as their aggregate supplies, it is understood, do not fall much below last season. But they are carefully selected, under control of strong indifferent holders, who, with the well fortified condition of the market, refuse all bids not based upon extreme valuations, and seem to think that stock, which they were trying to find customers for a few months ago at $13.75@14.00 is not dear now at $16.00@18.00. Shippers, too, are approaching them more nearly in their bids as difficulties in the way of transportation charges are gradually being overcome. The exports to South America and the West Indies amount to some 42,500,000 feet in round numbers, a slight increase over last year. During the first nine months the proportion of excess was much greater, but the sudden falling off in October and subsequent slow movement cut this down greatly. The competition over the foreign demand continues sharp, but is less suicidal than formerly, and it is believed there will be enough business for all during the coming season. Most dependence is placed upon the West India trade, the South American markets offering little encouragement at the moment, though some purchases are thought likely to be made by parties chancing it by endeavoring to have stock on hand at the foreign ports about the time the turn for the better sets in. The consumption of the city and round about has been general. The box makers have been liberal buyers, including not only the smaller producers who usually purchase here, but some of the larger ones, whose excess of business this year has exhausted all the material they contracted for and forced them frequently to take whatever they could find nearest at hand. Other manufacturing consumption in its various forms has been full, and the calls for building purposes free, indeed more so than was met, owing to the dubious security offered.

Yellow or Pitch Pine has in many respects followed much the same general course as the other leading styles of lumber. The amount sold was quite liberal and exceeded that of the preceding year by many million feet, including the left over supply from 1878 and the fresh contracts, and at times values ruled quite low and unsettled, more especially when vessels were plenty and the cost of transportation correspondingly cheap. Still we think that, as the whole sellers have not labored under quite so general or continuous disadvantages as upon other grades of stock and have found buyers more willing to meet them when a fair reason was shown for strengthening values. This class of goods is almost without a competitor for all heavy work and is a favorite for many forms of a light r description, so that the consumption was just about general enough to afford an opportunity to offer anything not entirely void of attractions, and nearly large enough to exhaust the almost entire amount available, the accumulation on hand certainly not exceeding last year and by many claimed to be less. In addition to their sales for city consumption the agents here located have closed a great many contracts, and some of them of large size, for delivery at near-by dependent points, and also "up the river" and along the "Sound" the bulk of the stock thus disposed of to go into the construction of warehouses, large factories, etc., and rail road buildings, freight and passenger, and at the present writing there are considerable amounts further still under negotiation. For no extended time were values under serious depression as compared with primary cost, complaints on this score being less frequent than in 1873, and now the tone rules quite firm with no unusual effort making to sell. The consumption by the elevated railways has again proven very liberal and much less detrimental to the seller than during the preceding year with a probability that even a little money has been made on contracts as an offset to the previous losses. In the first place, contracts were made early enough in the season to permit of the engagement of transportation facilities at something like a reasonable basis, and again in view of the previous experience the producer has turned out stock in closer conformity to the terms of sale. It is also intimated that the representatives of the railroad companies, while accepting nothing inferior, have been less exacting over quality and passed goods that by a strong stretch of imagination would no doubt have developed faults last season warranting their rejection. Some offerings, however, have been thrown out and these as before had to be sold for anything they would bring.

Hardwoods of all kinds have done very well. The commencement of the year found more or less depression prevailing, but this disappeared a trifle quicker, if at anything, than on other descriptions of lumber, and the movement has since continued comparatively free up to the very close. Values also have made an advance even beyond the usual gain to cover the increased cost of transportation charges, and no sellers can now be found except at a very full unit of valuation. The home call has been of a very general character, the consumption including all the principal grades, but there was a preponderance of walnut. House trimming has taken some stock but not to a liberal extent, the principal call coming from furniture, cabinet and kindred manufacturers, with car work also requiring a little more than last year. To a certain extent consumers have drawn supplies direct from the primary markets, but there was, we understand, less of this than usual, as it is found in too many cases to be an unprofitable policy. It is a very difficult matter for a manufacturer to purchase by the car load in the interior and have supplies delivered sufficiently uniform to meet the requirements of his trade; and while anything too good can be placed without much trouble, the poorer culling is rarely disposed of without a considerable sacrifice. The tendency, therefore, is to purchase here from dealers and make the selections close to actual wants. The movement to foreign sources through this port as will be seen in tabular statement below, shows quite a decided gain and especially in the way of walnut and "cabinet" wood. The latter is not very specific and we have reason to believe in many cases referred to additional parcels of walnut, though nothing clear was shown on the manifests of cargo. As usual, a goodly portion of these shipments, indeed the bulk of them, have simply passed through in direct consignment from the interior, but the sales were generally consummated by agents here, and there has also been a little taken from local stocks. England and Germany continue to be the best customers for hardwoods, but France and other portions of the Continent have made a few calls for stock, and we also noticed occasional shipments to the West Indies. The accumulation now on hand is not very liberal but most of the leading dealers appear to have a very good assortment as they have taken much pains in selecting stock. Some of this is virtually out of reach, having been laid aside for more thorough seasoning against special calls.

Shingles have found a very good sale, and while receivers of small and irregular lots experienced some difficulty in realizing except upon an easy basis; those making a specialty of the trade and keeping full assortments found customers at times plenty. On prices the margin secured was not very liberal, but still left a little profit and have preserved a uniform tone throughout the season, with somewhat greater firmness at the close. The distribution has been general, embracing orders from the East, quite liberally from Long Island, New Jersey, and to a considerable extent from this State with cypress and cedar stock especially in favor. There has not been quite so much done in the export line as anticipated, but still the amount was fair and reasonable prices obtained.

Piling from the Eastward has done very much better than during the preceding year. Some very heavy dockage work has been under way, which of itself would have materially increased the consumption, and beside this the elevated roads again come to the front as liberal consumers in the amounts taken for pier foundations, especially on the upper end of the island. Values have increased and from about 4@5c. last season, the cost is now up to full 6@6½c., and scarcely a stick left in first hands, a very unusual occurrence. The same will apply to long piling received via Hudson River, the supply having a lid close to receipt with the average prices standing at about $5.50 for 6½ foot sticks; $6.50 for 6½ foot do.; and $7.50 for 7½ foot sticks, now worth 50c. @ $1.00 more, but a little nominal owing to the greatly reduced supply. Southern piling had sold to some extent, but at too irregular rates for a quotation.

Yard dealers have, on the whole, had a pretty good year. The opening was far from promising; indeed for a month or two matters looked quite blue under a dull trade and still further shrinkage on cost in many cases. About March, however, the feeling commenced to improve somewhat and gradually developed into a good healthy business, from which there was no positive reaction and the movement preserved really full proportions up to the very close of the year. Values have shown irregularity at times owing to the thousand and one influences governing retail transactions, but the natural tendency was toward a growth of strength, and within a month or two there has been quite a general gain and especially for good desirable parcels of standard grades and sizes. One of the contrasting points with the previous year is to be found in the fact that buyers, even when regular and first-class customers, could no longer dictate terms, and found their own previous indifferent mood now a characteristic of sellers. There was no attempt to extort or force an advance beyond its natural development, but holders who had desirable goods fixed their price at market rates and stuck to it, even though sales were sometimes lost by the policy. Very naturally the greater portion of the business has been on local account and for the various forms of manufacture, as well as building purposes, direct and indirect. The speculative form of building indulged in by a certain class of contractors has not been supplied to any extent from our yards, dealers having had somewhat costly experience with this class of consumers, and preferring they should purchase on primary points, etc., if sellers there were willing to take the risk. The Trade in fact have been prudent, without reaching a point of over caution, and the results are that the season closes with a good fair business, with some showing for a margin of profit and scarcely any loss from bad debts. In this connection we note as a conspicuous feature in the remarks of some of our prominent dealers, the fact that they lay less stress upon the increased volume of sales and the higher prices attained, than they do upon the character of the trade recovered. As constant customers may now be found the most desirable, and as a natural sequence the most reliable consumers in the city, and when sales are made it is with a feeling that not only are settlers sure, but will be made promptly at the time agreed upon. There are exceptions, of course, but the necessity for constant dunning and frequent extensions is much less common than in former seasons.

A considerable aid to the volume of distribution has been found in the recovery of a great deal of the domestic shipping trade from various points "around about," which for a few years quite slack now appears to be reviving again. In view of the uncertainties respecting the future and a lesson of the caution of the preceding year, dealers are loth to enter into contracts with any freedom early in the year, and when they did discover the necessity for so doing it was too late to get much forward. The result is a comparatively light accumulation and of course another strengthening feature, especially as the selection was judiciously made and as far as it goes the assortment is attractive. Taken altogether the position is now well in hand and firm, with a bright, cheerful outlook for the spring, and the chances favorable for a still further gain by the selling interest.

METALS.—Our regular market reports have so thoroughly followed the ramifications of cost and the volume of trade in the various articles coming under the above heading that a detailed recapitulation at this time is scarcely necessary. The year certainly has been a most remarkable one and not even during the most exciting periods of war times did the market show such a universal condition of animation and buoyancy. Indeed, there was often almost an impossibility of keeping track of the additions to value and a carefully corrected morning publication of quotations would frequently be found entirely useless before night as a guide to prices. During the earlier portion of the year the market followed the common rut and worked steadily downward, but was among the first to develop reactionary tendencies and soon took the lead in the line of improvement. We remember reading somewhere last winter an article predicting that until iron once more commenced to harden in value, no improvement in general business could be looked for, but just as soon as this great product did give positive evidence of a more favorable situation, an era of returning prosperity might with safety be calculated upon. Surely this prophet should have honor in his own country, for the facts show a literal realization of the prophecy. The volume of trade at the great business centres of the country during the past four or five months has probably been the largest ever known within a corresponding period of time. The demand for iron appeared to be first stimulated by the increasing demand for rails, but the call soon extended to every manufacturer using this metal from which to produce his wares as well as to many operators who merely took hold for investment with prices going up rapidly and many forges selling their product ahead up to the coming Spring. Manufactured iron was a little slow to respond, but once fairly started the improvement was rapid and the product not only sold far ahead but many manufacturers compelled to refuse the further booking of orders. Especially was this the case with structural irons, the available quantity steadily falling short of the demand. Copper of all kinds, lead, spelter, zinc and tin have all had the fever in full force and made heavy and rapid gains in value. About the 1st of November, however, the excitement appeared to culminate and the pause in the business soon merged into weakness in values and there was quite a decided set back in many cases. The improvement was started and for a long time sustained on legitimate demand, but speculations then came in and carried cost to a point calculated to check consumption with the natural result following. Imports, too, were greatly stimulated and the market has been in decided contrast with several preceding years, in view of the more liberal supply of foreign goods, shown especially iron. The latter, however, has failed to regain its former popularity, except as a matter of dollars and cents, as consumers discover through use that plenty of American iron gives just as good satisfaction in the way of quality. Some of the imports were not likely to turn out profitably until within a few weeks, when a slow but sure, and apparently solid improvement in values on the domestic product of iron has given the foreign article an opportunity again. Other leading metals were also all tending toward improvement at the end of the year, with indications for the near future very strong, too promising, some of the more conservative portions of the Trade appeared to think, for investment beyond absolute necessity.

The exportations of iron from Great Britain to the United States, during the 11 months ending November 30, as shown by the British Board of Trade returns are as follows:

	1879.	1878.
Pig (tons)	231,608	29,054
Bar, angle, bolt and rod	14,286	4,539
Railroad (iron and steel)	37,932	717
Hoop, sheep and plate	9,778	957
Cast	6,041	2,625
Old, for re-manufacture	131,861	1,613
Total	431,506	39,505

These remarkable figures show that the grand total of all descriptions shipped from Great Britain to the United States during the past 11 months is 392,001 tons, or a fraction over 992 per cent. greater than for the corresponding period last year. The total value of these shipments, exclusive of freight, insurance, etc., is placed at £1,652,121, as against £236,271 for the corresponding period last year.

In the following table from the report of the American Iron and Steel Association is given the prices at Philadelphia and in Pennsylvania of various iron and steel products on the 1st of January, 1879, and the 1st of January, 1880, with the percentage of increase in the intervening year. The prices are fair average quotations:

Articles.	Jan. 1, 1879.	Jan. 1, 1880.	Per cent. of Inc.
No 1 anthracite foundry pig iron in Philadelphia	$17.00	$35.00	106.
Best refined bar iron in Philadelphia	42.56	71.68	68.
Bessemer steel rail at works in Pennsylvania	42.00	70.00	67.
Best iron rails in Philadelphia	34.00	57.00	68.
Cut nails, by the keg in Philadelphia	2.10	4.25	102.
Old iron rails in Philadelphia	19.00	36.00	89.
No 1 wrought scrap in Philadelphia	30.00	34.00	70.

The estimates of the production in 1879 show a total of 1,650,000 tons, against 1,156,631, tons in 1878. This improvement in the iron trade is attributed principally to the increased demand for rails for new roads; the demand of existing roads for rails, cars and locomotives to meet requirements of increased business; the New York elevated railways; the manufacture of steel wire fencing and iron tanks and pipes for oil regions.

NAILS.—The year opened on a dull and depressed market, and business continued to drag heavily for several months. A considerable amount of stock went out in one way or another, but it was only disposed of under pressure, and when many of the mills shut down, and thus cut off a portion of the production, the reduced supply seemed to satisfy the requirements of the market about as well as when the amount was much larger. During this period the cost was almost anything from $2.20 down to $2.05 per keg, and it is believed that sales were made at $2.00 per keg, the list rates being practically ignored. After shutting off productions somewhat, however, the manufacturer's association adopted new cards, which placed the figures at $2.25, and this was the nominal rate until along in the latter part of August, when the market commenced to feel the stimulus of the increased cost of material. This influence gained force rapidly, and soon the advance on Nails commenced in jumps of 10@15 and 25c. per keg, until a very few weeks brought the cost up to $3.75 per keg for 10d to 60d, and this remained until the last week of the year, when cost again increased to $4.35, at which the close was strong. During the advance the sales were liberal, but the production was also greatly stimulated with the result to be found at present in a well assorted accumulation of much larger proportions than usual at this season of the year. Holders, however, carry it with the utmost confidence, and some look for a still higher range at an early day, both through natural demand and the fuller cost of material. The export movement has not varied greatly in either form, or quantity, and shows about the same aggregate value.

OILS.—The early portion of the year found business dragging upon pretty much all kinds of animal, vegetable and mineral oils, with more or less irregularity on values, though the tendency mainly in buyers' favor. Occasionally, a semi-speculative movement would be made, but it served only as an additional disturbing element and accomplished no beneficial results. Even after other lines of merchandise began to work into activity, the movement on this market was slow, but finally a start was made and then the spurt rapidly recovered the lost ground. Linseed Oil, in particular, went up bound after bound, and, with only slight supplies of seed to aid the production, the stock was constantly sold ahead. Crushers have had less cause for complaint over the margins for profit than last year and many are understood to have secured liberal returns on poor as well as good quality, the anxiety of buyers affording a sale for almost anything merchantable. At the close, the position was firm and the available amounts of stock small.

PAINTS.—The considerable array of goods coming under the above title have, to a greater or less extent, felt the influence of the more cheerful state of affairs prevailing upon most articles of merchandise. The improvement, however, came somewhat late in the season and was less decided and general than hoped for, the advances on many styles proving really quite moderate. Supplies have at no time been very large either of the domestic or foreign product and were under fair control with the distribution by jobbers during the fall pretty lively, but the amount taken did not quite come up to expectations and, with competition again strong, there was a check to excitement and positive buoyancy. As with all rules, however, there were exceptions to be found and the most prominent in the case of Zincs and Leads, which, having the stimulus of the decided increase in the cost of their base, were for a time run up pretty lively, but scarcely enough to attract increased importations of the foreign article. Vermillions have also rather gone beyond the average in the advancing scale and were at times a little scarce, and Paris Green, in addition to the usual spring flurry, has done very well during the entire year. We find among the Trade an inclination to take a very hopeful view of the future and the majority are calculating upon a first rate business during the coming spring and especially where custom comes from the interior. It is claimed that farmers have all made money on the crops of the past year and that this will be appropriated to carrying out plans long deferred for improvements, repair, etc. Local consumption is also likely to prove good and generally the outlook is cheering.

PLASTER PARIS.—As most of our burners contract direct with the primary points or control quarries of their own, and not many outside markets operate through this port, dealings in Lump have not presented many features of interest. The amount handled is said to have been much larger than last season, but we have carefully compiled the imports of every cargo reported and find only a slight difference. The cost, as made public, was lower, considerable contracts taking place at $3.10, and from this gradually creeping upward with a final more rapid advance in sympathy with increasing freight charges, and at present show a firm tone. We can make no positive statement of stocks on hand, as the reports of the Trade show numerous flat contradictions upon this subject, but we have reason to think the available accumulation is below the aggregate of the close of 1878, to a very considerable extent.

On Calcined the market has presented very much the same general features for two years past. Competition of the most violent and determined character has continued with unabated vigor throughout the season, keeping the line of cost constantly in buyers favor, and frequently special concessions, when some particular customer was desired, have reached figures absurdly low. The causes leading to this result are too well known in the Trade to require repetition here, and while the feud between competing manufacturers continues, consumers will, no doubt, reap much advantage, which even the upward tendency on other forms of material cannot overcome. A very natural sequence to the state of affairs noted above is the claim of manufacturers that there is "no money in the business," and that "somebody must go out pretty soon," the latter, however, an old story. All, however, agree that the distribution of their product has been made without the least difficulty, and much more could probably have been placed if available. Local wants have been larger than last year, and all dependent points, interior, coastwise and foreign, have drawn for their full quota. There has been in particular, an increased distribution to the Boston market, as in view of tariff rates, our manufacturers are enabled to compete with stock from the Provinces. The production of patent blocks for ceilings, partitions, floor arches, as non-conductors for fire-proof buildings has also been quite an item in the consumption of plaster, and is steadily reaching larger proportions. In short, so far as opportunities for placing stock are concerned, the market is all that could be desired, and would, no doubt, assume much better form on values were legitimate influences allowed to assert themselves.

PITCH.—The market has developed no unusual features during the year, unless it be that it was free from the full measure of excitement so common to find in other lines of goods. The demand spurred a little at times; cost made some recovery from the lowest point reached, and stocks were kept under good control, but the business in the main was of the regular uniform character, as developed by ordinary trade wants, and buyers would not hurry their movements.

SLATE.—So far as the immediate local consumption is concerned the demand for roofing slate has made no improvement whatever during the season. Some deliveries of fair size have been to complete old and new contracts but these could scarcely be considered as coming in the way of ordinary distribution, and the jobbing or yard business seldom went beyond small parcels, and to a large extent for repairs, etc., with little profit to be found in handling goods in this manner. Owing to the flat roofing used on nearly all city edifices slate has become almost entirely superseded by tin and gravel, and only comes into service when some unusual style of architecture is employed. In the suburbs, however, the case is somewhat different, and all points dependent upon this market have proven very good customers and reached a consumption in excess of 1878, if anything. The great gain of the year, however, is to be found in the demand from more distant markets as far West as Chicago and South to New Orleans, including all the intermediate points of any importance. To these outlets the distribution has been liberal for all ordinary building purposes in the way of dwellings, outhouses, railroad depots, factories, etc., and at times the capacity of the quarries was somewhat severely taxed in order to keep up with the calls made. The Eastern product has had some share of the trade but only enough to warrant the principal quarries in working, and the Pennsylvania slate appears to have found the largest sale, the black style leading as the most popular. An ordinary grade of green, however, has found some favor with the Western trade and a fine quality of the same shade, with a few purple slate, could be sold for fancy work, etc. The quarrymen in this branch of industry are very proud to strikes when opportunities appear to favor them, but luckily during the past year appear to have understood that their own prosperity lay in keeping their employers' business untrammelled, and no lockouts took place. During greater portions of the year prices have ruled low and the margin for profit was quite limited, especially during the first seven or eight months. This was due in part to the necessity of checking attractions which might induce many of the small quarries lying idle to start up again, and in part to sharp competition among all who were at work. The closing months of the year, however, have brought an improvement in this respect and the tone is now very firm with desirable stocks in first hands materially reduced and under good control. A first rate business has again been done in the production of sills, lintels, steps, platforms, etc., with larger sales than last year, while the output for the manufacture of mantels is up to the average. For billiard table beds the call was slow for a time but latterly this has picked up also.

Last year closed upon a very dull export trade and as the season of 1879 advanced matters grew worse instead of better. The shipments for a long time were merely those required to meet previous contracts with scarcely any new orders received during the spring, summer and early fall except about the ordinary ones from the East Indies and now and then a cargo for Europe when it could be forwarded under some peculiarly advantageous circumstances. This shrinkage of demand for slate from this side appeared to be the result of the hard times abroad, similar in many respects to that noticeable here during 1877-78 and culminating not only in enforced economy of consumption, but compelling the foreign producer, in many cases, to modify the extreme and independent view previously assumed on prices or lose altogether what little trade there was. Our shippers, too, as we noted last year, had been working on a very narrow margin, and it is possible that some losses may have led to greater caution. Within the past two months, however, there has come a radical and somewhat unexpected change, liberal orders, as compared with the earlier portion of the season, being received from Great Britain, which were promptly attended to by agents at fair rates, and the representatives of the quarries have had all they could do to make the shipments with the rapidity expected. The continent has also taken a little, and there seems to be a hope that the incoming year will bring a fair revival of the foreign trade. The export of school slates will be seen in the tabular statement of "cases" given below, though we understand a few small clearances of roofing lots were made in this form of package.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—A very large proportion of the business of the year has been of a purely legitimate character, and in form was confined to moderate parcels as wanted for current use. Buyers, in fact, appeared inclined to come forward frequently rather than exceed their known wants. At last, during the fall months, certain operators managed to bring the stock under concentration, and then values were forced up with much rapidity, with the objective rate, 50c. per gallon. This, however, was not reached by one or two cents, but the cost went high enough to check consumption, attract new supplies, and bring about a speedy reaction and a loss of about 10c. temporarily. This was followed by a partial recovery and finally a pretty strong close, with offerings indifferently made.

1878.....	33@33½c. per gallon
1879.....	28@29c. "
1880.....	43@44c. "

STONE.—Agents and dealers quite generally unite in reporting a good full business during the year in all kinds of building stone, and with some the increase over 1878 appears to be very liberal. In a wholesale way the contracts have embraced a great many parcels for nearby dependent points in addition to the consumption of the city, and while the movement at the moment is a little small. Certain negotiations are under way and others indicated tending to show that the coming season is likely to prove quite as active, and in all probability somewhat more satisfactory as regards prices. The ruling rates during 1879 have been pretty low, indeed, for a time were so low that it is difficult to understand how the quarries could afford to make the deliveries especially as the regular transportation rates were very full. The most rigid economy in production, however, and occasional opportunities for securing special freight rates have afforded an average return through which actual loss was prevented, and now with the brighter outlook for all articles in the building material line, producers are cheered with the hope that the incoming season will in a measure tend to neutralize the unprofitable work of the past two or three years. As above noted all the regular styles of stone have found use to some extent either for fronts entire or in the way of trimmings, but New York still clings to the well-known "Brown Stone" and this has found by far the largest consumption, and to which most of the quarries represented on this market have contributed a goodly share. A great deal of fine, heavy and substantial work has been accomplished through the agency of this class of stone and altogether too much that is of an opposite nature. Especially in the latter connection may be noted the shell-like structures run up on speculative building operations, which built to sell as quickly as possible are figured down to the lowest possible notch of cost compatible with an appearance calculated to secure the attention of the ordinary run of customers. Therefore, while producing a "brown stone front" the article is cut just as thin as the chances for its remaining in place will permit and backed up with a filling of ordinary brick. In brief the actual product is a brick front with a carefully adjusted veneer of brown stone. Of course neither the quarryman or the stone cutter is responsible for this. They simply give their customers what is called for. The amount of stock on hand is at the best only fair, and sellers do not appear willing to make additions thereto except at some advance in cost.

Blue stone has been selling steadily and freely throughout the entire year and even up to the present writing the demand continued good, with every indication that considerable quantities could be placed did facilities and cost of transportation permit. The home distribution has been toward pretty much every regular outlet, the orders from the southern coastwise cities coming to hand freely and frequent, the Eastern markets proving liberal customers, with some calls from Canada, the numerous dependent points round about the city wanting large amounts and the local consumption showing a decided increase over the preceding. This latter call has covered almost the entire assortment used in the ordinary course of building, paving, curbing, etc. and is another article benefited by the elevated railroads who have been large consumers of platforms, etc. Prices opened easy went off somewhat and continued low during pretty much the entire season, owing, it is claimed, in the main, to the very sharp competition constantly prevailing over the opportunities for sale offered. The low cost, however, and the better financial condition of the general run of buyers has made the business a somewhat safer one and we hear few complaints of the difficulties in the way of securing satisfactory settlements. Supplies on hand are fairly assorted, but not large in quantity and dealers quite generally look for advantage through this, should spring open as early and as briskly as they anticipate.

There was shipped to San Francisco via Clipper ship 2,351 pieces Marble, and 1,741 flag stones in 1878 and 1,935 pieces of Marble in 1879.

TAR.—On the whole, the market has been somewhat more favorable for the selling interest than last season. At one time during the early portion of the year there was quite a little depression but supplies came under better control after a few liberal sales had reduced the available quantity and values subsequently held comparatively steady form. The distribution to the usual home outlets with some fluctuations, has made an increase finally and there was a fair amount taken for shipment though the latter portion of the business scarcely realized the expectations of the Trade. Accumulations at the close are moderate.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which the covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

NEW YORK A MINING CENTRE.

It is now very certain that New York City will hereafter be the mining centre of the country, instead of San Francisco. The dividends paid on mining shares in New York already largely exceed those disbursed at San Francisco. Some of the most conservative people in the city are becoming interested in mining ventures. Leadville, the Black Hills, as well as many of the mineral districts on the Pacific coast itself, such as Bodie, are now directly tributary to New York City. So far, there has not been many scandals connected with the marketing of mining shares, but if the fever continues as it has begun we may reasonably expect that greedy and incautious capitalists will be "caught out" by the trained manipulators of bogus mining properties. But making allowances for mistakes and deception there is no question but that the handling of this business in New York will add largely to the wealth and prosperity of the metropolis. We want New York to be the financial centre of the world, and mines can be just as well handled here as they are in London. A glance at the English stock reports will show the capital of Great Britain is invested in mines all over the world. Indeed, some of the best managed properties in the United States are owned by English companies. The immense activity in the extreme West, the building of the railroads beyond the Missouri is in great part due to the activity in the mining regions. It is the mineral wealth of Colorado, Dakota, Arizona, and New Mexico which is inducing the railway companies to undertake new transcontinental lines, and all this adds to the importance, wealth, and population of our city.

At the recent dinner of the Bullion Club much feeling was expressed at the state of our laws affecting these mining corporations. It seems that it is at the peril of one's property if a person accepts position as officer of a mining company, or buys a share of stock. This is not the place to give the details, but as a real estate paper we are interested in adding to the importance and business of the metropolis, and this we cannot do if the laws are onerous, or such as make the conducting of any business unprofitable or impossible. There is, properly speaking, no mining law in this State. Our corporations are formed under the provisions of the manufacturing law, and, as we have said, are not only inadequate, but burdensome. It is to be hoped that the legislature at Albany may be induced to take action so as to frame a proper law that will guard alike the officers, the stockholders, and the general public. The New Jersey law is much more liberal, and if no change is made this year by our law givers we will find the mining business stepping across the river.

UNION PROPOSED.

Why do not some of our ambitious local legislators take in hand the project of uniting Brooklyn and New York? It will certainly be brought about some day. There is a chance for some one to make his name memorable in connection with this very much needed local consolidation. Brooklyn belongs of right to this city. The prosperity of New York has made Brooklyn what it is. The latter city depends for its life and vitality upon the people who do business on this island. To take its true place among the great cities of the world, New York must have added to it the population of Kings County. When this great work is accomplished we will have better government. The greater responsibilities will make our people more careful who they select to represent the united city. Of course there will be an active opposition to this consolidation on the part of the local officials of Brooklyn. The ring over there will find its occupation gone when the politics of the City of Churches is at one with the politics of the metropolis. With this union New York could soon aspire to represent three million of people, for it could honestly include not only all who live on the two banks of the East River, but those who swarm on the opposite bank of the Hudson River. Why does not some of our active young politicians take this matter in hand and urge upon the Legislature at Albany the appointment of a commission to take this whole matter into consideration, and arrange the details for the consolidation of the twin cities?

CONSOLIDATING.

Last October, in endeavoring to forecast the course of speculation, we pointed out the obvious tendency among railway companies toward consolidation. In several articles we explained that the speculators were wise in not advancing the price of standard dividend-paying railway shares; that little money was to be made in investing in high-priced stocks. The reason for this, as we pointed out, was in the unifying of our railway system, the smaller roads, being bought up, leased or in some way incorporated into the system of which the Trunk lines were the main stems. Certainly the course of the market has justified our vaticinations. New York Central, Pennsylvania Central, Rock Island and the other standard companies, while they have advancing in price, have by no means kept pace with Iron Mountain, Kansas and Texas, Kansas Pacific or the Louisville & Nashville railroad stock. During the past week it has come to light that there is a virtual consolidation between the Kansas Pacific and the Union Pacific, while it has also been made public that the whole railway system of the South has been incorporated into one gigantic corporation. We alluded to this tendency as being inevitable and, on the whole, of a benefit to the public. It is better for the business and travelling public to deal with one rather than a dozen different corporations. The only persons who will really suffer in the end are those who bought the main Trunk lines at very high figures. While the whole railway system will be vivified by being made part of one great body, the special advantages of certain lines of travel as an investment for prudent capitalists will have been lost. In the next great panic we must expect to see New York Central and Rock Island go through some of the same experiences that the coal stocks and the Pennsylvania Central did during the last few years. Of course, we do not advise any one to buy the cheaper railway shares. We believe to-day that real estate, well located, is the wisest investment and we soon expect to see vast sums of money directed into the real estate market. The people who are now enlarging their bank account by dealing in the once cheap railway shares will be putting their surplus into houses and lots and business property upon New York Island. The tide is only beginning to rise and investors would do well to take advantage of the many circumstances which even now tend to keep real property below the value it will reach before two years are over.

THE ANNEXED DISTRICT.

THE CONDITIONS PRECEDENT TO A SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE OF VALUES—THE LAY OF THE LAND—MAGNIFICENT FUTURE OF THE TWO WARDS, PROVIDED CERTAIN WORK IS DONE.

It was during Mr. Wm. R. Martin's administration of the Park Department that official attention was first fixed upon the Twenty-third and fourth Wards, shortly after they had been annexed to the city. The then President of the Department went carefully over the ground of the entire district, studied its requirements and ever since has taken a deep interest in the development of that section. In a conversation recently had with Mr. Martin on this subject he said: "The entire region comprised in the annexed district (Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards) is as large as Manhattan Island and presents also a larger variety of features. The section along the Hudson, from Spuyten Duyvil to Yonkers, has very fine elevations, and the slopes of the hills there will afford places for terrace upon terrace of elegant villa residences. East of this, north of Fordham, the land is of the same character, the elevation here is also very fine, but it lacks the river view so attractive for villas. South of this, from the Harlem to the Bronx River, with the exception of two ridges, one on each side of the Harlem Railroad, the land is level and well adapted for city occupation, and will soon fill up with a population that will build houses on single lots. In the lower section again, on Fordham Heights, along the Harlem River, there are very fine elevations, and the ground there is adapted for suburban villas."

"In 1875 I found that plans were far advanced for parallel, rectangular streets, by bringing the hills down to a level and by filling up the valleys. While this plan was practicable in the land around Morrisania, it was impracticable in the more elevated regions. The estimates which I procured were the first that had been made, and I found that the cost of the construction of that system would have been about double the value of the land. That is to say, a man with $100,000 in land would have had to spend $200,000 in assessments before he could bring it into use. This argument convinced property owners generally, and I succeeded in setting aside the old plan and adopted a new one for all the region north of Morrisania, which had been laid out previously. The characteristics of this new plan were that this country of high elevations and steep declivities should not be subjected to the gridiron plan on which Manhattan Island had been laid out, but should be treated in rural style, with winding roads and grades following the surface and preserving all the fine elevations. All these ideas were presented in a report at that time and were quite acceptable to the property owners. Besides this, I had three other general plans for the whole district:

First—For lines of steam transit on the surface which would cross other roads at an under or over grade. A map was published, showing a system of such transit routes. This system was afterwards considered by the Rapid Transit Commissioners and substantially adopted by them.

Second—For a thorough system of open drainage, just as a large park or farm would be drained. This was to take each one of the natural valleys, to begin with the main stream that goes through the foot of it, to straighten and dig out the channel, to wall up its sides, follow up in the same way each branch of the stream, to find every swamp and low wet place, where the water was held, to break the lip of the rock and then to run the water out. In that way the healthfulness of the region would be increased and an end put to malaria that infects the whole district. The whole soil is on a basis of uneven rock, and wherever that rock, from being in saucer-shape, holds water the land is malarial and always will be so. These places must be first ascertained, the rock found and broken so as to make the water run off. I have given considerable study to that subject and had plans ready for the drainage of the district when my term of office expired. This drainage work can be done at slight expense and the whole country be made most healthful.

Third—A series of parks and parkways. In my view, the character of the region permits its being made ornamental and beautiful, and it is very capable of it. Instead of taking a large area of land lying together and making one park, as Central Park was made, my plan was to make a great number of small parks from 25 to 200 acres, throughout the whole region, and select sites because of their elevation, extended views or some other natural advantage. Having these parks, some along the Hudson, some along the Harlem, others along the Bronx, and still others at intermediate places, then to connect them all with a series of parkways 200 to 400 feet wide. These could follow ravines, side-hills, and other places least valuable for building purposes. The effect would be that, while a small proportion of ground would be taken for park purposes in the aggregate, the parks would be distributed beneficially through the whole country and not concentrated in one place as on this island, and by means of these parkways a man could take a ten or twenty mile drive from the East River to the Hudson, striking different parks of fine prospects, and enjoy it as if the whole country were a park. This would also equalize high values by improving every part of the district, and not unequally concentrate values as they are around Central Park.

As to business values of property in the district, the Harlem River is the centre for classes of population of laborers and artisans. The land around the Harlem River, and along the Sound up to the Bronx, is every way adapted to commercial manufacturing business, and if this gets once fairly established it will give an independent support to a population of several hundred thousand, that will fill up the region from Harlem River to Fordham. I mean a population independent of the lower part of the city. What this section needs is the opening of Harlem River for navigation, and the amendment of the manufacturing law to bring manufacturers there, and relieve them from excessive taxation. With these few things accomplished there is not a better site for a large city to be found anywhere. It would have an enormous manufacturing business to support it. The land along the Southern Boulevard will be very valuable.

All the other regions of the district have higher elevated land, especially along Fordham Heights and between the Bronx and Hudson rivers, above Jerome Park. Those are regions where the wealthier class will build more elegant houses, and enjoy country life in close proximity to the city. For elegant villa residences, this section is not surpassed by any country in the world.

The essential conditions of any real substantial increase in values in these Wards are: the construction of rapid transit roads, the opening of the Harlem River, such amendments to manufacturing laws as will promote industries and a thorough system of drainage. If these conditions are met, the growth of that region will be unexampled in rapidity, and the value of land will increase very soon. These are the conditions of real prosperity.

Whatever increase in values there is at present is mainly speculative. This speculation will continue, especially along the rapid transit lines, this being the only improvement now going on.

To sum up, I must admit that the annexed district is the only place within the city limits, where land can still be bought in large tracts by the acre. Wealthy men can afford to buy it in that way, hold it till the improvements are made and they will reap the benefits of a great profit at some future time. The Astors can afford to buy now large tracts of land that will pay enormously twenty years hence, just as they bought ten acres on Murray Hill for $20,000, forty years ago."

LEAVE WELL ENOUGH ALONE.

There seems to be a disposition on the part of several members of the West Side Association to once more change the name of the upper part of Eleventh avenue, which is now legally designated as "West End avenue," and which should be known henceforth by that name. If every lot owner or would-be-resident of the avenue is to insist upon continuous changes of names or titles by which the new roads, avenues and thoroughfares of the West Side are to be known in the future, there will be an endless confusion in regard to a subject, which after all is only of minor importance. "A rose by any other name will smell just as sweet," and the old Eleventh avenue (so called) will contribute its share toward replenishing the coffers of certain holders of property just as well under the name of "West End avenue" as under any other. This subject, we understand, is to come up before the West Side Association this evening, along with other matters pertaining to the Eleventh avenue. While the question as to the width of the roadway, the character of the pavement, and other matters of equal importance ought to engage the attention of members discussing this matter, we say to them all, leave the title or name of the avenue, as now legally confirmed, alone. There are other thoroughfares, or avenues or streets to be named yet on the West Side, where the fancies of various owners may be gratified, but in this case the title has virtually been fixed legally and it would be only adding additional trouble to the red-tapeism that will naturally surround the improvement of the avenue by touching this phase of the subject at all. "West Side avenue," "High Cliff avenue," "Bloomingdale avenue," "Arcadian avenue," will all have a chance to be heard, and probably to be legally designated somewhere on Manhattan Island, but when once a name has been selected, like the West End avenue, which has been legally recognized as such, do not let it be disturbed but remain till the end of time. It is a good term and no New Yorker, proud of the metropolitan character of his city, need to blush at giving "the West End" an American domicile.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

 For list of lots for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

The public sales at the Exchange Salesrooms during the past week reflected in a marked degree the disposition of investors now-a-days. No palaver on the part of auctioneers, nor the advice of those always ready with a point, could induce many of the numerous attendants at the Exchange to bid for property which they did not require, or to offer a higher sum for it than they had previously calculated as their valuation of the property offered. True, the public offerings were not numerous, but the few parcels that were put up had many attractions well worthy the attention of capitalists. Mr. Eno, who is a constant attendant at the Salesroom, in this manner secured a valuable piece of property at the northeast corner of New Bowery and James street, 26.7x120, irregular, containing a four-story brick tenement with stores, also a frame building, for $7,350. Considerable leasehold property was offered by the Messrs. Muller on Thursday and also by other auctioneers on the previous days, but in every instance the bidding was exceedingly tardy and the sales anything but successful. Mr. Camp sold in foreclosure during the week four Sixty-fourth street lots, east of Tenth avenue, for $14,600, but the plaintiff in the action secured them at the above figure.

Considerable Brooklyn property was disposed of, under foreclosure during the past week, involving lots on Boerum, Partition, Van Dyke and Pacific streets, Kent avenue and Columbia Heights. Mr. W. M. Remsen was the purchaser of the property at $229,000.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

The sales at private contract during the week have been exceedingly numerous, nearly every broker of note having made sales of more or less importance. The market, considering sales actually made and negotiations under way, may be called very active. Of course, notwithstanding the assiduity of our active reporters, it is impossible to give the details of every transaction that has engaged the attention of our friends during the week, as in many instances those who have made successful sales cry for more, and want to secure adjoining lots so as to improve upon previous transactions. Nevertheless, we have succeeded in obtaining sufficient particulars to show the extraordinary activity of the real estate market, and in this connection we may add that we can vouch for the values as reported to us from authentic sources.

An entire block of houses on the east side of Sixth avenue, between One Hundred and Thirty-first and One Hundred and Thirty-second streets—twelve in all—has been sold for the round sum of $100,000, through the efforts of Mr. Zittel, to Messrs. Ottinger Bros. The owners were Chas. E. Loew, ex-County Clerk, and his brothers.

The southeast corner of Sixty-fourth street and Madison avenue, four lots, filling one hundred feet square, has been sold to the Madison Avenue Baptist Church for $70,000 cash. An adjoining lot on Sixty-fourth street was sold to the same corporation for $15,000. The property was owned by Mr. John Taylor, who resides in Bayside, L. I.

Four lots on the northeast corner of Eleventh (West End) avenue and Eighty-first street have been purchased at private sale during the week by Mr. Jacob Halstead for $20,000.

Two lots on the north side of Fifty-seventh street, 250 feet west of Sixth avenue, 50x100, have been purchased through the efforts of Lespinasse & Freedman for $35,000, by Mr. W. J. Kelly, who intends to erect on these lots two very handsome stables.

The same brokers have sold at private contract during the week three lots on the south side of Fifty-eighth street, twenty-five feet west of Fourth avenue, 75x100, for $47,000.

Mr. Thos. H. O'Connor has purchased, also through Lespinasse & Freedman, the northeast corner of Seventy-second street and Ninth avenue, 41.6x100, for $22,500, and the southeast corner of Seventy-third street and Ninth avenue, 51.6x100, for $14,000.

The same Mr. Kelly, above mentioned, has also purchased some Eighth avenue property, namely, two lots, seventy-five feet north of Eighty-first street, 50x100, for $27,000.

A Fifth avenue plot, east side, twenty-five feet south of One Hundred and Fifteenth street, 50x100, has been sold by the same brokers for $10,000.

Mr. Ruddell, who purchased, two weeks ago, two lots on the south side of Fifty-fifth street, 250 feet east of Fifth avenue, for $25,000 each, has resold them during the week, through Mr. Zittel, for $28,000 each, to Mr. C. T. Barney, son of the President of the United States Express Co. The latter gentleman intends to build a fine mansion for himself on these lots.

Mr. Terence Farley has sold through the same broker six lots running through from One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street to One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, 235 feet west of Fifth avenue, for $31,000 to Mr. Strasberger.

Mr. John D. Crimmins, also through Mr. Zittel, has purchased four lots on the northeast corner of Fourth avenue and Seventieth street for $40,500.

Mr. Wm. C. Lester has sold four lots on Fifty-fourth street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues. He purchased them at auction a few weeks ago for about $5,000 each and declines to give the particulars of the sale, as he is anxious to have some more of the same kind. It is rumored that he sold them for more than $7,000 each, but we cannot vouch for this figure.

A lot on Seventy-first street, 20x100, between Lexington and Third, has been purchased by Mr. Gideon Fountain for $7,000.

Coming lower down-town, we find that Ogden & Clark have sold the house and lot at No. 46 West Nineteenth street, 29x92, to Shepperd Gandy for $27,500, that Mr. Carreau, of Grand street, has sold three lots, 59.10x100, on the north side of Sixteenth street, west of Seventh avenue, to Mr. A. T. Gillender for $18,000, and also the two houses, corner of Mulberry and Bleeker streets, to F. G. Brown for $23,000.

Along the Park avenue district we hear of the sale of a three-story house on the north side of Sixty-fifth street, between Lexington and Fourth avenues, for $16,200, and of a four-story house, 25x100, on Sixty-eighth street, near Madison, for $33,060.

As we are going to press we hear of the following sales made at private contract along Fifth avenue: North east corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-ninth street, 33x100, and the lot on Forty-ninth street, 25x100, making the entire in the shape of an L, for about $120,000. The property is now owned by Mr. Barbee.

The southeast corner of Fifth avenue and Sixty-ninth street, 25x100, has been sold to Mr. Wm. H. DeForest, for $50,000. It is stated by experts that this lot would have been sold at a considerably higher figure if there had been a vacant lot in the rear.

Mr. J. Rufus Smith has sold a vacant lot on the east side of Fifth avenue, 54 feet north of Sixty-first street, 20.10x90, to Mr. Russell, of the Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Company, for $34,000.

In addition to the numerous sales at private contract, reported above, we are authoritatively informed, that one leading Pine street firm sold at private contract, on Thursday, $200,000 worth of West Side property.

Of suburban property, disposed of during the week, we note the sale of Mr. Libby's real estate in Ridgewood, N. J., consisting of farm property and dwellings, for $125,000. Mr. Peter Tilyou is entertaining an offer made him by a pier company for his property on Coney Island, 750 feet sea front and 1,000 feet inland. The site is between West Brighton and Norton's.

West Side property owners, or rather Riverside avenue lot owners, were in high glee during the week at the reported settlement of the difficulties between the contractors; McEnroe and Decker having, it is stated, smoked the pipe of peace. It is expected that the barricades will now be removed and the drive be shortly thrown open to the public.

With the return of quarter-day—especially February 1st—when people begin to talk of renewing their leases, there was considerable gossip during the week as to rents. It was admitted by those versed in the intricacies of the renting market that there will be a general advance along the line of office rents, especially in buildings located between the Post Office and Wall street. It was also reported that at the offices of one of the most prominent estates it had been decided to increase the rents for Murray Hill property and houses adjacent to the Fifth avenue 8 per cent. on a single year's lease and 16 per cent. for three years' leases.

The attention of investors is called to the partition sale advertised by Mr. Harnett in another column, comprising houses on Third and Lexington avenues, and also some very eligible property near Fordham. The sale will take place on Thursday next.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Sales-room for the week ending January 30:

THE WEST SIDE ASSOCIATION.

The question of names of the various West Side streets engaged the attention of the West Side Association last Saturday evening. Various members suggested all sorts of names for different localities, and the entire subject was finally referred to a committee, composed of Mr. Olmstead, the president, Mr. Elliott, the secretary, Messrs. Feitner, Meehan and Crimmins.

An interesting discussion arose in regard to a motion made by Mr. Cyrus Clark, recommending the Board of Directors to petition the Common Council to pave Ninth avenue, from Seventy-fourth street to One Hundred and Tenth street with granite, and to curb and flag the street four feet wide. Ex-Alderman Phillips mentioned that the Common Council could not enter upon such a work without a petition to that effect had been sent to them by a majority of the property owners. Mr. Clark held that this was not a law, but a simple precedent previously established, and was a mistake for the city fathers to think that in these matters they were restrained by such a law. Mr. Phillips, per contra, maintained that not only the Common Council, but also the Department of Public Works always hesitated about entering upon such jobs before having obtained the consent of the property owners. Mr. Clark's motion, directing the matter to be placed before the Board of Directors, was carried.

In the course of the evening, President Olmstead read copies of correspondence had with the Department of Parks anent the charges made at the previous meeting in regard to Manhattan Square. In reply to an energetic letter, addressed to the Department by Mr. Olmstead, Mr. Wenman stated that a plan for the improvement of the Square mentioned had been agreed upon that very week, and that the Square itself had been a free dumping-ground for filling during the past year.

THE PARK AVENUE DISTRICT.

There continues to be an active demand for houses in the Park avenue district and Mr. Willett Brouson has, during the past few weeks, disposed of several of his seventeen and eighteen-foot houses along Sixty-fifth and Sixty-sixth streets between Madison and Park avenues. These houses have been carefully constructed with all the modern improvements, and considering the locality are comparatively cheap. There are not many houses of this class to be had in the market at $22,000 and $23,000, and, as this neighborhood is now much sought after by merchants, brokers and professional men, not many months will elapse before there will be a scarcity of these moderate price houses, which furnish all the advantages of a comfortable domicile. We have heretofore alluded to these rows of buildings and notice with satisfaction that the attention of buyers has not been called to them in vain.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—The market for Common Hards has continued in good, healthy condition, a little stronger, if anything, than last week, and dealers, generally, express themselves with much confidence. The arrivals have been moderate, not only from the Hudson River yards, but from all other points, and the amount afloat has never exceeded the demand, indeed, seldom equaled it, and sellers, in consequence, were placed in an independent position, through which it was not difficult for them to exact extreme figures. The remarkable condition of the weather during the present month has been very favorable for pushing forward work, and builders appear to have improved their advantage to the fullest extent, with probably many building operations not much further advanced than could have been expected at the opening of the year, while others have been commenced at a much earlier date than originally calculated upon. A certain amount of stock has been ready for these jobs either in yard or piled out, but not enough to "go around," and the indications are thought to point to a steady expansion of about all that can be offered, while a still higher range of prices is predicted. The gain this week is about 25c. per M., with a firm tone current at the close. Pale Bricks secure quite as ready a market as other grades, and are stiff on prices with some pretty full figures mentioned, but anything in excess of our quotations was probably a low grade of Common, and not entitled to the grading of Pale. Fronts are firm and in very good demand.

We quote Pale per M, $5.25@5.75; Up Rivers, $7.75@8.25; Haverstraw bay, $8.25@8.75; favorite brands, $9.00@—; Fronts, Croton—Brown, $8.00@8.50; dark, $9.00@9.50; red, $9.00@9.50; Philadelphia, $26.00@28.00; Trenton, $24.00@29.00; Baltimore, $34.00@38.00. Yard prices, delivery included, $2.00@3.00 higher on ordinary, and $5.00@6.00 on fronts.

HARDWARE.—For the season of the year the volume of trade is full and rapidly increasing, with the general tone of the market quite encouraging, so far as the movement of supplies is concerned. Some demand has quite certainly been shut off temporarily at least, by the full cost of goods, but the loss does not appear to be felt much, and dealers seem confident that they will eventually secure a recovery, as consumers and those who distribute to consumers are generally known to be short of supplies. Prices continue steadily on the upward turn, and so strong and general has this tendency become that many manufacturers and agents have withdrawn lists entirely, and will agree to no price except the ruling figure at time of sale. The new announcements of late include another advance on Wrought Butts to:

Narrow, Table, Back Flaps, Inside Blind, Pew Door, Chest Hinges, Light Narrow, do. Inside Blind, and Broad 25 & 10 cent. discount; Reversible and Loose Joint 35 & 10; Light Reversible, do. Loose Joint, do. Narrow Loose Pin, and do. Inside Blind do., 15 & 10, and Bronze Light Narrow and do. Inside, 10 & 10.

Soldering Irons have advanced to 29 cent., net. Brass Cocks are up to discount 25 & 10 cent.

The American Screw Co. have made the following changes: Iron Black, do. Tinned, Block and Carriage Rivets 30 cent. discount; do. in bulk and Burs 10; Tire Bolts, Philadelphia pattern, 60; Bay State do. 80; Flat Head Iron Machine Screws 60; Round Head do. 55, Flat Head Brass do. 25, Round Head do. 10, Taps for Machine Screws 45, Stove and Sink Bolts, and Pointed Wires 40, Tapped Nuts 20, Hand Rail Screws 35, and Coach Screws 45.

LATH.—There appears to have been considerable irregularity on this market since our last, with matters still to some extent doubtful as to the actual ruling value. From one of our principal receivers we have reports of sales of quite a large amount of stock sold to arrive at $2.25 per M, but immediately following this other parcels were sold at $2 per M., and, since the latter, no transactions are made public. There does not, however, appear to be any indications that desirable parcels could be reached at $2, and the general evidences lead to the impression of a good strong market. The weather and the progress of building operations have been very favorable for the consumption of lath, and the amounts used, it is thought, were very close to the supply, and with only an unimportant accumulation in yard there is little to fall back upon, and sellers have a full advantage which would be difficult to overcome. About the only offsetting feature mentioned is the possibility that the extreme rate may lead to extra exertions in getting stock upon the market, and give us a larger supply than anticipated.

LUMBER.—There is really a good demand for all classes of stock and business keeps close up to the amounts available. These, naturally, are very small at this season, and unfortunately cannot be greatly increased from coastwise sources, as the points of supply acceptable on the Eastern coast are few, and the mills mostly running to complete contracts, while at the South the engagements on back orders are sufficient to shut off all fresh demand for some time to come. Of course there is rail communication with many primary points where ample supplies could be reached, but even as high as the market is, and the apparent strength back of it, there is much hesitation about adopting so expensive a means of transportation until absolutely forced to. We understand that some few spring contracts have recently been made, but the particulars are kept very secret. As a rule, it is difficult to induce sellers to name a rate for forward delivery, in view of the great expectations entertained. The prospect from the present outlook would seem to indicate a short log crop, but with a more favorable condition of the elements a full supply may yet be secured.

Spruce has not reached any fixed market value as yet, nor is it likely to until the resumption of regular coastwise navigation admits of somewhat closer calculations as to supplies. There has been considerable anxiety to secure specials for spring and early summer delivery, but apparently very little desire to sell them, and agents here rarely name a positive price. Randoms are wanted now, and many could be placed, but as buyers bid very irregularly it is difficult to come to any positive conclusion over prices, and we continue to omit quotations as merely nominal. About $16.50@17.50, however, appear to have been the latest obtained in the ordinary form of sales.

White Pine shows a strong position, and values are full all around. Some hesitation has been shown by exporters, and a few are inclined to stand off, but this does not worry holders much, as they have the stock well in hand, and can dispose of the great bulk of it to local buyers, who stand ready to operate at a very small concession. The home distribution has been a little more free of late. We quote at $16@17 per M. for West India shipping boards; $20@23 for South American do.; $15@16 for box boards; $17@18 for do. wide and sound, do.

Yellow Pine is sought after with much freedom still, but the movement is restricted by the limited amount of stock within early reach. Some of the mills will contract for spring delivery, but far closer dates are fully occupied, and a considerable addition to current bids would not in all probability bring out much larger offerings. We quote random cargoes at about $20@22 per M.; ordered cargoes, $22@22.50 do.; green flooring boards, $20@21.50 do.; and dry do. do., $22@24. Cargoes at the South $13@14.50 per M. for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Atlantic ports; $12.75@14 for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Gulf ports; hewed timber, $8.50@14.

Hardwoods of an attractive quality would without doubt sell well, as there is considerable call for them, with bids creeping up somewhat. The rates named, however, are not high enough to cover the extra cost of getting stock here, and business progresses slowly. Local consumption is good. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. cills, $18@20 do.; cherry, $45@75 do.; white wood, 1/2 and 5/8 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch $3@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Among the yards, trade is good, and the condition of affairs healthy and cheerful. The demand appears to be quite a general character in the form of selection, and to come from all classes of buyers, from the customer who must pay cash down, to the one who can have it "charged up" with a wish from the seller that the account had been larger. Prices are firm all around.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Br. barque, 1094 tons, from St. John, N. B. to the West Coast of England, deals 60s., and timber 23s. 9d.; a Br. brig, 365 tons, from St. John, N. B. to Bristol Channel, ex Gloucester, deals, $2525; a Br. barque, 702 tons, from Halifax to Glasgow, London or Liverpool, deals, 60s.; a Br. barque, 571 tons, from Halifax to Bristol, deals, 60s.; a Br. barque, 551 tons, from Pasaoula to Port Spain, railroad ties, $11; a sch., 163 tons, from Jacksonville to Martinique, lumber, $9.50; a Br. schr., 111 tons, from St. John, N. THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office,

BAY CITY, January 27, 1880.

The market is firm, with a disposition to insist upon outside quotations. The weather has been so open and unfavorable for operations in the woods that no other condition of the market could well prevail among men knowing on which side their bread is huttered. There is such an unusually small stock of lumber on the river unsold, that, with an insufficient supply of logs at the opening of spring, and the yards at supplying points only moderately well supplied, there would be sure to be a booming advance. Hence, no one is anxious to sell, knowing that he cannot very well lose anything by waiting to see what he shall see.

There has been quite a liberal inquiry, but only moderate sales, being mostly small lots at outside figures. A sale of a million and a half, part of it at $6.50, $13 and $28 and the rest at $7, $14 and $30 is reported, also several other parcels at equally good figures, none of it at less than $6 and $13.

The advance in Chicago will have the effect of strengthening this market, imparting more decided views to holders of stock.

The shingle trade is dull, comparatively speaking, rail freights not being favorable to an extensive trade. Lath continues in as active request as ever, and shipments are quite large for the season.

We continue quotations as before.

We quote cargo rates:

Three upper qualities	$23 00@30 00
Common	12 00@14 00
Shipping culls	6 00@7 00
Lath	1 10@1 15
Shingles	1 10@2 40

THE LOG CROP.

The condition of affairs in the lumbering regions of Michigan may be judged from the occurrence during the past ten days of operations rare at this season of the year, namely, the running of logs on some of the streams. It is not a desirable state of the weather which permits this work to be done in mid-winter, when the active work of getting the cut to the streams should be at its height. It is a bad sign that the streams should be free of ice, for its accompanying condition, bare and bottomless roads, exists of necessity. When the issue of last week was sent to press there was an apparent prospect of weather more favorable for operations in the woods. The ground was covered with snow, and the thermometer was falling. But the hopes then entertained have not been realized. The frost was then pretty much out of the ground, and since then, although there has been considerable snow, the roads have not been rendered available for want of a solid foundation. The fore part of the week there were some days of freezing, but the rising temperature has removed the snow, rendered hauling impracticable, and brought despair upon the jobbers in the woods. Unless a favorable change comes speedily a general demoralization will overcome the entire operations in the woods. If logs cannot be banked it will be unwise to cut them, for they do not improve by lying in the woods for a year. In consequence, orders to stop cutting will be given, and the army of men now engaged in securing the crop will be considerably reduced; which must result in lessening the amount of logs secured for cutting next season, whether the weather should improve hereafter or not. For when the force is scattered a good deal of time is lost in getting it together again. January is about gone, and the prognostications are unfavorable for the only two months to come in which there is any reasonable hope of weather more suitable for operations. The outlook must therefore be regarded as unfavorable for the securing of a stock of logs sufficient to keep the mills in operation to their ordinary capacity. A resort will undoubtedly be had to the pole road system; indeed, many operators are already preparing to put them in operation. It is possible that the logs to meet the demand of the coming season of cutting will be got in, but if so, it will be at a considerable increase in the cost. Under the most favorable conditions the crop would have cost at least 20 per cent. more than last year, and the unfavorable weather will undoubtedly add to this increase of cost. This seems to be the condition of affairs at present.

There has been received from Wm. R. Prior, Secretary of the West Branch Lumberman's Exchange, the following statement of the amount of Susquehanna lumber in first hands in the markets named on January 1st, 1880:

LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER,

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan., 15, 1880.

There is really but little to be said in reference to the lumber trade at this season of the year, when the demand is so light that it is only by comparison that we can figure out our prosperity. The shipments from important points like St. Louis, are fully double those of 1878, and all things point to a continuance of this condition of trade throughout the year. If this be realized there will be but little lumber left when the mills start up, and no dry stuff when the next crop is sufficiently seasoned for shipment. The warm weather continues to aggravate the lumbermen of the three States, and removes the hope that the lumbermen could afford to sell cheap lumber next year. They must secure a supply at any cost, and must get cost for it again, and logging without snow, and driving without water, will oblige the public to pay round figures for lumber next year.

The hunt after upper continues with the Sash, Door and Blind men, a long way ahead. Eastern Michigan is sending her small surplus of clears West. The daily shipments from St. Louis average 250,000, and receipts 400,000 per day, while Chicago is shipping some 700,000 per day, and receiving 400,000. The latter place seems to be behind last year's business, but it is hard to tell by the figures given what they are doing there. The snow has left all the pine regions, except the upper peninsula of Michigan and the extreme upper Mississippi, and prospects are no brilliant for a large crop of logs this year, unless summer logging is to be resorted to again.

Prices are firm everywhere for this season of the year, and are likely to remain so.

The following from the Northwestern Lumberman:
CHICAGO, January 21, 1880.

Notwithstanding the mud embargo, which has but increased in its intensity since our last issue, trade is fairly encouraging, and at the Lumberman's meeting on Thursday the assertion was made by one gentleman that, aside from the extraordinary demand caused by the competition in freights last year, the legitimate trade of the present time was 20 per cent. greater than last season, another gentleman placing it at 30 per cent. A good deal of this trade is, no doubt, upon orders anticipatory of settled roads, and to be shipped when a change in the weather is realized, as at present it is simply impossible to haul produce or lumber over country roads. As to prices, an advance of $3 per thousand on two and three-inch uppers; $1 on first and second clear flooring strips; $1 on common boards, ten and twenty feet; 50 cents per thousand on common boards, fourteen, sixteen and eighteen feet, including twelve feet in the same price of $14; adding 50 cents to all No. 2 boards and placing all small timber, eighteen feet and under, at $13, is a sufficient indication of the feeling of the dealers upon the stability of present prices. A resolution was passed agreeing to make all price lists uniform in quotation, and another inviting all wholesale dealers and manufacturers in the Northwest to a conference on February 4th, at the Tremont House in this city. Space will not permit us to comment more at length at this time, but a perusal of the invitation in question will furnish profitable food for reflection upon the situation, and may be assumed to foreshadow a firm and advancing tendency of the market, to be rendered more so by a concerted action on the part of manufacturers.

The following is the resolution:

Whereas, The present situation of the lumber business seems to this meeting to be such as to warrant not only the maintaining of prices, but an immediate and positive advance in the same; and

Whereas, Such an advance can best be made and sustained by the concerted action of the entire trade, therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the chair to communicate with the wholesale lumber dealers and manufacturers of the Northwest, and to perfect arrangements for an early meeting of the trade for this purpose.

FOREIGN.

This week's Havana mail brings the following:

White Pine—Continues plentiful, but is firmer at from $30 a 31 gold per m. ft.

Pitch Pine—Scarce and more wanted than above at from $30 a 32 per mille feet.

Copperage Stock.—Box Shooks.—Market is unchanged at from 9 a 9½ rs. for new and 8 a 8½ rs. gold for old.

Rhd. Do.—Those for sugar are plentiful and moderately sought after at from 18 a 19 rs. gold; prices for those for molasses rule nominal at from 21 a 23 rs. as to class.

Empty Casks.—Small sales at from $3¼ a 4 gold, as to class.

Hoops.—Plentiful and offers to-day do not range above $52 a 53 per mille for long shaved.

By this week's steamer from Rio de Janeiro we have mail advices (A. C. Nathan & Co.) to January 4, 1880, as follows:

Pitch Pine Deals.—We have to report but one arrival on this occasion; the W. G. Russel from Brunswick, which vessel brought $63,944 feet, which were sold to the railroad on private terms; had this cargo been placed on the market and bought by our dealers prices would have doubtless receded at least Rs. 1500 per dozen. We quote $35,000 per dozen. White Pine Lumber.—The arrivals consist of 23,259 feet per Veritas, from New York, and 31,151 feet per J. W. Parker, do. total 54,410. Both these lots were on order. We quote 105 rs. @ 110 rs. per foot.

Spruce Pine Deals.—The cargo of 306,457 feet per John C. Noyes, from Bangor, was sold to arrive at 305.00 per dozen. Retailing at 325.00 per dozen.

METALS.—Copper Ingot has been in active demand, both for consumption and speculation, with a material advance in price, the market closing with a continued buoyant tone and scant offering. Among the features of the business is to be found purchases in England to come this way. We quote at 24½@24¾ cash, and 25@25¼ for future delivery. Manufactured Copper is selling well, and the rates of late have been advanced 4c. per lb. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary size over 16 oz per sq foot, 34c per lb; do do do, 16 oz and over 12 oz per sq foot, 36c per lb; do do, 10 and 12 oz, per sq foot, 38c per lb; do do, lighter than 10 oz, per sq foot, 40c per lb; circles less than 84 inches in diameter, 37c per lb; do 84 inches in diameter and over, 40c per lb; segment and pattern sheets, 37c per lb; locomotive fire box sheets, 34c per lb; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz per sq foot, 32c per lb, and Bolt Copper, 34c per lb. IRON.—Scotch Pig has been in fair demand, with a somewhat easier tone, if anything, under increased offerings, though no very decided shading is made in cost, and a few holders refuse to negotiate. We quote at $32@36 per ton, according to brand and quantity. American Pig has shown some irregularity. A few of the smaller speculators, with fine profits in hand, have been inclined to realize, and taking advantage of this, buyers crowded them sufficiently to secure figures a trifle off, yet on the other hand offerings were not only indifferently made but sellers looked for full rates and on some of the leading brands an advance was asked. We quote at $40@40.50 per ton for No. 1; $38@39 for No. 2; and $37.50@38 for forage. Rails are still in good demand and manufacturers of all kinds are much behind with their orders. We quote at $55@70 for new iron, and $8@85 for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails $41@44 per ton; scrap, $40@43. Manufactured iron has sold well and values generally show an advance subsequent upon the rapidly increasing cost at the mills and the reduced volume of supplies available. Common Merchant Bar, ordinary sizes, at 35c from store, and Refined at 38c, wrought beams at 46c. Fish plates quoted at 3.8c; track bolt and nuts 4.5c; railway spikes, 5@5½; tank, 4.8c; horseshoe, 4.5c; angle, 4.3c; best flange, 6.3c; and domestic sheet on the basis of 5@5½. For common, 10 to 20. Other descriptions at corresponding prices with 1-10c. less on large lots from cars. LEAD.—Domestic Pig has found a good active and continuous demand at advancing prices with the close still a little buoyant and desirable offerings moderate. We quote 6@6¼c. The manufactures of lead are firm and quoted; Bar 7½c, Pipe, 7¼c, and Sheet, 8½c less than the usual discount to the trade; and Tin lined pipe 1-c. Block Tin pipe, 40c, on same terms. TIX.—Pig since our last has had a somewhat excited market, but has toned down a little of late. The feeling among operators, however, is very strong, and still higher prices are confidently predicted. We quote at 25½@26c. for Banca, 24½@24¾c. for Straits, 24@24¼c. for English Refined, and 23½@23¾c. for do common. Tin plates have sold with much freedom, and the demand is still good, though in the main confined to small parcels. Values are firmly maintained on all grades. We quote I. C. charcoal, third cross assortment, $9.50@9.75 for Allaway grade, and $9.75@10 for Melyn grade; I. C. coke $8.37½@8.50 for B. V. grade; $8.50@8.62½ for Ysippy grade; charcoal terne, $8.75@9.12½ for Allaway grade, 14x20; $18@18.12½ for do, 20x28; coke terne, $8.12½@8.25 for Glais grade, 14x20, and $17@17.12½ for do, 20x28—all in round lots. Spelter moving with a fair amount of freedom, and the tone of the market firm at 6½@6¾c. as to brand. Sheet Zinc in a good regular demand, and the market stiff at 8¼@8½c., according to quality.

AILS.—A feverish, irregular tone continues on this market, and everybody connected with the trade appears to be more or less excited. The high prices reached, the condition of the iron market and the influence of the extreme cost upon consumption and shipment are all matters for serious consideration, and form quite a decided line of disturbing elements. Supplies offering are quite small, although actual stocks are pretty full, as there is a great many parcels held in a semi-speculative way. Up to the present writing no further changes in cost are announced. We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $1.25; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $5.50; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $5.75; 4d and 5d, common do per keg, $6.00; 3d and 4d, light per keg, $1.7; 3d, fine, per keg, $7.50; 2d per keg, $7.50.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $5.75. Floor casing and box, $6.00@6.75. Finishing, $6.25@7.25.

CLINCH NAILS.

1¾ to 1½ in. 2 & 2½ in. 2½ & 3¼ in. 3 in. & longer.
$7.75@7.85 $7.25 $7.00 $6.75 per keg.

OILS.—The johning trade continues to show pretty good volume all around, and preserves a steady line of value for the leading grades of stock. Wholesale movements also comparatively full, and the condition of the market quite cheering. We quote linseed oil at 80@85c. from crushers' hands.

PAINTS.—For all seasonable goods the demand keeps gradually on the increase, and the condition of the market appears to be prosperous and encouraging. From some quarters in the interior, the promises are not so flattering as a short time ago, but from other sections have improved, thus making a fair balance, and with the local movement holding its own, dealers are quite strong and confident in their views. Supplies are fair, but under strong and confident control, and can only be reached at extreme rates.

PITCH.—There is no new feature on the general market. The available supply appears to have about balanced the demand, and the latter was met readily at former rates. Buyers are not very plenty. We quote $2.00@2.12½ per bbl. for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—In a johning way business has been moderately active, with some irregularity on value, but mostly in buyers favor. Wholesale operations were slow and uncertain, and under increasing supplies values weakened, with actual concessions named failing to attract demand. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 42@43c. per gallon, according to the quantity of the stock handled.

TAR.—Supplies are not very large, but are full enough for all calls made upon the market, and dealers do not care much for further additions to stock. The demand has been in much the usual form, and confined to early consumptive wants in most cases. Prices easier. We quote at $2@2.12½ per bbl. for Newberne and Washington and $2@2.12½ for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:
1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

There were some sales of considerable interest at the Exchange during the week. Among the foreclosures were the Witthaus houses, Nos. 8, 10 and 12 East Twentieth street, near Fifth avenue, the three buildings being knocked down at $80,000 to the plaintiffs in the suit. On Tuesday Mr. Bernard Smyth sold in partition three lots on the south side of Ninety-third street, 100 feet east of Tenth avenue, for $9,200, to Lespinasse & Friedman. These gentlemen have since resold these lots at private contract for $11,000. Thursday's partition sale conducted by Mr. Harnett, was very largely attended, Mr. Smith Ely, Jr., securing a five-story brick store and dwelling on the east side of Third avenue, near Thirty-fourth street, for $21,000. The Lexington avenue and Fortieth street property, disposed of at the same sale, also brought very fair prices.

There was a lively interest in the sale of the Boulevard lot near One Hundredth street yesterday, and after some tardy, in some respects childish, bidding, Mr. Seaman knocked it down at $6,500 to Messrs. Lespinasse & Friedman, who bought the lot for Mr. N. D. Higgins.

In Brooklyn, on Wednesday, four lots on the southwest corner of Bedford avenue and Ross street were sold at auction by Mr. Edward McLaughlin for $22,800.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

Extraordinary activity continues to be the leading feature of the various brokers offices, and it is difficult even to keep track of the numerous reports of sales that reach us from all quarters. We again repeat here that we only publish those sales that are authoritatively vouched for, and designate rumors as such in every instance. Of the latter class the market, of course, is unusually full just now. The negotiations for the hotel property on Fifth avenue, between Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth streets, are said to be progressing rapidly. Common report has it that a clique of California speculators, among whom Senator Jones of Nevada is the shining light, will ultimately succeed in purchasing this eligible property so as to include the entire block from Fifth to Madison avenues, and erect thereon a hotel that will eclipse in splendor anything of this kind now in existence, either in this country or Europe. As considerable interest is attached to this transaction we can authoritatively state that up to the hour of going to press with this edition no sale has been effected and that negotiations are still pending.

Three lots on the south side of One Hundred and Thirty fifth street, west of Fifth avenue, have been purchased by Mr. James Thompson for $3,500 each.

Eleven lots on One Hundred and Sixteenth and One Hundred and Seventeenth street, between New and Ninth avenues, have been sold to Mr. J. M. Pinckney at $2,500 each.

By reference to our columns of transfers it will be seen that Mr. Nathan J. Newitter has bought three lots on Ninety-eighth street, 125 feet east of Fifth avenue, for $4,500 each. We simply call attention to this transaction for the purpose of stating that these identical lots were sold in 1872 for $11,500 each. The purchaser, of course, feels contented at his bargain, and, while in the effort to steer the boom right ahead, he has declined an offer of $15,000 each for two lots on Fifth avenue, 50 feet south of One Hundred and First street, for which he paid only one year ago $5,000 each.

The sale of Seventy-ninth street lots, alluded to in one of the daily papers, has been incorrectly reported. Messrs. L. & I. Phillips closed the contract for these lots, which are on the north side of Seventy-ninth street, 150 feet east of Fifth avenue. There were six of them in all and they were sold at $20,000, not $21,000, apiece to Mr. Jacob Campbell, President of the Pacific Bank.

Three lots on the southwest corner of Seventy-ninth street and Ninth avenue were sold at private contract during the week for $16,161 to Mr. Christian Blinn. The circumstances surrounding this transaction caused a good deal of comment in the street during the week, owing to the fact that Mr. Burling, who had charge of these lots and conducted the negotiations successfully with Mr. Blinn for a number of weeks, was suddenly ignored by the buyer for the simple reason that he happened to be out of his office, while engaged in other transactions, for about a half hour, just as Mr. Blinn made up his mind to close the contract. Pine street, just now, is exceedingly anxious that the rights of brokers should be protected on all occasions, and during the present revival of business it is but fair for builders and buyers to remember this.

Mr. John A. Monsell has purchased fifteen lots on One Hundred and Eleventh and One Hundred and Twelfth streets, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, for $41,350. In 1871 Mr. Edward J. King bought these lots for $40,100. They now average Mr. Monsell $2,750 apiece and he holds them at $3,500. Five months ago Mr. Monsell purchased ten lots in the rear of those he has just secured for the same amount.

Along the line of the Eighth avenue there has also been considerable activity during the week, and many sales there have been consummated at private contract. Mr. Bird, the hatter, and Mr. Arkeubergh have jointly sold the two lots on the northwest corner of Eighth avenue and Eighty-first street, also two inside lots for a total sum of $72,000—the price for the inside lots being figured respectively at $14,000 and $13,000.

Three lots on the west side of Eighth avenue, between Sixty-fifth and Sixty-sixth street, have been sold for $45,000 during the week, and the northwest corner of Eighty-eighth street and Eighth avenue, 50.4x100, has been sold at private contract for $28,000.

Mr. Edward Clark, also has secured more Eighth avenue property. He has just purchased eight lots on the northwest corner of this avenue and Eighty-fifth street—four lots on the avenue, and four in the rear with an additional street gore for $95,000.

There is also great activity in lots between Eighth and Ninth avenues, all the way from Sixty-fifth to Seventy-seventh street, because as yet they are considered cheap in comparison with east side lots. Some of them can be had yet at $6,500, but it now looks as if there is to be soon more of an equalization of values between these west side and the booming east side lots, near the Madison avenue line.

Mr. Simeon Stern, the lawyer, has purchased the northwest corner of One Hundred and Sixth street and Fifth avenue, one lot on the avenue and two on the street, for $25,000. Six months ago these lots were bought for $16,000.

Lespinasse & Friedman have sold at private sale the four lots on the northeast corner of One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street and Seventh avenue, 100 x100, for $24,000, to Mr. W. H. Kelly.

One lot on the southeast corner of the Boulevard and Seventy-second street, 25.8x100, was secured yesterday by a well-known buyer for $17,500.

Coles & Heiser have sold during the week, at private contract, the plot of nine lots on the southside of Ninety-third street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, for $45,000.

We note the following private sales of improved property during the week: V. K. Stevenson, Jr., has sold the four-story high stoop brown stone residence, 64 West Fifty-third street, 20x55x100, for $30,500, to Mr. A. H. Brown; also the four-story brown stone high stoop dwelling, 20x65x80, No. 768 Madison avenue, near Sixty-sixth street, for $28,500, to Mr. Thomas Hindley. Messrs. Hine & Gray have sold for Mr. Charles Johnston, the store and dwelling, No. 564 Second avenue corner Thirty-first street, for $11,900, to Mr. James Carroll. Falconer & Son report the sale of the four-story brown stone English basement house, 236 East Twelfth street, for $10,250.

Gilbert Smith & Co. have made the following sales on private contract: Two of those elegantly cabinet-trimmed houses fronting Central Park, on Fifth avenue, near Eighty-fourth street, with 125 feet lot and stable, for $50,000 each. The two brick stores and dwellings on southwest corner of Eighth avenue and Thirty-second street, for $45,000.

Mr. W. R. Grace, the sugar refiner, purchased 230 acres of Staten Island property, opposite Elizabethport, with about 1,800 feet water front, for the purpose of erecting thereon a large sugar refinery. The property belonged originally to Mr. Bowman, on whom it was foreclosed last month, when the encumbrances thereon amounted to about $100,000. Mr. Grace, who has just purchased it at private contract, is said to have secured it at a very low figure, but notwithstanding repeated efforts on our part, Messrs. Coudert Brothers, the attorneys for Mr. Grace, decline to furnish the exact particulars of the transaction. Mr. Bowman, the original owner of the property has since assured us that last month's foreclosure sale was a sort of snap judgment, and he claims that further litigation will ensue before Mr. Grace can take possession.

We are now in possession of full particulars of the purchase of the Highlands of Navesink, by a party of gentlemen. It appears that some time ago this association was formed under the title of the Navesink Park Company, with the following directors: Henry Hilton, President, Henry Morgan, E. A. Osborne, and R. A. Francis. The capital stock of $175,000, is held by some thirty to forty well-known gentlemen, among whom are in addition to the above, Samuel D. Babcock, John A. Stewart, and Henry M. Alexander. The management intend to engage the best engineering talent obtainable, and make this Park—as its location entitles it to be—the finest family seaside resort in America.

BUILDING IN JANUARY.

The following figures show the actual increase and cost in the number of buildings embraced in the plans filed at the Department during the past month compared with the corresponding month of last year:

WEST SIDE NAMES.

MR. EDWARD CLARK'S ONSLAUGHT ON NEW YORK NAMES --THE ELEVENTH AVENUE TO BE KNOWN AS WEST END.

The discussion which engaged the attention of members of the West Side Association last Saturday evening was, perhaps, the most interesting yet heard in the new rooms on Thirty-fourth street. Mr. Olmstead read the report of the committee previously appointed to designate names for streets and avenues on the West Side, and the various conclusions arrived at by the committee were acted upon seriatim. In the course of the debate which followed, Mr. Edward Clark said:

"There would be a manifest propriety in naming the principal avenues of the city after such of the States as have well sounding names, avoiding such as have "New" or "North" or "South" prefixed to them. The names of the newest States and Territories have been chosen with excellent taste. Foreign names, I think, should be carefully avoided. For the Eighth avenue, from Fifty-ninth to One Hundred and Tenth street, I should prefer the name "Montana place" to any other which has occurred to me, and for Ninth avenue, above Fifty-ninth street, "Wyoming place," and for Tenth avenue "Arizona place," and for Eleventh avenue, north of Fifty-ninth street, "Idaho place." Broadway, by all means, ought to have its old name restored. I would subscribe liberally to have the very poor and common name, "Central Park," changed to the agreeable and suggestive one, "Irving Park," and the scheme might be to select eminent names in the history of New York City, which have the merit of sounding well when spoken, and looking well when written, and apply them to streets and avenues, but that would require both research and good taste, and some of the best of such names have been used already. The best achievement in nomenclature would be to devise some way of getting rid of the name of New York altogether."

When the question of naming Eleventh avenue, beyond Seventy-second street, West Side avenue came up for discussion Mr. Cyrus Clark arose and produced a number of arguments showing how ridiculous was the idea to hold on to domestic ideas or names, the Van Corlear, the Brunswick, the Bristol, the Windsor, had all been thus christened because they represented something or some idea, and instead, of having the hotel on the corner of Twenty-seventh street and Fifth avenue called the Van North House, it was now known as the Brunswick and would remain so for all time to come. Mr. Clark then read letters from persons, young and old, produced old posters, all showing that the Eleventh avenue had been virtually known as West End avenue for some time back, and finally read the editorial, "Leave Well Enough Alone" from last week's RECORD. The convincing argument put forth by Mr. Clark finally brought the entire sentiment of the meeting over to his side, and the association resolved by a majority of three to one to retain the name of West End for the upper Eleventh avenue.

In every other respect, with the exception of two clauses of minor importance, the committee's report was adopted.

OBITUARY.

Mr. John D. Phillips, known for a number of years in the Real Estate Market as a bold and energetic operator, died on Thursday morning at the advanced age of 73. Many of those who frequented Pine street when the West Side was yet in its infancy will remember the sound judgement exercised by Mr. Phillips, at a time when the knowledge of the topography of that section was not so generally spread as it is to-day. During the years of apathy and depression no one was disposed to help ruined speculators more readily than the man, whose advice they themselves had discarded during the flush times and there are many in the street to-day who will ever remember, gratefully, the kindness of heart and integrity of purpose that characterized all of Mr. Phillips' doings. Much sympathy was expressed, by the trade yesterday, with Messrs. J. J. and I. Phillips at the bereavement they have sustained, and it is expected that Pine street will be largely represented at the funeral which is to take place on Sunday morning.

The annual statement of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, printed in another column, shows that this popular company has issued during the past year $26,502,541 worth of new policies and that at the beginning of this year its surplus amounted to $7,515,407.75. Under the Real Estate Advertisements it will be seen that this company is prepared to loan money on approved real estate with slight expense for disbursements to the borrower, and at the regular legal rate.

The Washington Life Insurance Company, one of the soundest in the city, whose offices are in the Coal and Iron Exchange in Courtland street, publishes its twentieth annual statement to-day. During the year 1879 this company received $965,382.75 for premiums and paid $328,057 for death claims. Its assets at the close of the year footed $5,605,275.36 all of which are safely invested; and the company shows to-day a surplus of $942,708.82.

MR. CLARK'S DWELLINGS ON SEVENTY-THIRD STREET, BETWEEN NINTH AND TENTH AVENUES.

This block comprises one apartment house of three floors, nine four-story and sixteen three-story high stoop, first-class dwellings. The situation is one of the finest on the island, the ground being high and receiving the prevailing winds of the warm season directly from the North River rather than from the other portions of the city. The drainage is perfect and no healthier locality exists within the city limits. The means of transit to and from the other parts of the city are ample, a station of the Metropolitan Elevated Railway being at Seventy-second street and Ninth avenue, and the Eighth avenue surface railroad one block distant. The construction of these houses is thorough in every respect, the architect having exercised the most careful personal supervision over every part of the work, which has been done by day's labor, and not by the contract system. The plumbing, of the best possible workmanship and most careful arrangement, can be guaranteed as being perfect in operation and as free from danger as it is possible to devise. Each house has its own independent drain running direct to the sewer in the street, and laid with the greatest care. A first class brick sewer, built during the past year, is now completed between Ninth and Tenth avenues, where these buildings are situated. The water supply is from what is known as the high service—the water rising at all times to the upper stories, thus obviating the annoyance and expense of pumping.

The houses are heated by Richardson, Boynton & Co.'s approved furnaces placed in the cellars, and the kitchen ranges are of the same manufacture—these having been adopted as among the most popular and satisfactory in use. The parlor floors, including the staircases from basement to second floor, are all finished in cabinet work of hardwood of very ornate design. The parlor and dining room mantels are of hardwood with handsome mirrors over them. The wood used is black walnut, except in the dining rooms of Nos. 405, 407, 413, 415, 420, 423, 429, 431, 437, 439, 445 and 447, where oak is used. The halls and vestibules of parlor floors are laid with English tiles of artistic designs. The upper stories are neatly furnished in pine, painted in parti-colors; all the fittings of closets, cupboards, etc., being complete and very convenient. The mantels of second and third floors are of hardwood. Gas fixtures of handsome design are provided throughout the houses.

The Apartment House is built and finished after the same complete manner as the other houses, and each floor forms a desirable residence in itself. The main entrance is attractive and private, a servants' entrance being at the rear, and a fireproof staircase leading from basement to each floor, and thence to the roof. Goods and fuel can be sent to the kitchen of each suite from the basement by means of a dumb waiter. A large, well-lighted room for storage or an extra servant is provided in the basement, as well as an ample coal cellar. Every convenience is supplied in the way of closets, cupboards, bells, etc. Gas fixtures and window shades are provided, and the public staircase will be carpeted. For prices and rents, see advertisement in this number of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, page V.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—There has not been much of a wholesale market on Common Hards, in the main owing to the absence of supplies from which to negotiate. The entire showing, however, has not only been strong but decidedly buoyant and the buyers who had to get stock wherever they could find it were compelled to pay a material advance. As high as $10 per M is reported for North River stock up to the present writing and even higher asked on one or two parcels for some time held here afloat, while stock from other sources as well as Pale Bricks are considered as having made the same relative advance. The position, however, is in reality only a nominal one and it is even a question whether the high prices squeezed out of the unfortunate buyers whose needs force them to operate should be accepted as a fair representation of actual values. Of course, sellers are not blamed if they should find it possible to exact even double the amount but the extraordinary rates shown seem to be the result of an abnormal stimulus which should be taken into consideration. Some arrivals are coming to hand from New Jersey (South River), Staten Island and Long Island, and of course doing well, with every reason to expect that the supply will increase if present rates continue, and no one seems to expect a reaction. In fact it is a strong market in every particular, and a reason for weakening would be difficult.

to name from any present showing. There is a fair trade in Fronts for the season, and at steady rates. We quote Pale per M, $6.00@6.50; Up-Rivers, $10.00@10.25; Haverstraw bay, $10.00@10.50; favorite brands, @—; Fronts, Croton—Brown, $8.00@8.50; dark, $9.00@9.50; red, $9.00@9.50; Philadelphia, $26.00@28.00, Trenton, $24.00@29.00; Baltimore, $34.00@38.00. Yard prices, delivery included, $2.00@3.00 higher on ordinary, and $5.00@6.00 on fronts.

HARDWARE.—A check has been given to orders from many sections of the interior owing to the bad condition of the roads, but this is looked upon as merely a temporary matter and not likely to have any serious influence. Indeed, as it is, the amount of business doing shows unusually full proportions and dealers almost without exception speak in the same cheerful, confident and expectant mood so noticeable ever since the year fairly opened. Values are firm on all the recent advances, and new lists continue to appear increasing the cost of other lines of goods. Among the latest announcements we find the following: The valuation of P. Wright's Anvils has been increased here to 103¢@11 cents per lb. E. M. Boynton has issued a new discount sheet for Saws, to apply to his catalogue and price list of 1879. The Hammond Hammer Co. have issued a revised price list, and quote 20 per cent. discount on orders amounting to $100 and over. Russell & Erwin have advanced Japanned Screws to discount 25 and 10 per cent. The Trenton Vise and Tool Works have issued a new discount sheet advancing the price of their goods. The principal manufacturers announce the following list rates for Boring Machines: Upright, $5.50 each; do polished gear, $8.50 each; angular, 6.75 each, and do polished gear, $10; discount, 33¼ per cent. The manufacturers of Wrought Iron Pipe for Steam, Gas and Water have adopted a new list, with discount at 35 per cent. Coe's "Genuine" Wrenches are now quoted 33¼ per cent. off. Bench Planes have advanced to discount 25 per cent. for first quality, and 30 for second quality. Owing to an advance abroad in the price of Halter and Coil Chain, the value has here been increased to discount 25 @ 35 per cent., as to quantity. The American Tool Company makes the following advance on Tool Chests: No. 33 to 0½ inclusive, 25 per cent. discount; No. 1 A to 5, at 20 per cent., and 6 to 13 at 15 per cent. discount. The list rate on Ives' Patent Burglar Proof Door Bolts is changed from $3 to $4 per doz., discount 40 per cent. Oliver Ames & Sons have made an advance on their list of Shovels and Spades of 50c. per doz. for Nos. 532 to 560 and 598 to 702; 75c per doz. on 112 to 194, 561 to 572 and 838 to 865, and $1.25 per doz. on 713 to 816, discount 10 per cent. Sargent & Co. have made several important changes on the list for Hand Bells, Call Bells, Gongs, &c. Brass Butts have advanced to discount 30 per cent. The manufacturers of Cast Butts have issued a new discount, advancing their prices 15@25 per cent.; Parliament quoted 25 per cent. off. Langstroth & Crane's Latches are now held at 40 and 10 per cent. discount. Glass Curtain Pins have been advanced 10 per cent. on the list price, with a discount of 10 per cent. allowed. Coe's Imitation Wrenches have advanced to 60, 2½ and 10 per cent. discount. Sargent & Co.'s Pliers are quoted 30 off. net. Chisels and Drawing Knives have been advanced to discount 60 per cent.

LATH.—The indications of growing strength noted in our last were by no means without foundation, as the result has proven, and prices have made all the advance predicted or possibly a trifle more. There has at no time been any great question about the demand, this proving steady and full, but the pivot of the market was in the supply, and values have fluctuated with the amount of stock offering. A few nervous receivers and rather too many cargoes in at once send the figures down to $2 last week as noted, but since then there has been a gradual recovery until $2.25 per M. is apparently firmly established, and there is reason to believe that sales were made even higher. Consumption is full and the accumulation at yards tends to steady shrinkage.

LIME.—The demand has not been very general, but was sharp and decisive so far as it went, and arrivals of stocks coastwise found ready buyers at an advance in cost. The quotations now named on Rockland are $1.00 per bbl. for common, and $1.25 for finishing, with indications that quite a fair quantity could be placed if here. Holders of the stock of State lime indulge in stronger talk naturally, and claiming a small supply in first hands, ask an advance corresponding to the above.

LUMBER.—The general market retains all the cheerful and encouraging characteristics before noted. The improvement has not been of the same magnitude as in many other descriptions of merchandise, but has pretty well realized the expectations entertained at the close of the year, and the selling interest does not appear to have much cause of complaint. Arrivals coastwise have been pretty full during the past fortnight, but cargoes not already engaged on contract found ready sale at full, and in some cases, very extreme rates. We find, however, that the highest bidders are not in all cases considered the safest customers, and to obtain a fancy price it is frequently necessary to accept rather a greater risk than the more careful receivers are willing to do. Many, and, possibly, all of our best dealers are in want of stock, and could find a place for a great deal more than now within reach, but they move cautiously, and, no doubt, prevent a more positive "boom." The accounts from the interior continue very strong, and all points where there is any chance at all for production the mills are running to full capacity. As all opinions from authoritative sources upon the log crop are as yet conservative.

Spruce, as we predicted a short time ago, has come to hand a little more freely, but the majority appeared to be already sold, and anything seeking a market was quickly disposed of. Receivers also report a great many specifications offering, and these they are gradually closing upon with some already having placed their mills under engagement well up to the summer. There is a feeling of excitement among sellers which presents a uniform line of valuation, but the general tone is strong on the natural merits of the market, enhanced by the high rates of freight and a belief that many vessels will be taken for the transportation of ice under charters already made. Randoms are quoted at $16.50@17.50 per M, and specials $18@20 do.

White Pine is well supported in price, with a continued touch of buoyancy, and holders take a firmer grip upon their gradually receding stocks. The demand for South American and West India shipment has not materially increased, but keeps up to the full volume current for some weeks past, with former hesitating buyers now filling their orders, and this with the bids on home account creeping up somewhat, affords a basis for much encouragement. From all primary points the advices are strong and cheerful. We quote at $16@17 per M. for West India shipping boards; $22@25 for South American do.; $15.50@16 for box boards; $17@18 for do. wide and sound, do.

Yellow Pine is no way behind the other grades in securing and increasing the strength of its position. The offering here is small and undesirable, there is nothing much afloat unsold, nearly every mill is under contract until well toward spring, and a large number have ample orders behind their present engagements simply awaiting the fixing of a price and the time for delivery. Exporters are better represented. We quote random cargoes at about $20@22 per M; ordered cargoes, $22@25 do.; green flooring boards, $21@21.50 do.; and dry do. do., $23@24. Cargoes at the South $13@14.50 per M. for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Atlantic ports; $12.75@14 for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Gulf ports; hewed timber, $8.50@14.

Hardwoods have been passing through for export to a considerable extent since the first of the year mostly on previous contract covering freight charges, but not many offerings for sale here, and to a considerable extent the whole-sale market is nominal. Dealers however are doing a good trade on sales to consumers, and commanding extreme rates for all first class stock. Supplies not large. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $37@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. c. lls. $18@20 do; cherry, $45@75 do; white wood, ½ and ¾ inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch $33@35 do; hickory, $35@45 do, for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Shingles have found a fair call for export and even on home account some few sales were made, with the tone firm at full former rates. We quote Cypress at about $6 for saps and $8.50@9 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $4 for 18 inch, and Eastern saw grades at $2.50@4.50 for 16 inch as to quality and quantity. Machine dressed cedar shingles quoted as follows: For 30-inch $16@22.25 for A and $28.75@33.25 for No. 1; for 24-inch, $6.50@16 for A and $16.75@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch, $5@10 for A and $11.25@15.75 for No. 1.

Yard business fluctuates somewhat with the weather, but in the aggregate preserves full former volume, and the market may be accepted as cheerful and encouraging prices, are strong and working upward on the stimulus of the advance in wholesale values.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A barque, 834 tons, hence to Matanzas, lumber $4.50, and empty hdds, 70c; a schr, 250 M white pine lumber, from Machias to North Side Cuba, $6 Spanish gold; a schr, 220 M lumber, from Savannah to Bridgeport, $6.75; a schr, 200 M lumber, from Pensacola to New York, $8.50; a schr, 230 tons, hence to Savannah, phosphate, $1.75, and back from Jacksonville, lumber, $8; a schr, 210 M lumber, from Savannah to Philadelphia, $6.50; a schr, 199 tons, from Port Royal, with lumber, $6.50, or from Brunswick, $7; a schr, 200 M lumber, from Cedar Keys to New York, $9; a schr, 200 M lumber, from Pensacola to Boston, $8.50; a schr, 150 M lumber, from Brunswick to New York, $6.75; a schr, from James River to New York, Oak Ties, 20c. each; a schr, 230 tons, from Cedar Keys to New York, cedar; a brig, 426 tons, from Pensacola to New York or the Sound, lumber, $8.25; a brig, 156 tons, and two schrs, 158 and 172 tons, from Portland to New York, lumber, private terms.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office,

BAY CITY, February 3, 1880.

The market maintains its decided tone and no prospects of a let up are perceptible. Transactions have increased in number, including sales of several large lots. There is also more inquiry for stock. A sale of 2,000,000 feet of next season's cut at $7, $14 and $30, half cash down, gives a fair indication of the figures which can be made. Some transactions at better rates for stock now on dock are referred to, but we have not been able to gain full particulars. There is yet some good lumber on the river which can be obtained if holders' views are met, and what they ask cannot be considered extravagant in view of the situation. Logging prospects have been improved during the past week by the freeze up. The shingle trade is inactive and quotations are nominal.

We quote cargo rates:

Three upper qualities	$30.00@32.00
Common	13.00@14.00
Shipping culls	6.50@7.00
Lath	1.10@1.50
Shingles	1.10@2.40

The following is from the Northwestern Lumberman:

CHICAGO, January 23, 1880.

Trade at the yards is reported much better than a week ago, inquiry being largely increased, and orders coming in with much of the freedom which characterized the business last fall. The continued soft weather and the unfavorable logging prospects, added to the impression that the advance in certain grades last week will, at the coming convention, be supplemented with a more general advance, has, no doubt, had an effect upon those anxious to get in their orders before the anticipated rise in prices.

The following also from the Northwestern Lumberman we commend to the attention of our local dealers as apposite to the views we have frequently expressed upon the formation of a Lumber Exchange in this city:

The recent meeting of the lumber dealers of Chicago was one of more than ordinary importance, aside from the action which was taken in advancing certain items in the price list. It was one of the largest gatherings which the city trade has ever held, and this circumstance evidences a recognition of the fact that in union there is strength.

There are many dealers in the city who are not members of the organization known as the Lumberman's Exchange, although we can imagine no legitimate reason why every man or firm interested in the lumber business has not a common interest with all others in all matters coming within the purview of this organization. At the meeting of the 22d inst. an opportunity was given for members of the trade to become acquainted with each other. This fact was mentioned by one of the leading speakers and largest dealers, who congratulated those present upon the enjoyment he experienced in seeing the faces of his associates in a common interest. Trade is constantly changing; old faces drop out of the circle, new ones are added. Of the one hundred or more dealers in lumber in Chicago, new combinations are constantly organizing, and such gatherings as the one of the 22d are directly in the line of the interests of the trade in enabling each to become acquainted with the others. Acquaintance tends to unity, and in such a market as Chicago, and with so many interests in common, unity of purpose and general action cannot fail to be of the greatest advantage to all. It is to be hoped that in the future such meetings will be held frequently. Should a general meeting of the trade, to include all who are engaged in the business, both those who count their trade by millions of feet monthly, and those who are content with a trade of hundreds of thousands of feet in the same time, be held each month, it could not fail to advance the interest of all. Small dealers should not decry their interest in the meetings or in any discussion regarding those subjects in which, to the extent of the capital invested, they have an interest fully equal to that of the larger dealers.

It is a mistake for any man to hold to the opinion that because he is a small dealer he has no influence in the deliberations of the heavier operators. If capital has it in its power to overawe and overrule its lesser competitors, it is unquestionable that the smaller operators can, and often do, prove the greatest thorns in the side of the heavier dealers. From our knowledge of both classes in this city, we unhesitatingly assert that each entertains the highest respect for the other, and we have been unable to discover the slightest ground for antagonism. Monthly meetings could only have the effect of bringing the members of the trade to a greater harmony of action and a better understanding of the wishes and interests of each, while preventing the inception and growth of jealousies which lead to recrimination or to competitive prices induced by misunderstanding of each other's views and purposes. Any change in prices affects equally all who hold stocks of lumber, whether it be but 1,000,000 or embraces 20,000,000 feet.

LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER,
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 30, 1880.

The uncertainties of "the fortunes of war" are proverbial, but they are as certain as the fixed stars, compared with the glorious uncertainties which attend the logging business. For as Napoleon observed that in war Providence always favored the heaviest battles and the most men, but in the lumbermen's case the chances depend upon fickle weather in a changeable climate. One week promises all that could be asked and the next ruin stares him in the face. The abundant snows of last week, in Wisconsin and Minnesota, renewed to the loggers the promise of a full crop of logs at a reasonable cost, but lower Michigan is still lamenting the loss of snow and the prospect of a short crop of logs. There is time enough yet to get all that will be needed.

The Chicago movement noted elsewhere has given a greater firmness to the lumber markets of the West. The volume of trade done at the river markets inspires confidence, the shipments from St. Louis average about four times the trade of 1879, and Minneapolis is shipping three times as much as at the corresponding time last year. This is the condition of most all the markets of the valley.

St. Louis is drawing heavily on Toledo and Chicago for stock, and the supply is light at all cities along the river, especially of the better grades, and the probabilities are that there will be an advance in this class of lumber before long. The meeting proposed to be held at Chicago will have an influence in that direction. The stocks on hand in the twenty-six markets of the river line will probably aggregate 425,000,000, which is being reduced at the rate of 16,000,000 to 18,000,000 per week, as is indicated by reports of the principal markets. Under such circumstances with a heavy spring trade impending, an advance is to be anticipated.

FOREIGN.

The Timber Trade's Journal comes to us with full and exhaustive reports of the timber trade during 1879, in the chief emporiums of trade throughout the United Kingdom. The pressure upon our columns forbids the republication, the various elaborate reviews richly deserve, and we must content ourselves with the editorial epitome, which says:

"All our correspondents dwell more or less on the depression that prevailed in the trade during the early and middle part of 1879, and most of them point hopefully to the animation which began to show itself in the latter part of it, and which still continues to be conspicuous, especially on the East Coast."

This week's Havana mail brings the following:

White Pine—Is abundant again and its prices have receded to $28 a $30 gold per mille ft.

Pitch Pine—Scarce and in demand at from $29 a 31 gold per mille feet.

Copperage Stock—Box Shooks.—Market is higher, dealers pretending to day 10 a 10½ rs. gold for new and 8 a 8½ rs. do for old.

Hhd. Do—Those for sugar are plentiful and moderately sought after at from 18 a 19 rs. gold; prices for those for molasses rule nominal at from 22 a 23 rs. as to class.

Empty Casks—Small sales at from $3½ a 3¾ gold, as to class.

Hoops—Plentiful and moderately sought after at from $54 a 56 per mille for long shaved.

NAILS.—Between, what may be called a legitimate stimulus growing out of the increased cost of material and production, and the efforts put forth by certain holders, who are quietly carrying a pretty full stock, the market finds very good support. Openly, the offering is quite limited, and the demand has the appearance of exhausting from day to day everything available, yet there is always a little in reserve, and positive buyers find all they want. Indeed, the actual call is not a heavy one as the current full cost leads to caution among buyers. We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $5.25; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $5.50; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $5.75; 4d and 5d, common do per keg, $6.00; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $6.75; 3d, fine, per keg, $7.50; 2d per keg, $7.50.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $5.75. Floor casing and box, $6.00@6.75. Finishing, $6.25@7.25.

CLINCH NAILS.

1¾ to 1½ in. 2 & 2½ in. 2½ & 2¾ in. 3 in. & longer.
$7.75@7.85 $7.25 $7.00 $6.75 per keg.

OILS.—There is a pretty fair jobbing movement in illuminating and lubricating oils at steady rates for standard brands and grades. Linseed oil also finds a fair and somewhat increasing outlet, and is held firmly, quoted at 80@85c. from crusher's bands.

PAINTS.—Demand from the interior has been delayed and reduced by the bad condition of the roads and business, therefore, is somewhat less than expectations. There is, however, a pretty full amount of stock moving, all things considered, and the general tone of the market appears to be cheerful and encouraging. Values are well maintained, and on leads and zincs, etc., the tendency is rather upward. There is about the average arrivals of imported goods.

PITCH.—Business moderate and without change to note on the market. Supplies not excessive, but there appears to be enough for all wants, and bolders willing to accept about former rates. We quote at $2 @2.12½ per bbl for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—A fair distribution has been made in a jobbing way on the ordinary outlets, and a comparatively steady tone preserved. The wholesale market is almost entirely under speculative control, and values to some extent nominal, but have eased off a trifle since our last. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 39¼@41c. per gallon, according to the quantity of the stock handled.

TAR.—The condition of the market is much the same. A moderate demand prevails in the main on local account, with the supply equal to the call, and holders as a rule willing to negotiate at about former rates. We quote at $2@2.12½ per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2@2.12½ for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows: 1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which the covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Galland Hydraulic Elevator is recommending itself more and more to architects and builders. Many of them are in operation in various parts of this and other cities and they have now stood the test of time in a manner quite satisfactory to the public as well as to the patentee.

The annual statement of the Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company shows the contained confidence this foreign company enjoys in this country. The excellent management of the United States Branch has resulted during the past year in an income of $2,792,127.78 leaving at the close of the year a surplus of $1,807,066. Property owners can do no better than insure their buildings with this corporation.

The accidents of life are unavoidable, but should a writer accidentally get hold of a bad pen, the remedy is easy: procure one of Esterbrook's Steel Pens. The Stationers have them.

THE ELEVATED ROADS.

THE RECORD has always appreciated the great work the elevated roads are doing, and will do, for New York City. We think they are worth not four times, but twenty times their cost to the owners of real estate and the people of this metropolis. We wish to put it plainly on record that we are not only friendly to the present elevated roads but to all proposed ones, hence when the first Rapid Transit Commissioners laid down a route for a new one, we immediately favored the scheme, and had it not been for the outcry of the daily press of the city, it is probable that before the close of 1880 we should have had another road added to those already in active operation.

The present elevated roads just now are laboring under difficulties, for many of which they have only themselves to thank. The legislative commission, recently in session, brought out some ugly facts, such as charges having been made under heads of sundries, office rent, legal expenses and such like, many of which seem imaginary. It is this phase of corporate management which is bringing the whole system into discredit all over the country, and it is this which needs probing.

The public, however, in attempting to have these wrongs righted should be careful how it lends itself to the use of the lobby, which cares for nothing except its share of the spoils. And here is just where the attempt now being made in the Legislature to interfere with the rates of fare is likely in the end to be of more benefit to the lobby than to the public, plainly for the reason that it is questionable to-day whether a five cent fare is really demanded at all hours. Unquestionably, we would all ride as cheaply as possible; at the same time, there is a latent feeling in the public mind that, so far, people who use the elevated roads have been well treated, and, as much is yet expected of them, it will not do to cramp or stifle them in the beginning. Our sister city of Brooklyn is about to have a system of elevated roads, but if a grant or franchise is to be played with every year at Albany, we doubt very much whether the necessary capital will be forthcoming for them. We hope the present roads may be permitted to continue their business in consonance with their charter, and that the Legislature will watch the interests of the public by looking after its safety and comfort by compelling the managers to adopt all appliances possible, and to strengthen their road at the curves, and other weak places, so that an accident shall be impossible.

For the purpose of getting full information on these matters, we have interviewed one of the leading officers of the Manhattan Railway Company, whose views we here reproduce.

A DIRECTOR'S VIEWS.

Mr. Benjamin Brewster, one of the directors of the Manhattan Railway Company, in the presence of Mr. H. R. Bishop, another director, at once acknowledged that no public pressure, so called, on the part of any individuals or representative bodies of citizens, had been made upon the company for the reduction of the fares to five cents. The public, so far as the company knew, did not demand it, and the only pressure brought to bear upon the legislature was composed of the clamors of the public press and of some political associations, that endeavored to make capital out of the demagogism of their leaders.

"Mr. Brewster," asked the writer, "do you not actually charge smaller fares to-day than the charter allows you?"

"Yes, sir, we do," replied Mr. Brewster, "we are allowed by the charter to charge five cents for each five miles of road, and one cent for each additional mile not exceeding seven cents during the commission hours, and ten cents for each five miles, with two cents for each additional mile during ordinary hours. Now, sir, please bear in mind that the road was first opened to Sixty-seventh street, then to Eighty-ninth street, and finally to One Hundred and Thirtieth street. It is singular, indeed, that not a single newspaper, nor even a single individual, ever has given us credit for the fact that instead of adhering to the privileges granted us by our charter, we have preferred to run our trains at uniform rates, whether to Sixty-seventh street or to One Hundred and Thirtieth street, or One Hundred and Forty-fifth street. The ordinary rules of business, please also remember, are reversed in the enterprise in which we have embarked. We did our very best business at the start. While we were filling a great public need we were actually carrying people only over short distances. As we were extending our road we had to procure fresh rolling stock, and as we advanced further north we, by making heavy outlays for increased purchases, actually assisted in helping to populate districts that were heretofore desolate."

"Now we hear a great clamor about the cost of maintenance, and that it is a mere bagatelle compared to what it is given out to be. What are the facts Mr. Brewster?"

"Time only can tell what the actual cost of maintenance will be," replied Mr. Brewster. "The two years just passed have been mere experimental years. Nobody can tell to-day what it will cost ultimately to run this property. The question of maintenance is, so far as permanency is concerned, as yet a mystery. It is unknown. It is a question we are studying; a problem that we are endeavoring to solve, but what it actually will be, no one living can tell to-day. The starting of elaborate machine shops in East Ninety-eighth street for the East Side branch, and other machine shops to be started shortly on the West Side, give you just a little insight as to the uncertainty of any calculations for the future, based upon to-day's estimate. The people, no more than the public press, have the least conception of the vast undertaking we have in our charge. Every day, every hour almost, new subjects of study and investigation are brought to our attention. We endeavor at all times to meet these new emergencies with promptness and liberality. It is an enormous work to transport thousands of people at lightning speed, almost constantly, from one end of the Island to the other. We don't know what improvements may yet be called for, though we are every day mastering the problems more and more, whether it be in the calibre of the men we employ, the machinery we use, or the rolling stock at our command."

"And yet it is claimed that even now, already, your profits are enormous?"

"Our extensions," replied Mr. Brewster, "have not yet paid interest on the cost of construction, while the increase of business to these roads will come from the upper wards. You must not forget that there is a great difference between running per mileage, and running per capita. We are running per capita, and ten cents do not pay for this running. We have offered our very best lines thus far, and have to make a long haul of passengers at the average fare of 7½ cents for each passenger. Over the Third Avenue line we are now running forty-eight trains an hour during the busy time of the day, and our average stops now are only fourteen seconds, all these matters, however, as I said before, are even yet to-day questions that are being studied so as to enable us to accommodate the enormous traffic that is pouring in upon us. But as we go along we improve. We well know that more termini or pockets are required and the same as we are now doing on the East Side we will very shortly do on the West Side. You were mentioning that between the hours of nine and ten in the morning it is even now difficult to obtain a seat at the Twenty-third street station, going southward. This will be remedied by the additional termini that will shortly be opened on the West Side, so that fresh trains can be started from certain stations. Of course a very large sum of money, as yet unknown, will be required to complete that system of pockets and termini thoroughly. In addition to all this, the extraordinary shape of Manhattan Island, with the people all living at one end, and doing business at the other, a tremendous rush down-townward in the morning and up-townward in the evening must not be overlooked. We have to haul empty rolling stock in a reverse direction, without compensation, twice a day, conditions most unfavorable to the principles of lowest economy. It certainly does not require an expert to tell you we cannot carry a man to Albany for 25 cents, no more than you can carry a man to Harlem for 5 cents. The horse cars could not do it, neither can we. One hundred and seventy-five thousand passengers weigh 12,000 tons. To earn the same gross receipts, at 5 cents fare, we must have 18,000 tons, and this can only be done at an increased cost to us and at 50 per cent. extra, wear and tear."

"What is the truth of the charges about the watered stock and the inflated securities?" asked the writer.

"At every stage of the progress of this road, the securities," said Mr. Brewster, "have been marketed at the highest figure they possibly could bring. People must not forget now that in times past this entire system of elevated roads was ridiculed as impracticable, and its projectors denounced as men of unsound ideas. Every security to-day outstanding against the company is for value received, and full value, too, and any move on the part of the state to injure these securities is unjust, because an element of value in the issue of these securities was the very franchise given by the great state of New York, and it was upon the strength of these franchises these roads were built. This legislation continued over ten years, and the franchises were not the result of snap legislation. They were granted upon the petition of numerous citizens, and subsequently these privileges were confirmed by the action of a commission composed of the most high-minded citizens. If these franchises had been legislated into existence with a rate of five cents fare, would capital have come so promptly forward to develop them? Shall the great state of New York now reverse the legislation and deprive these enterprises of one-third of their gross receipts, before even the roads are completed, without any actual data or facts at hand to guide this new legislation? If the capital invested in these roads had been invested in crude material, say, for instance, in plain pig iron, which would not deteriorate or run away, more money would have been realized to-day than has been or is being realized by the stockholders after all the labor and care that has been exercised on the strength of this very franchise."

A WARNING TO MATERIAL MEN.

We but repeat the views repeatedly expressed to us by prominent builders during the past week, when we say that the extraordinary increase in the prices of all sorts of building material somewhat dampens their enthusiasm for the early spring building market. It is claimed that if the rise in the price of iron and timber continues, building operations will not be conducted on the vast scale heretofore anticipated, and that material men who are now killing the goose that lays the golden egg will only have themselves to blame for such a result. It is admitted on all sides that we are only at the beginning of a period of prosperity which may continue six or seven years, if we will only make haste slowly. A very large number of houses will yet have to be built on Manhattan Island, and those who construct them are certainly entitled to a fair profit on their investment. At the rate, however, in which their profits are being cut down by the increased prices of material, they will shortly have to slacken operations, as the general public is not yet prepared to purchase ordinary dwellings at extravagant figures, such as the enhanced cost of everything needed for the construction of a house would seem to warrant.

THE KIND OF HOUSES THAT ARE WANTED.

Mr. Thomas Bruns, the builder, has just finished, on the north side of Ninety-fifth street, between Lexington and Third avenues, a row of six houses, which will attract attention, owing to the small price that is asked for them and the faithful workmanship that has been expended upon them. Ninety-fifth street contains an excellent sewer, and every one of Mr. Bruns' houses is connected with the sewer in the street.

These houses, which are offered at the low figure of $12,500, have the following dimensions, 16 8x50x102. They are all of heavy brown stone and contain three stories and a basement. Work was begun upon them in July last and ever since their completion has progressed under the personal supervision of Mr. Bruns and everything has been by day's work. Mr. Bruns, in placing these houses upon the market, went to work upon the principle that a man, though he only pays a small price for a house, should, nevertheless, have the full value of his money.

Upon making an examination of these houses we found the cellars with a concrete pavement and one of Richardson Boynton's furnaces has been placed in each of these cellars. Considering the frontage of each house, the size of the various basements is quite large, the kitchens being exceedingly neat and cheerful. The plumbing work has been done by Barrett & Jones, of Thirty-first street, and they have constructed a drain from the yard so as to connect with the sewer.

The main entrance to these houses is exceedingly pretty, with hardwood doors, the vestibule tiled with marble, and the hall of oak and walnut. We only need to mention the fact that the mantels and mirrors in the front parlors are from the Potter & Stymus Manufacturing Company, so as to assure buyers that they will find not only good but ornamental work there. All these hardwood mantels and mirrors are in keeping with the general trimming of the parlors. The plastering, done by Mr. John O'Connor, is of the highest order, only the very best material having been used. The back parlor is of more than ordinary size and the panels are all in cabinet finish. The stairs are also wainscoted with hardwood.

The now so popular saloon style for bedroom floors has not been overlooked in the construction of these houses, handsome black walnut wardrobes adjoining the front and back bedrooms on the second floor, large sliding doors making the division between the two. In the rear of this second story hall is the bathroom, which also contains all the modern improvements.

There are four bedrooms on the third floor, which otherwise is quite similar to the second.

Speaking tubes and bells in abundance are already all in their places, and the houses are now ready not only for inspection but also for occupancy. It is doubtful if Mr. Bruns could have placed these houses on the market at the figures mentioned, had he not procured his material at a time last year when everything was considerably lower than now. Mr. Thomas Bruns resides at 1457 Lexington avenue, in the immediate vicinity of this block, but those desirous of examining the Ninety-fifth street houses will always find some one in attendance to show them over the premises.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

 For list of lots for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

There was somewhat of a revival in the auction sales during the week, considerable improved property down town being disposed of at fair prices. As to the latter, we notice particularly, Mr. Kennelly's sale of the northeast corner of Cedar and William streets, being two five-story brick houses, which were knocked down for $70,500. The Stone and Bridge street property, sold on Thursday by Messrs. Winans & Davies, also brought fair prices. During the week Mr. Harnett sold the southwest corner of St. Nicholas avenue and One Hundred and Forty-first street, 50.7x124.10x49.11x132.7, for $6,300, and sales along the cross streets were made, especially on Eightieth street, near Third avenue, by Lespinasse & Friedman. Prices as will be seen by our annexed table, came fully up to the expectations of those interested in that locality. While private sales now have the upper hand in the market, it should not be forgotten that as yet we have not touched upon the real activity that generally characterizes the spring market in flush times.

In this connection, we call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. Harnett, in another column, where it will be seen that he has been authorized to sell during the month of March no less than three hundred lots, forming part of the old Carman estate, lying west of Tenth avenue and south of One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street. We will particularize in regard to this property more at length in future issues, and only desire to call the attention of investors to this sale just now, which is sure to be an event of the market.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

There appears to be no let up on the part of brokers to hide from public view the sales they have made at private contracts during the week, but the representative of THE RECORD, anxious to obtain from the entire fraternity all of their transactions, is nevertheless encouraged in his work by the bona fide information from dealers, who do not hesitate to turn the lights on the mysteries of Pine street.

Among the builders, Mr. Ira E. Doying has been the most successful during the week. He has at last sold the houses frequently alluded to in these columns as being exceedingly worthy the attention of investors. He had sold quite a number of them before the beginning of this year, and on Saturday last he sold the eight houses remaining on his hands, through the efforts of Mr. Wm. P. Seymour. The purchaser was Mr. William H. Deforest, who has secured Nos. 58, 60 and 62 East Sixty-sixth street, beginning 120 feet west of Fourth avenue, also Nos. 42, 44, 48, 50 and 52 East Sixty-seventh street, all of them 20x55x80, and some 20x55x100, for a sum total of $282,000. The corner house was figured at $35,000. In thus disposing of his houses in the cross streets Mr. Doying has established for himself a reputation which will stick to him during many years of his busy life, as he is still a young man. He is now completing a row of houses on the west side of Madison avenue, between Sixty-second and Sixty-third streets, with the assiduous care that characterized his work on the cross streets, determined to show his very best work there. He is not over anxious to offer them for sale as yet, and when he is, the attention of investors will be called to them through these columns.

In last week's RECORD we called attention to the fact that considerable activity was prevailing in the cross streets, between Eighth and Ninth avenues. The week just ended has only confirmed our views in this regard, so far as streets are concerned, lying between Sixty-sixth and One Hundredth streets. The arrangements made for building purposes, especially in the Sixties, the removal of the shanties, and the grading of the streets, has materially assisted in aiding that activity, which began to develop itself last week. Slowly, but steadily, prices there are being graduated so as not to show the great difference with those on the same line on the East Side built up part of the city. Among the operators who have purchased at private contract in that locality during the week is Mr. John A. Monsell. He has secured ten lots on the south side of Seventieth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, at an average price of $6,000 per lot, and also seven lots more on the south side of Sixty-sixth street, between the same avenues, at $6,500. Previous to this purchase, however, which was consummated toward the end of the week, Mr. Monsell sold, on Monday last, twenty lots—sixteen on the south side of Ninety-first street, one on Eighth avenue, and three on the north side of Ninetieth street, for $100,000. He had purchased them the Saturday previous from the Post estate for $95,000.

In addition to this, eight lots on the south side of Eighty-ninth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, have been sold during the week for $32,000 ($4,000 each). Six full lots on the north side of Eighty-fifth street, also between the same avenues, or to be more particular, 100 feet east of the Ninth avenue, have been sold for $25,000, all cash, to Mr. D. B. Alger. Mr. Geo. W. Raynor was the broker in this last transaction. Lespinasse & Friedman also have sold two lots on Eighty-first street opposite Manhattan square (25x100), for $16,000.

The extreme West Side does not remain neglected even while transactions are active on the cross streets. We hear of the purchase of a half front, about 100 feet on Riverside avenue, between Ninety-sixth and Ninety-seventh streets, at terms, which for this issue, are kept private at the instance of the purchaser. We also hear of negotiations pending for two lots on this avenue, near One Hundred and Fifteenth street, on the basis of $25,000 for the two lots.

Further uptown, also, the market has been quite active. We understand that Mr. J. Rufus Smith has secured five lots on the north side of One Hundred and Twelfth street, and five lots on the south side of One Hundred and Thirtieth street, twenty feet from New avenue, for $2,200 each, an investment which is considered exceedingly sound and timely.

Two lots on the north side of One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, 100 feet east of the Seventh avenue, were sold by G. W. Raynor yesterday to Thos. H. Tatum for $3,450 each.

The following sales of houses, at private contract, are reported to us:

No. 693 Fifth avenue, near Fifty-fourth street, for $125,000, to Mr. Frederick Vanderbilt. This sale was effected by Mr. V. K. Stevenson, who has also sold a house in Madison avenue during the week.

No. 23 West Twenty-second street, 25 6x65x100, a four-story brown stone house, has been sold by uptown brokers to Mr. T. S. Clarkson for $25,000.

Messrs. Hall & Nixon report that they have sold at private contract No. 232 West Forty-ninth street, at $11,500.

It will interest our readers to know that Arnold, Constable & Co. will shortly erect a six-story brick store, Nos. 33, 35 and 37 East Seventeenth street, fronting Union Square, the dimensions of the new business palace to be 71.6½ feet front on the square and 120.7½ rear on East Eighteenth street. The depth of the new store will be 184 feet. The Department of Buildings has already signified its approval of the plans of this elegant structure, which will cost $200,000.

The statement printed in this column regarding the purchase of Seventy-ninth street lots having been called into question by Mr. Christian Blinn, the purchaser, we allow him to give his version of the transaction. We at the same time publish Mr. Burling's card, thus leaving it to our readers to judge of the merits of the controversy for themselves. THE RECORD hereby dismisses the matter with the publication of the following statements:

CARD FROM MR. BLINN.

To the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD:

DEAR SIR—I noticed in your last week's issue a reference made to a purchase of three lots, on the southwest corner of Seventy-ninth street and Ninth avenue.

The statements in that article are not only erroneous, but absolutely untrue, so far as they refer to Mr. Burling and myself. You will please, therefore, correct said statements, by inserting in your paper the following facts, viz.:

I made Mr. Burling an offer for the lots in question; not hearing from him for nearly three days after making the offer, I went to his office on the third day, expecting to see him and hear the reason why he had not reported.

The young man in the office informed me that Mr. Burling had not been in the office the day previous, and as it was long after the time he usually comes in, the young man did not think that Mr. Burling would come down that day.

Having good reason to close the matter at once, without waiting longer for Mr. Burling, I went to another broker, who knew all about said lots, and told him exactly how the matter stood—how far I had gone with Burling—that if he had any claim at all that he would have to get one-half the commission, to which proposition said broker agreed readily, and I purchased the lots.

Mr. Burling has been treated honorably and gentlemanly in this transaction, but it seems he is not used to that, hence he don't know how to appreciate it.

Respectfully yours,

C. BLINN.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10, 1880.

CARD FROM MR. BURLING.

To the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD:

Appreciating the courtesy extended in apprising me of your receipt of above communication, permit me to trespass on your time by saying: first, your account of this transaction was singularly correct in all particulars. Second, I had communicated with Mr. Blinn concerning this purchase on January 29th, the day before he says he called and found me absent, on which last named day (30th) I was at home because of illness in my family. I was at my office on Jan. 31st as usual. Third, the young man in my office informs me that he did not inform Mr. Blinn that he thought I would not come down on that day (the 31st) but, on the contrary, told Mr. Blinn that I was expected and might be in any moment. Fourth, Mr. Blinn up to January 29th had not manifested a desire to close this contract speedily, indeed, I had been urging him to do so. What his "good reason" amounted to must be left to conjecture, and his attempted arrangements with another broker concerning my commissions clearly show that he knew he was doing something unwarranted. Fifth, Mr. Blinn will discover before he takes title who the broker in this transaction really is—as the lawyers say, my caveat is filed—the owners know who the broker is, and if Mr. Blinn will read his contract it may give him further light on this subject. Finally, report has it that Mr. Blinn is a clerical or reverend gentleman, I hope real estate transactions have not obliterated the teachings which prompted him to his divine office; but which lineage may be I do not know, but I have hitherto failed to discover that in the polite arts he was a master, hence how can he judge whether I am used to be treated as a gentleman. However, I don't ask from him any of the elegant graces—if he will only be honorable and pay me what he owes me, I shall consider he has done all he is capable of doing in this matter.

Very Respectfully,

GEORGE H. BURLING.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—There is not much change in the situation since last week and matters remain in a very uncertain condition. Indeed, the wholesale market is practically suspended for the time being, owing to the absence of supplies. Nothing has been available from the Hudson River yards. We hear of no offerings from New Jersey or Staten Island yards—the latter said to be exhausted—and the few cargoes from Long Island have sold for $10@10.50 per M., with a probability that buyers could be found at the same rate for additional offerings. The holders of stock in yard, in the meantime, are having a sort of bonanza and securing at least $12 per M. with business good and promising to continue. Pale brick have no price at all and are entirely out of stock, and Fronts, in a wholesale way, are in much the same condition. We omit all quotations this week as it is simply useless to attempt giving figures under the present situation of affairs. Naturally, the feeling among the trade is more or less excited and some wonderful expectations are apparently entertained. It may not be amiss, however, to suggest that ruling prices may lead to extraordinary exertions in getting stock forward, and possibly from some unexpected quarter. Certainly, as soon as there is the least chance for navigation on the river this will be done, and, we understand, there is already a slight margin for shipments hither by rail. Until supplies do become more plenty, however, the selling interest must have everything their own way.

CEMENT.—There does not appear to be any Rosendale afloat and the price is nominal. Jobbers, however, are selling their stock freely and securing $1.25 per bbl. without difficulty. Portland is not very active at the moment, but inquiry is improving and the market firm at full $2.75@3.00 per bbl. in wholesale lots. Recent arrivals have been quite small and the scarcity and high cost of freight accommodation on the other side, it is said, will prevent shipments for some time.

HAIR.—In connection with all other articles in the building material line, the cost of plasterers' hair has taken an upward turn, and we learn that the wholesale rate has been placed at 16c. per lb., with rather a scant offering of stock all around.

HARDWARE.—The condition of the market continues strong and encouraging with business tending to increase. Difficult and costly transportation still has an influence to check the demand from some quarters but a call is made upon the stocks which compels manufacturers to keep up a full production and occasionally leaves them behind with their orders. Values very strong and gradually but surely working to a higher level. We find the following changes not before noted in these columns: Henry Disston & Sons announce the following prices for Cross Cut Saws per foot, list: Lumbermann Cross Cut Saws, Great American do, Diamond Tooth do, Electric do and Disston's '1 hit-Back Champion, 55c.; do Champion Cross Cuts, do Hook Tooth Cross Cuts and do Plain Tooth do, 55c.; Keystone Champion Cross Cuts, 45c.; do Hook Tooth Cross Cuts, 42c.; Taylors Cross Cut Saws, 37c. The above subject to a regular trade discount of 20 per cent. The following is the detail of the recent advance on Cast Butts. Discount 10 percent on Narrow Fast Joint, 20 percent on Broad do, 20@25@30 per cent. on Loose Joint, Narrow and Broad, 25@30@40 per cent. on Loose Pin, 25 per cent on Parliament Butts and 25 per cent on Mayer's Hinges. The price of Augers and Bits has been advanced to 40 per cent. discount and Hollow Augers to 15 per cent. discount. The Girard Wrench Mfg. Co. have advanced prices to discount 40 per cent. on "Standard" and 50 per cent. on "Agricultural" Wrenches. Another addition of 10 per cent. has been made to the price of Iron Wire. Russell & Erwin Mfg. Co. announce a new and advanced list on the Deuglass Co. product of Carpenters tools. By a resolution of the American Axe Manufacturers' Association, the price of Axes was fixed as follows: 4½ to 5½ lbs and under, $11 per dozen, net; 4½ to 6 lbs and over, $11.50 per dozen, net; Beveled, 50 cents advance per dozen, respectively, Double Bitts, 4½ to 5½ lbs and under, $22 per dozen; 4½ to 6 lbs and over, $23 per dozen, net; Beveled, $1 advance per dozen respectively. We note an advance on Vaughn's Post Hole Augers to discount 15 per cent. Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Company have made an advance of 15@20 per cent. on the list rates of Transom Lifters. On Anvils and Vises combined there is an advance to $5.25, $4.25 and $3.50 for Nos. 1, 2 and 3; discount as before.

There has been another advance on Screws as per following list of American Screw Company: Home Trade—Domestic List—Flat Head Iron, discount, 35 per cent.; Round Head Iron, do., 30 do.; Flat Head Brass, do., 30 do.; Round Head Brass, do., 15 do. Foreign Trade—Export List—Flat Head Iron, discount, 65 per cent.

LATH.—Very decided strength, a further advance on price and a continued feeling of buoyancy are the ruling characteristics of this market. Since our last, a cargo has sold up to $2.50 per M. and this is asked for more, but no sellers to be found, partly because limits have been fixed much higher, but in the main owing to the advance of offerings. During the past two or three weeks one of our dealers has bought, it is said, some six or seven million lath from $2 upward, but the movement is understood to be on behalf of several large up-town builders, who will consume all, and this supply, therefore, amounts to nothing on the market. In the hands of other dealers the amount available is very small and selling rapidly, with the majority anxious for an opportunity to replace. Altogether it looks as though the predicted "boom" had at last come.

LIME.—No further change on price can be noted since the advance advised in last week's report. The market, however, is very strong, the demand for cargoes in excess of the offering and a still further addition to value predicted at an early day. State lime is quoted at $1 per bbl., with a small amount available and a strong market.

LUMBER.—There is considerable nonserse published occasionally in local journals about the "booms" and "excitements" in our lumber market, by amateur reporters, who appear to get just about enough of the facts to stimulate their imaginations to the highest pitch, and send them off at a tangent. Our dealers and buyers have not as yet become either wild or reckless, especially those who may be ranked among the solid and reliable portion of the trade, nor do they care to be misrepresented by statements of an extravagant character. There is, of course, no gainsaying the strength of the present market, based upon an active demand at full and advancing prices for all the desirable stock to be obtained, with an outlet ready for more than seems likely to become immediately available, and many calls for future delivery. Yet since the more recent additions to cost were made, there has been shown a tendency to greater caution on both sides. Buyers force their necessities down to the lowest possible limit, and seek to evade purchasing both on home and shipping account, whenever there is a chance, until well on toward summer, while sellers commence to feel that those who depart from the above policy and make little objection to additional cost, should be closely investigated as to responsibility, a test which is too frequently unsatisfactory. Another point, too, is made in the certainty that already have supplies been started in by rail from many unusual sources, and more are predicted on the attraction of the extreme prices expected. In short, while our market is most certainly healthy and cheerful, with a touch of buoyancy on all grades of lumber, there is a conservative element of sufficient power and importance to require recognition. Generally, the report from the woods are more encouraging, the chances for banking and running logs having greatly improved.

Spruce continues to be quoted at $16.50@18.00 for Randoms, and $18.00@20.00 for Specials, with the tone very strong. Indeed it is likely a good Random would bring more than the above rates as they are not only extremely scarce now, both for near by and distant delivery, and promise to remain in this position in view of the fact that the mills are engaged far ahead on Specials, and have additional orders pressing upon them daily. Negotiations progress a little slowly, however, rather more through a desire to ascertain the position of buyers, who bid fancy prices, than through actual fear of inability to execute contracts within a reasonable time.

White Pine about as we have noted for some time past. The demand is good from all ordinary home sources, indeed, in somewhat better shape if anything, inasmuch as buyers are coming up a trifle in their bids, while the export call is very fair. The large amounts shipped this week and still going on board to fill the sales previously noted, will materially reduce the supply of desirable grades in hand, and holders naturally are correspondingly encouraged. The log harvest is progressing in more favorable shape, but at all interior markets the tendency of values is upward. We quote at $16@17 per M. for West India shipping boards; $22@25 for South American do.; $15.50@16 for box boards; $17@18 for do. wide and sound, do.

Yellow Pine is virtually out of stock, the offering here showing nothing of desirable quality, and the few Randoms afloat for this port, all being under refusal, while very few agents are at the moment in position to take orders for specials in view of the engagements on hand. There has also been some uncertainty over the supply of logs, but this is, in a measure, relieved by advices at hand within a day or two, announcing considerable rise in the streams and bayous since the recent rains. We quote random cargoes at about $21.00@23.10 per M.; ordered cargoes, $23.00@24.00 do.; green flooring boards, $20.00@22.00 do.; and dry do. do., $22.00@24.00. Cargoes at the South $13@14.50 per M. for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Atlantic ports; $12.75@14 for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Gulf ports; hewed timber, $8.50@14.

Hardwoods are firm and wanted, dealers reporting a higher range of bids and greater anxiety among buyers. It is, however, hardly possible to reach stock at primary points and bring it through at the present cost of freight with a clear margin, and business is rather checked in consequence. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. culls $18@20 do.; cherry, $45@75 do.; white wood, 1/2 and 5/8 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Yard trade has been first class, and about the only complaint has been over the difficulties of delivery, consequent upon the condition of the streets. Demand appears to cover about all classes of stock, good, bad and indifferent, and full prices are readily obtained, while the class of custom appears, as a rule, to be quite desirable.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Nor. barque, 868 tons, from Pensacola to the United Kingdom, timber, $5 10s. for sawn, and 35s. for hewn; a Br barque, 649 tons, same voyage, deals, $5 10s.; a Nor barque, 461 tons, same voyage, timber, $5 12s. 6d. and 36s.; a Nor barque, 445 tons, from Savannah to Ferrol, Spain, lumber, $14.50; a Br

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office,

BAY CITY, February 10, 1880.

No change in the tone of the market is noticeable, the firm feeling previously mentioned being still maintained. Transactions are now all made at the advance, stock being held firmly at quotations. Holders are willing to sell when their views are met, but the urgency for realizing which has interfered with the integrity of the market for several years past, has departed and manufacturers are able to hold on until they get prices which they regard remunerative or warranted by cost of stock to replace that sold. A transaction showing the change in the market since last fall is reported. In September last a party made a purchase of 3,000,000 feet, to be cut and carried over the winter on the dock, at $5, 10.50 and $27 for the three standard grades. On Saturday this lumber was sold to a Tonawanda firm for $7, $14 and $30. Another sale during the week of 1,000,000 feet at $6.50, $13, $7, $14 and $30 is reported. The outside figures are the combination most frequently asked, but stock that is not so good can be obtained at $6.50, $13 and $28. Prices will not go higher at present, but a proposition to advance shipping culls to the grade of common is being discussed and was expected to come up at the meeting of the Lumberman's Board of Trade yesterday.

Shingles are looking up and prices are advancing, favorite brands being quotable at $2.50@2.75. Sales have been made at $2.40, but most holders ask the advance.

We continue quotations as before.

We quote cargo rates:

The following from the Northwestern Lumberman:

CHICAGO, February 5, 1880.

The volume of trade in this market has been largely increased during the past two weeks, and a retrospect of the operations for the month shows that there was as much sold during January as during the corresponding month of the previous year. Some of the dealers report increased shipments, and this in the face of the fact that the railroad cut rates of a year ago presented great inducements to country dealers to fill up their yards, while good roads enabled them to enjoy a fair sort of trade to work off their stock, while the present year has presented no special feature in favor, but bad roads—and the worst kind, at that—have militated against trade in every direction. The month closed with a record of orders received and orders filled far beyond the highest expectations of the trade. Present appearances indicate that the trade of the coming season will be largely in excess of last year, which shows an increase of 272,432,918 feet over that of 1878. The increase for the coming season over 1878 is estimated by different dealers at from 20 to 33 1/3 per cent. A 20 per cent. increase would give an aggregate of 1,712,727,310 feet, while 33 1/3 per cent. would bring the figures to 1,903,030,356 feet. It remains to be seen whether or not the trade will reach either of them, although that the present outlook is in this direction all agree. So firmly is the opinion entertained that an increased demand will be realized, and that the outlook for fully supplying it is not of the most favorable character, that the utmost firmness is expressed by all holders of stock with whom we have talked. There is no complaint of any cutting or shading of the established prices, although rumors have not been wanting that deductions from the print-d lists had been offered, either on the delivered rates or directly by shading the lists. We learn of but few varieties which are held more firmly than others. Uppers and finishing stock are in good demand, with not unlimited stock. Fencing flooring, fencing and culls are among the scarcest commodities in the market and of the firmest in price. We hear of sales, between dealers, of good fencing strips at $13 5/8@14, as to quality, and one dealer stands ready to take 2,000,000 feet of fair average quality at the latter price.

We find a growing disposition not only in this market but at manufacturing points to place a higher value upon the quality known as shipping culls. In the manufacturing centres it has been a custom, for a period of time so long that the date of its inception is not remembered, to class all lumber having a shipping value, and while not up to the grade of sound lumber not so poor but that it is adaptable to many of the coarser uses and do equally good service, as shipping culls, having a value of one-half the price of common. The demand for this grade is constantly on the increase, and we have noted in some yards that the selection had been so made as to make the quality highly desirable, and this, presumably, in consequence of a large demand. A correspondent of the Saginaw Courier asserts that "manufacturers are privately discussing the probability of advancing the price of shipping culls relative to that of common, making it, say, two thirds instead of one-half, as is now the custom. They believe that general action on the part of producers would secure for this class of lumber at least the cost of production where it is now handled with absolute loss." That the relative price of culls to common has, in retail markets, been greater than one-half, no one will doubt, but it is, at the same time, but fair to say that prices have been paid for common and better grades which would not have been thought of but for the fact that the shipping culls at 50 per cent. the price of common helped to save the buyer from a loss. Until an arbitrary rule of inspection, unchangeable with the mutations of price, shall prevail in all manufacturing districts, we cannot see any good to be derived from an advance in relative values. Under a brisk demand, with advancing markets, a piece of lumber will pass as common which in a depressed market would pass as a cull. An advance in the relative value of culls and common would, in but few instances, operate to advance the inspected quality of the common, while we should look to see the quality of the culls materially improved. This ought not to be; neither ought men to be dishonest or drunken, but it, like the others, would, most likely, be found the case so long as human nature remains, as it is likely to during this generation.

We doubt if any strictly uniform system of inspection will ever be adopted in this or any other market until men's judgment, dispositions and interests cease to be diverse, and that inspection which gives satisfaction to the seller shall meet with the entire approval of the buyer, or until a race of inspectors shall be raised up who, as individuals and as a class, shall be so thoroughly independent both of buyer and seller that the interest of neither will enter into the classification of lumber, but a board fit to be called clear, when the price is $40 per thousand, will be put in the same grade when the price is $20. When this happy state of affairs is realized, it would be safe to advance the relative valuations of culls as compared with common, but just now our advice to manufacturers would be, better hear the ills you know than inaugurate a change which might prove a Pandora's box, in the reduction of the profits on common rather than increasing those of culls.

The Lumberman's Gazette has the following on the Stave Trade:

One of the most important auxiliary interests in the Valley is the trade in oak staves. This winter a large number of staves are being manufactured along the lines of the railroad. The American pipe is divided into extra pipe, heavy and light pipe, worth in this market from $30 to $72 per M. Hogheads are also divided into three classes, and are worth from $30 to $60 per M. What is known as West India hogheads are worth $30 per M. Claret barrel staves are worth $45, and sawed barrel staves $20@35 per M. Quite a large quantity of red oak staves for molasses hogheads are marketed here and shipped to Cuba, and are worth $20 per M. During the past two or three years a large amount of staves were shipped by rail in car lots. In this market B. M. Hosmer & Co. are buying largely, shipping principally to Cadiz, Spain, where they have yard. A. Todd, of Owosso, has shipped a large quantity by rail, and D. J. Campbell is handling a large number of staves, purchased principally along the line of the F. & P. M. R'y. At St. Louis, Wm. ose, A. J. Grant and Martin Bros. handle a large quantity, which are mostly shipped by rail to Saginaw, and then forwarded by water. Staves are shipped from Saginaw by rail and water to Buffalo, New York, Boston, Kingston, Collins Bay, Tonawanda, Dayton, Detroit and Sarnia. Thence they are shipped to Europe and the West Indies.

Previous to 1870 the entire stave shipments were estimated at 23,000,000 pieces. Since that year the shipments by water aggregate as follows:

1870.....	5,698,000
71.....	3,820,000
72.....	6,633,250
73.....	9,568,898
74.....	4,623,068
75.....	3,113,721
76.....	6,641,269
77.....	4,970,859
78.....	3,372,436
79.....	4,221,731

Quite a large number of staves will be got out this winter in Isabella county, and shipped over the narrow gauge railway to East Saginaw.

LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, {
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 6, 1880. }

Trade and business continues excellent for the season of the year, especially when it is taken into account that the roads in the Southwest have been early in an impassible condition for some weeks, particularly in Illinois and Missouri. There is no falling off in prices or shipments anywhere, and the recent advance in Chicago is reported well sustained. The fact materially stiffens the weaker backs of the Mississippi Valley.

Small stocks, large demand and poor logging prospects are telling day by day the story of better prices next spring, and for some years to come, than is being received now. The present adjustment of freights to the Southwest is operating to the benefit of St. Louis & Hannibal, giving them a part of the business which should centre at those cities as against Chicago. The shipments from St. Louis last week reached nearly a million feet on some days, and were more than three times the amount done last year at the same time. At Chicago the receipts are less and shipments about the same as last season. Toledo, Central Michigan and Chicago are being called upon to fill the gaps in Western wholesale stocks, which supplies of course have to be handled almost without profit by our dealers on the river.

The snows of last week enable loggers of the Northwest to do an immense amount of work, but the soft weather has told heavily upon the roads on both sides Lake Michigan, and logs are being hauled at largely increased expense over last year's figures.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot has undergone some fluctuation on value, but as a whole the market is well supported, and little, if any, stock can be reached except at a full line of valuation. We quote at 21½¢ cash, and 21½¢ for future on lake. Manufactured copper finds a very fair demand, and is firmly supported at the full figures of the recent advance. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary size over 16 oz per sq foot, 3c per lb; do do do, 16 oz and over 12 oz, per sq foot, 3c per lb; do do, 10 and 12 oz, per sq foot, 38c per lb; do, lighter than 10 oz, per sq foot, 40c per lb; circles less than 84 inches in diameter, 37c per lb; do 84 inches in diameter and over, 40c per lb; segment and pattern sheets, 37c per lb; locomotive fire box sheets, 4c per lb; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz per sq foot, 2c per lb, and Bolt Copper, 34c per lb. IRON.—Scotch pig has found a somewhat irregular market, with a slight gain for buyers, in a few cases. As a rule, however, the supplies are under fair control and not offered with freedom. We quote at $32@35 per ton, according to brand and quantity. American Pig has been dull, with now and then an outside parcel offered at a trifle "off," but few, if any, of the companies will modify former views. We quote at $40@40.50 per ton for No. 1; $38@39 do for No. 2; and $37@38 for forge. Rails are much sought after, and makers will find it a necessity to refuse many orders. Values naturally have good support. We quote at $64@68 for new iron, and $82@85 for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails $42@44 per ton; scrap, $11@15. Manufactured iron in good demand and at full rates, though the figures paid are in many cases relatively below what it would cost to replace stocks. Common Merchant Bar, ordinary sizes, at 3.5c from store, and Refined at 3.8c, wrought beams at 4.6c. Fish plates quoted at 3.8c; track bolt and nuts 4.5c; railway spikes, $@52; tank, 3.8c; horseshoe, 4.5c; angle, 4.3c; best flange, 6.3c; and domestic sheet on the basis of 5@5½, for common, 0 to 20. Other descriptions at corresponding prices with 1-10c less on large lots from cars. LEAD.—Domestic Pig has been moderately active, and pretty steady in value. We quote 6@6½¢. The manufacturers of lead are firm and quoted: Bar, 7½¢; Pipe, 7½¢, and Sheet, 8½¢, less than the usual discount to be made; and Tin lined pipe 15c. Block Tin pipe, 0c on same term. TIN.—Pig has found a less active demand, and on the whole, the tone is somewhat weaker on most grades. We quote at 23@23½¢ for Banca, 23½¢ for Straits, 23½¢ for English Refined, 2½¢ for do. Common. Tin Plates have not been very active, but are well controlled and firmly supported all around. We quote I. C. Charcoal, third cross assortment, $9.62½¢ to $9.75 for Allaway grade, and $9.75@9.87½¢ for Melyn grade; I. C. Coke $8.50@8.62½¢ for B. V. grade; $8.75@8.87½¢ for Yspitty grade; Charcoal terne, $8.87½¢@9.12½¢ for Allaway grade, 14x20; $18@18.12½¢ for do., 20x28; Coke terne, $8.12½¢@8.25 for Glais grade, 14x20, and $17@17.12½¢ for do., 20x28—all in round lots. Spelter in very good demand and firm at 6½¢@6¾¢, as to brand. Sheet Zinc moving out to a fair extent and steady at 8½¢@8¾¢, according to quality.

NAILS.—The market continues to receive good, full support in the cost of material and production, and the concentration of supplies under good control. Amounts are in consequence dealt out sparingly, and only to the extent of the positive calls of the hour, while buyers find nothing within reach, except at extreme current rates. Demand, however is not very active, and confined in the main to positive wants. We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $5.25; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $5.50; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $5.75; 4d and 5d, common do per keg, $6.00; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $6.75; 3d, fine, per keg, $7.50; 2d per keg, $7.50.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $5.75. Floor casing and box, $6.00@6.75. Finishing, $6.25@7.25.

CLINCH NAILS.

1½ to 1½ in. 2 & 2½ in. 2½ & 2½ in. 3 in. & longer.
$7.75@7.85 $7.25 $7.00 $6.75 per keg.

OILS.—The movement of all kinds in a jobbing way has been fair, with pretty full prices insisted upon and obtained. On the wholesale market there was some irregularity with the tone of late rather easy. Linseed oil quoted at 80@84 from crusher's bands.

PAINTS.—The movement of supplies has been somewhat irregular especially on the wholesale market. Jobbers, however, report a good seasonable condition of trade, a little in excess of the ordinary volume if anything and a strong line of prices throughout on all the standard and most attractive goods. The offering of stock is quite equal to current wants both as to quantity and assortment.

PLASTER PARIS.—Shipping and home demands have been active and finally brought buoyancy to prices, an advance of 15c. per hhl. all around being announced on calcined, with the tendency still a little upward. The supply of rock on hand is very limited, and the additions must of necessity be light for some time to come, indeed, it is thought none at all can be made for many weeks.

PITCH.—A slow trade in about the ordinary form and volume and the cost showing no variation of importance. Supplies still equal to all calls. We quote at $2@2.12½ per hhl. for City, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—In a small way there is quite a number of parcels going out and commanding full former rates, with no special excess of offering as the stock is generally well under control. The wholesale market has been dull and uncertain but as a rule holders refused to trade and offered stocks sparingly. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 40@41½ per gallon, according to the quantity of the stock handled.

TAR.—Holders are not carrying any very great amount of stock but they all appear to have enough for current wants. These are confined in the main to the ordinary run of trade orders and filled at about former cost. We quote at $2@2.12½ per hhl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2@2.12½ for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The partition sale advertised by A. H. Muller & Son, to take place at the Exchange Salesroom, on Tuesday next, ought to attract the attention of those who believe in solid investments. There is nothing paying so well now a days as business property, and the property advertised along Fourteenth, Greene and Spring streets, and South Fifth avenue, cannot fail to bring handsome returns to anyone disposed to secure it at this sale, which is to be peremptory.

The statement of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, published in another column, shows that this Company has received nearly four millions of dollars in premiums during the year, and had nearly three million dollars surplus on the beginning of the year. The number of policies now in force by this Company is 42,286. Its New York office is in THE REAL ESTATE RECORD Building, 135 and 137 Broadway.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY-HOLDERS.

JUST HISTORY ALWAYS REPEAT ITSELF?

The columns of the REAL ESTATE RECORD give ample evidence, one week after another that we spare no labor or expense to keep abreast of the active measures which have gladdened the hearts of so many dealers in, and owners of, property. In doing so, however, the RECORD does not intend to be carried away from that sound principle which commands constant deliberation and investigation. If these columns should give vent to all that we hear from week to week, this journal would cease to be the safe guide to investors, which has been its pride and mainstay these many years past. We say this the more pointedly this week, as the market contains now many new adherents, who are not only talking recklessly about values, but are actually pushing things a little too fast. This is not said for the purpose of "bearing the market," but to advise those who intend to invest their hard earned dollars in the soil not to listen at all times to the ideas of simple speculators. It is the latter class, and not the honest investors, who have in the past dragged novices into utter ruin, and Pine street once more begins to fill up with men who think they can gamble in realty with the same effrontery that they showed eight and ten years ago. To hear these men talk, one would imagine that every vacant lot on Manhattan Island is to-day—not in years to come—but to-day, worth all the gold that can possibly be piled upon it, and, what is more, they will quote the sayings of this man, or that owner, who has declined fabulous offers for this or that property. Now it must be admitted that even all this talk does no harm per se, but there are some men who have lately shown a disposition to act just as recklessly as others talk. These may come out all right, but others that follow their example at a later period may not. The advance in the prices of certain unimproved property has been almost too rapid during the past four months, too rapid indeed to inspire that confidence which is the safe basis of continued prosperity. It causes wise and thoughtful men to shrug their shoulders and shake their heads and to ask, "where will this end?" They remember that it was only a few short months ago when the business "boom" made its appearance here in the wake of that eighty millions of European gold, which the balance of trade threw into the American lap. And though they remember the leading cause of that revival, they as yet fail to see the plans of the architects or the spades of the builders ready to improve the vacant lots that have gone up so wonderfully in a few short months. They well know that one of these days, or rather years, the time will come when these improvements will begin, but until they do why should values be pushed to extremes? New York, no more than Rome, has been built in a day—in fact, if we are to believe General Viele, it ought to be built all over again—and if values along the exterior lines of the West Side are even now already to be kept at high figures, it will only still further delay the construction of fine mansions in that section, which all so ardently desire.

We may be told that during the past two months extraordinary prices have been paid for Fifth avenue lots, and that, therefore, the avenues of the future which are to outrival the Fifth in splendor will also command higher prices. So they may in time to come. But we have to pass yet a great space of time before we get there. It is only now that Fifth avenue is at its zenith, and the high prices for lots on that avenue have only received an impetus since the Vanderbilts, followed by other rich men, settled upon that locality for their own mansions during the past few months. It had to pass through many varying stages before it reached what appears now to be at last a permanency.

With the increased wealth of the country, and the accession to our population of citizens who have made their millions in the West and South, there is good reason to hope that the growth of the extreme West Side will not be as tardy as Fifth avenue has been. Nevertheless, as Mr. Martin said the other day, the only way to fix values for to-day is to calculate what the ultimate value some years hence will be, and then to allow a discount for that ultimate value. It is this that we desire to impress upon those who now already talk of extraordinary Fifth avenue prices for extreme West Side lots. In calculating that ultimate value, it is well to remember that New York's growth depends exclusively upon the country's business prosperity. Already we have commenced to import more than we export—this means that we buy more than we sell—while yet we are under the influence of that eighty millions in gold which a sound and economical way of doing business added to our wealth. We do not desire to detract one iota from the congratulations heard all around at the revival of prosperity, but knowing that New York's value of realty is so ultimately connected with the prosperity that is real and not imaginary—would it not have been better if the balance of trade had remained in our favor, as it was during 1879? It is these matters which investors must look in the face—for upon that acquisition of capital mainly depends our welfare. Now, why did it not remain so? First, and above all, unlike England, our entire commercial system has not yet adjusted itself in a manner to secure for our manufactures—for all of our exports—that permanency in which alone there is safety and success. Our navigation laws are wrong; our manufacturing laws in various States are oppressive; our manufacturers themselves have only just now begun to understand that to seek neutral markets and be enabled to compete, they must make what these markets want, not what they themselves care to produce; our consuls abroad have only just now begun to enlighten American manufacturers on these matters. But, above all, before our commercial system can possibly adjust itself so as to permit us to keep our banner aloft, our workmen not only, but our merchants must practice that frugality which on the one side permits cheap labor, and on the other hand reduces expenses within the income. Manufacturers also must learn how to save the waste. When all these matters are rightly understood and appreciated, then this country—now that "modern commerce," as a political economist said the other day, "turns on one half one per cent."—will indeed have many eighty millions in gold added to her coffers. Then, and then only, will New York, the fountain head of the Union, reap that vast benefit which will show itself in permanency as to high values. But until that commercial system is properly adjusted, either by legislation or by the wisdom of our producers, there will occur periodically those depressions, which it will be well to remember even in these times of high glee, when so many look at the future through the spectacles of speculators.

THE TWENTY-THIRD AND TWENTY-FOURTH WARDS.

It cannot be said that as yet there is any speculation in the two wards of this city north of the Harlem River. Prices are much firmer than they were; holders are less willing to sell and there is more inquiry. The large purchase in the interest of the Astor estate has provoked inquiry and set operators thinking, but, as we have said, as yet there is nothing that can be called speculation. Those who wish for a quick turn for their money prefer to invest in vacant lots on this island, having in mind the old business motto that the best purchase of vacant lands is just in advance of the improvements.

It is better, all things considered, that there should be no widespread speculation. The plans of the Rapid Transit Commissioners looked to the entire region below Yonkers and New Rochelle in laying out their lines of elevated and surface roads, and the amount of property is so large that it could not all rise in anticipation of the improvements which would be brought about by the construction of the new avenues of travel. This is wholesome. It would be a real calamity to the future of the city if the lands, which are suitable for the homes of the working classes and for manufactories, were quoted at figures so high as to make building costly and, therefore, unavailable. There is plenty of land, cheap enough as yet, which can be bought and held in blocks for improvement. The future factories, as well as the residences of our working population, are not yet made impossible by a quotation of real estate in excess of a reasonable figure.

There is one other improvement which has been lost sight of, and which will have a powerful effect upon values within three miles of the north bank of the Harlem River. We allude to the Harlem River improvement. We understand that assurances have been received from Washington that the money will be forthcoming when needed to make the Harlem River navigable. There is no difficulty at Washington. Promises have also been received from Albany that any legislation needed to begin and continue this very desirable work will be cheerfully voted by the State Legislature. Governor Cornell is a sensible business man, and will interpose no frivolous legal objections when the interests of the community are at stake. It is very obvious that the rendering of the Harlem River navigable means a large addition to the value of lands on the north bank and beyond. It is also among the certainties of the future that the southeast portion of the peninsula bordering upon the Harlem River, Hell Gate and Long Island Sound, will yet be the scene of busy activity; that in this quarter will be railway depots and elevators to transfer the cargoes from the West to foreign-bound steamships which will be laden at Port Morris and in that neighborhood. It is certain that a great portion of the traffic which now comes to New York by the way of the Narrows will reach the city through Long Island Sound, but it will not be the wharves on the North and East Rivers that will be used so much as those in the neighborhood of Hell Gate. Great warehouses will yet line the banks of the East and Harlem Rivers and Long Island Sound as well as the opposite shores on Long Island, and necessarily a large working population will grow up that will demand homes in the land back from the Harlem and from the Sound. There is plenty of high ground further back for choice residences for the well-to-do, and this low and will soon be brought into the market for factories and residences. Nor will the West Side be neglected. It will not advance so rapidly in population as will the East Side, for it is the working people who will first avail themselves of improved facilities north of the Harlem River, and that for many obvious reasons. In the first place the distance is shorter to reach the lower part of New York; the means of communication will be better and the factories, warehouses, depots, etc., which will employ large numbers of workmen, will be all on the East Side. Along the banks of the Harlem will grow up coal yards, factories of all kinds and depots, but the denser population will necessarily and obviously tend towards the eastern side of the peninsula which lies north of this island. The West Side will be of far slower growth, but the property will be held at high rates for settlement by our richer citizens.

As we have said, there is as yet no active speculation in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards. The amount of ground to be affected by the improvements which are projected is so large that it cannot be moved in a mass. Choice localities will undoubtedly soon begin to attract attention but the great bulk of the land, if it seeks a market, will not realize figures much higher than those which have been obtained for the past six months.

It is expected, by the way, that in addition to the improvement of the Harlem River, which will be begun before the first of May, the newly formed Suburban Rapid Transit Company will go to work to build its roads now that the decision touching the conflict of authority between the rival Boards of Rapid Transit Commissioners has been rendered. We say rival, not because these gentlemen were opposed to each others plans—for they entirely agreed—but rival in the sense that there was some dispute as to which had been legally appointed. THE REAL ESTATE RECORD takes a great deal of credit to itself for being the only paper in New York which said that the first Rapid Transit Commissioners were all right; that their plans were wise, and that the clamor of the daily press against them was not honest. The lines of travel laid down by the first commission have been substantially endorsed by the second commission and will be carried into effect by capital already subscribed, and that in the face of the united press of New York City, save alone THE REAL ESTATE RECORD.

THE ASTOR PURCHASE.

There seems to be an impression among the property owners of the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards, that, owing to the Astor purchase, fully reported in THE RECORD a short time ago, their real estate will be assessed at a higher value, while at the same time they claim that

Mr. Astor does not intend to improve the tract of land he has acquired. We believe that the gentleman who has invested his half million of dollars in the annexed district is not the man ambitious of becoming a standing menace or terror to his neighbors. His interests are co-equal with those who have preceded him in the Twenty-third Ward, and if any one imagines that Mr. Astor intends to become an obstacle to progress or improvement in the annexed district, he is woefully mistaken. We are not authorized to speak in his behalf, nor would we presume to do so, without his authority, even to silence the clamor of lot-owners; but THE RECORD knows enough about the management of such large estates in New York and vicinity to assure all of its readers that no capitalist invests a large amount of money in the soil for the purpose of becoming a standing menace to his neighbors. Granted even that Mr. Astor does not intend to improve the twelve hundred lots he has purchased as readily as our friends across the Harlem would like to see him do it, that is no reason why the property, as it stands to-day, is not ready for improvement. Let any one desirous of going to work on these lots, without delay, apply to the office in Prince street and he will readily ascertain that the owner is perfectly willing to grant a lease for any series of years for any number of lots required by the applicant. The figures, too, at which these leases will be granted will be at considerable variance with the "booming" ideas entertained by several residents of the annexed district, who now growl because they fear that at the next assessment in those wards they will be required to pay higher taxes, owing to the recent purchase.

BUSINESS PROPERTY IN GREENE STREET.

Some excellent investments were made by Mr. Eno and others at the Executor's sale held by the Messrs. Muller on Tuesday last, but the most notable bidding, showing the drift of the immediate future, was on the Greene street lot, between Spring and Prince streets. Several far-seeing merchants vied with each other to obtain possession of this parcel, which was finally disposed of at $23,050.

Considering this matter deliberately, we are not surprised at the anxiety displayed to purchase this lot. The only wonder is that it did not bring a higher price. Business is moving right along in that direction. Already fine warehouses line the opposite side of that block, and it seems to be the unanimous opinion of merchants that Greene street property is far superior to Mercer street, owing to the easterly side of the latter thoroughfare being virtually composed of nothing but the rear parts of the Broadway stores. As the next street, therefore, beyond Mercer, running parallel with Broadway, Greene street at once takes rank as a business avenue, secondary only to Broadway itself. Not a week passes but new firms are settling in that locality, and now that the mercantile community, especially in that district, is once more making money, new combinations, new enterprises, and also new firms are continually looking for new places of business.

The investment itself is also quite a paying one. Upon the lot just purchased for $23,050 a five-story and basement iron structure can be erected for about $21,000 even at the present high prices of material, making the total investment aggregate about $45,000. A store like this can be readily rented for $5,500, leaving, minus the tax of $700, a net income of $4,800, or over ten per cent. on the amount invested. Now, when it is remembered that money is really worth only six per cent., it will be noticed that the owner of such a store creates actually a sinking fund for the purchase of more property. At six per cent. he would get on his $45,000 only $2,700, while in the present instance he gets $4,800, and he thus can increase the sinking fund annually with $2,100, the difference between $2,700 and $4,800.

There can be no doubt that while the wholesale business of the city is creeping steadily more northward, this section of the Eighth Ward, where the Lorillards and other leading property owners are steadily engaged in improvements, will command ultimately prices that will throw entirely in the shade last Tuesday's investment. There are so many now specialties ever and anon crowding upon this New York market that warehouses and lofts must be had for them. In the great business of the future, Greene street, if it is not already now, will certainly become a most active centre for several important lines of trade, and the more it assumes that character the higher will be the values along that thoroughfare.

MISTAKES THAT CAN BE PREVENTED.

The judgment rendered against General Sigel, the late register, by the Court of Common Pleas in the Van Schaick suit, no doubt establishes a precedent which will induce greater accuracy by a register's assistants, whom the law, as now explained by Judge Larremore, regards as agents for whose actions the register is responsible. Whether Mr. Van Schaick will be successful in recovering the amount of his judgment or not has nothing to do with the fact that all this litigation might have been obviated if parties interested had studied more closely the columns of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD. Of course, official searchers must be employed, in order to ascertain whether there is an incumbrance on any particular piece of property, but searchers, after all, are but human, and apt to err. To be safe in cases like these it is always best to make comparison and consult THE RECORD statistics, as well as the searchers' reports. Many an instance has come to our knowledge where the experts in the employ of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD have detected errors, not only on the part of officials, but on the part of lawyers' clerks, who in most instances draw up the deeds and mortgages. This has occurred not only with papers on file in the Register's, but also in the County Clerk's office, and in order to be accurate beyond a doubt, those who have consulted the documents in either of these offices, as they imagine correctly, should always before closing a contract test the accuracy of the information they have obtained by examining the bound files of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD.

NEGLECTED IMPROVEMENTS.

The old Tweed ring is deserving of some credit for many of the improvements which New York is now enjoying. They gave us better parks (we allude to the older breathing grounds in different parts of the city), and they projected many betterments in the unsettled portions of the city. Of course, their object was personal gain, as many of their street openings and new boulevards were intended to run through property owned by themselves and friends. They were ambitious to become great land owners, and never dreamt that a day of reckoning would come.

One of the schemes for putting money in the purses of some of the ring followers was the East Side Boulevard, running not far from the banks of the East River, and terminating about Eighty-fifth street. But the East Side Boulevard, beyond levying assessments upon adjoining property, has so far done no good to any one. A portion of the thoroughfare, below Eighty-fourth street, running down to about Seventy-fifth street, is on high ground, and a house built in this location would have a fine view of the River, with the Sound in the distance. This high ground continues to rise up to Fourth avenue, which promises at this point to be a fine location for handsome residences. Indeed, there is much ground in the northeast side of the city, which is picturesquely situated, and may yet become a favorite site for the residences of the well-to-do. It seems a pity that the original design, before the Central Park was projected, to have two parks, one at Jones' Wood, on the east side of the river, overlooking the most picturesque portions of the East River, and another on the west side, where the Riverside Drive is situated, only more extensive, was not carried into effect. By a process of natural selection, the west side of the central portion of the city would have then become the seat of the costliest private residences. There would be no interruption to the upward movement of the retail trade, or to the upward movement of the handsome residence portion of the town, while on either bank of the Hudson or East River would be our two great pleasure resorts. However, this is not now to be thought of, as the Central Park is a fixed fact, and we will have in the fullness of time an abundance of other minor parks to satisfy the desire for recreation and the aesthetic tastes of our citizens. It is to be hoped that the years of prosperity that we are now entering upon will not run into any craze and that the costly and extravagant follies of the Tweed regime will not be repeated. It is also to be hoped that we will build no more East Side boulevards. Streets that are too wide are objectionable. Washington to-day suffers because of its broad avenues. It is a city without commerce or manufactures, and a merely residence population depending upon government patronage cannot afford to keep in repair the very wide avenues which are a distinguishing feature of the city of Washington. For all the purposes of commerce and inter-communication the ordinary street width is sufficient. Very wide streets are not economical. They are not needed. They should only be constructed to give variety to a city and to fix certain locations as being more desirable than others, either for business or for residence purposes. It is to be hoped that this mistake will not be repeated in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth wards.

We think it would be wise for the Legislature to authorize the spending of some more money in this city in improvements. Any one who travels on the upper part of the Island will see the swarms of houses which are being constructed. New York, to-day, is adding more rapidly to its population than in any former period of its history. With this increase in taxable property and population the municipality can afford to discount the future and to spend some money upon needed improvements. Our local debt is a large one but then it is becoming relatively smaller, even if not a penny of it is paid off. The census of this year will show a very handsome addition to our population, as compared with the State census taken five years ago, or the United States census taken ten years since, and, if this is true, there is no reason why some money should not be spent in improving our streets and in making New York a better place to live and do business in.

FIREPROOF BUILDINGS WANTED.

Is it not about time that a new building was erected for the use of the Register, in which to keep the titles to real estate in this county. The present building is old and weather-worn; has had to be frequently repaired, and is not as safe or as strong a building as a great city like New York should possess, in which was registered the titles to all the property of this municipality. In case of riot, it would be an easy matter for a communistic mob to sack this building and put every title to real estate in New York upon an insecure basis. A law was passed through the Legislature a year since making official the publication of the transfers of real estate, but ex-Governor Robinson, who vetoed everything he did not understand, or could not be made to understand, withheld his consent. Had this enactment gone into effect, there would have been a printed record, which would be official, of all the titles to real estate as they passed from seller to purchaser. It will be remembered that in the great Chicago fire the records of conveyances were destroyed. It happened, however, that a real estate lawyer, Fernando Jones, had abstracts of titles to nearly all the real estate in that city, and to this fortunate accident is due the preservation of the property of Chicago by those who owned it. Without Lawyer Jones' records there would have been confusion worse confounded in the titles to realty in that city. We ought to have a fireproof building, and, if possible, it should be mob-proof, also. It ought to be modeled after one of our safe deposit companies' buildings, where every reasonable security is given against fire or riotous violence. Will not the proper authorities move in this matter?

WEST SIDE IMPROVEMENTS.

INTERESTING PAPER ON CITY SEWERS READ BEFORE THE WEST SIDE ASSOCIATION—VALUABLE INFORMATION FOR ALL OWNERS AND OCCUPANTS OF UPTOWN PROPERTY.

At the meeting of the West Side Association, held on the evening of Saturday, February 14, President Dwight H. Olmstead in the chair, Mr. Walter G. Elliot, E. M. C. E., read the following interesting paper:

MR. WALTER G. ELLIOT'S PAPER ON CITY SEWERS.

In presenting this paper to the gentlemen present, the writer's main object is to give a general idea of the prominent and necessary features in any great scheme of sewerage, as exhibited in the case of a city like New York, as well as to correct some erroneous ideas which have taken root in the minds of many people owing to exaggerated statements in daily journals and elsewhere.

The first question asked by an individual purposing to move into a new neighborhood is, generally: "Is it a healthy location?"

The answer to that question depends upon the drainage of the locality, more than upon almost all other conditions liable to occur singly or combined.

The effects of bad drainage need not be considered here. They are too well known in connection with the terrible plagues which scourged the so-called civilized nations of Europe during the middle ages, when to bathe was considered almost a crime, and more recently alarmed our own country in the dreaded form of yellow fever. All of these epidemics have been proven beyond a doubt to be due to the uncleanly and unsanitary habits of the people themselves. A still more recent illustration may be cited in the case of the defective house drains in West Fifty-sixth street.

Epidemics have, to a great extent, disappeared, and it will not be many decades hence before they will be almost unknown. As our knowledge of their cause and methods of prevention increases we have fewer of them. According to the report of the recent sanitary survey of Memphis, the breeding place of our yellow fever scourge, a year or two since, it was found to be almost entirely due to the pollution of the soil in the neighborhood of dwellings by the infiltration from privies and cesspools, there being no proper system of drainage in the city. When the system of drainage for this city was first planned, our knowledge of sanitary engineering was exceedingly limited, as illustrated by the condition and mode of construction of some of our oldest sewers.

The very best talent should always be applied to the designing of the system for large cities, as their future prosperity is largely dependent upon their healthfulness.

There are several methods in vogue for the removal of the wastes of cities and towns, only one of which, viz., the "water carriage system," will be alluded to here, as it is in use in this city. The water supply and sewerage of cities are inseparably connected with each other.

New York, which has a larger allowance of water per capita than almost any other city in the country, uses and wastes about 100,000,000 gallons of water every twenty-four hours. Every gallon of this enormous volume has to be carried off by the sewers and discharged through the proper outlet. Besides this, most of the rain-fall upon the paved and improved portions, and a large percentage of that upon the unimproved parts, adds its quota to the sewerage. To remove all this a system of stone, brick, cement and stoneware pipe sewers has been constructed throughout the city, the extent of which amounted, January 1, 1879, to 370 miles, divided into 337 of sewer proper, fourteen of land drains and eighteen of culverts.

Of this immense length of sewers, sixty-nine miles of sewer proper, and four of culverts were constructed prior to 1849. From 1849 to 1865 there were built 125 and 16-100 miles of sewer, and seven and nine hundredths miles of culverts. In the latter year the "Sewerage Act" was passed, and from that time until 1870, the date of organization of the Department of Public Works, the Croton Aqueduct Department built fifty-seven and seventeen hundredths miles of sewer, ninety-four hundredths miles of drain, and two and one hundredth miles of culvert. From 1870 to 1879, the Department of Public Works built eighty-five and seventy-six hundredths miles of sewer, and twelve and ninety-seven hundredths miles of drain, and five and six hundredths miles of culverts. Those built prior to the year 1865 are designated as the "old" system, and those constructed since are known as the "new" system. Of the former there are 205, and of the latter 165 miles.

According to the last report of the Department of Sewers, many miles of the former are sewers only in name, having been laid before the introduction of Croton water, and are, for the most part, simple drains with open bottoms, while the sides are built of dry stones uncemented. These drains were, at the time, intended to carry off only the waste water from houses, which was then obtained from wells, cisterns, etc. Refuse and night soil was deposited in vaults and removed as from the old-fashioned privies. On the introduction of the Croton water, many of these drains were utilized as sewers, although totally unfit for such. Up to the year 1865, miles upon miles of these drains were constructed without the slightest regard to regularly arranged plans, and many of them were even built by private property owners themselves, after their own ideas and designs. Of many of these no record at all has been kept, so that they became very difficult to find when the Sewer Department was organized.

I will endeavor to give some idea of the gross blunders committed then, and liable at all times to be committed when private parties undertake to do work for which they are unfitted.

In the first place, the principles of hydraulics were considered beneath contempt. The sewers were usually built of inordinate size, the builders imagining that all matter entering them were to remain and eventually fill them, hence the larger they were made the longer would be the interval before they would require cleaning. Their expectations in regard to the clogging up were seldom disappointed. In most cases where the volume of sewerage required but a 2-foot sewer, in which the velocity of the passing current would have been sufficient to remove all possible obstructions, a 4, 5, or even 6-foot sewer was put in, and not only this, but said sewers were often built with flat, open inverts, or no invert at all, so as to spread the sewage over as large a surface as possible, and destroy what little velocity it might otherwise have acquired. Many had neither man holes nor lamp holes, and in no case was any ventilation provided.

2. In many cases, sewers in one section were built of such size that the sewage could not be carried away by the smaller ones connected with it at a lower level. The result was the overflowing of the sewers, which were filled beyond their capacity, and much damage was done to adjoining houses' cellars, sickness and death being spread abroad. One of the most notable features in the "old" system was the neglect of builders to provide sufficiently solid foundations for the sewers, even in unstable and made ground. The settling of the ground has, consequently, in hundreds of cases, caused the destruction of the sewer or changed their grade to such an extent that the sewerage flowed in a direction exactly the reverse of that which had been originally intended.

In some cases, along the bulkhead line on the river front, by this unequal settling of the ground, it was found that a sort of trap had been formed, as the outlet proper being fixed in the solid bulkhead had remained at the original level while that portion immediately connecting had sunk several feet. The consequence was that the gases generated in the sewer could find no outlet, and when a high tide filled the sewer it forced back the confined gases, which, having no other outlet, forced their way through defects in the plumbing arrangements into our houses. In this connection, it is well to state, perhaps, that not one house in fifty is plumbed in a manner to exclude sewer gas or drain air under circumstances which often occur. Both personal experience and high authorities have proved this fact to me.

Many of the sewers were built of a single thickness of brick or of dry stone. Through this thin shell the subsoil water finds its way readily and they, therefore, answered a good purpose, as subsoil drains; but, on the other hand, the sewage as readily found its way out, saturating the soil about it to an alarming extent and accumulating a gradually increasing deposit in the drain itself. The danger from this can easily be understood in the case when our houses were provided with privies only, the liquid and most dangerous portions of which were allowed to enter the drains. In addition to the above-mentioned defects, house drains were frequently extended far into the sewers, thereby obstructing the free flow of the sewage and forming deposits often entirely clogging the main sewer.

To the present day many large factories and office buildings pass their exhaust steam into the sewers in violation of the law. The result is the rapid deterioration of the brick sewers set in ordinary mortar.

Before the year 1872 the city contracted for the removal of sewer deposits by paying a stated price per cart-load removed. The result was that each contractor found it to his advantage to leave untouched all obstructions which were found to cause deposits, and the sewers were thus mere sinks for the collection of filth, and a danger to health. After the 1st of January, 1872, this method was changed, and by paying the contractors for their time and tools only, the character of the work done under the direction of the department was greatly improved; even in this way, however, much information obtained by the "sewer rats" relative to faults and conditions of the sewer system was lost to the department, as they found it more advantageous to keep it to themselves. From 1876, therefore, the cleaning of the sewers has been under the direction of the Engineer of Sewers, and done by day's labor, and this plan has proved of great value in giving him information as to the exact condition of the sewers and led to the remedy of important defects. All of the cleaning is done in the "old" sewers, the "new" ones being self-cleansing.

On the passage of the "Sewerage Act" in 1865, the Croton Aqueduct Department filed plans for the drainage of a large part of the city by a system of pipe-sewers, which are cheaper and better in many cases than brick, being self-cleansing. The larger sizes of pipe-sewers are liable to break through defects in manufacture or careless laying. Contractors often furnished a poor grade of pipe, or laid them improperly in bad ground, hence they were frequently broken. They should always be bedded in concrete, and then form the best sewer which can at present be built. Formerly, when separate departments built sewers and graded the streets, the system of sewerage was carried out with little regard to subsoil or land drainage, no land drains being constructed to remove the water of original water courses, as illustrated recently in East Fifty-seventh street. The sewers were often perched up a loose filling above the natural surface of the street, and by their inevitable settling were destroyed, doing great damage to the surrounding soil.

In the upper wards of the city the soil is very variable, consisting of sand, rock, clay, and in cases of graded streets rock filling, often very deep. These are all encountered successively, rendering a frequent change in the character and material of the sewer necessary.

Where branch sewers were necessarily too small to be built of brick, pipe was used.

As before stated, no provision was made in the original plans for the drainage of the subsoil, which oversight has caused great damage to whole neighborhoods; hence to drain the original watercourses deep intercepting sewers had to be built. In the main sewers the circular form has been to a considerable extent adopted as being both cheap and strong, and when built at very shallow depths in a few cases they have been flattened to admit of the laying of the pavement.

Egg-shaped sewers are used in the branches as the flow is more intermittent, and they are better adapted to deal with such than the circular.

Many blocks of houses in the upper parts of the city are in very bad condition owing to the want of sufficient fall in the cellar drains, or to their destruction by gradual settling, allowing the liquid sewage to saturate the ground under and around the houses, while the solid portions obstructed the drains. For the remedy in such cases the Department of Health must be resorted to in order to compel the owners to substitute the proper cast iron sealed drains with proper fall for the old and broken ones. These when properly trapped and ventilated will afford protection from sewer gas.

The old sewers had no organized system of ventilation, untrapped house drains and open rain leaders forming the only outlet for the gases of the sewer; but when the sewers began to take the drainage of the houses connected with the newly introduced Croton water, it became necessary to trap the leaders and drains, and some other means of ventilation had to be substituted. If the mouth of an outfall sewer is above the level of low tide water, high winds blowing into the uncovered mouth produce very serious pressure in the sewers, and when added to the pressure produced by an increased volume of sewage in time of storms, or to that exerted by steam or hot water will often force the best trap in use. As the Health Department now requires every drain to be trapped as near the sewer as possible, and gates to the mouths of the outlet sewers have become necessary, the Sewer Department have been compelled to adopt some other means of ventilating sewers, and they have unwittingly hit upon the very best mode in use, viz.; the perforation of manhole covers in the centre of the streets; this allows the sewers to "breathe" at all times, without danger to the dwellings connected with them.

Some official in the department recently stated publicly that Legislation was necessary to compel owners to provide for the ventilation of the sewers through the house drains. This was, to say the least, a most unfortunate recommendation, and a most pernicious practice, as will be shown hereafter.

The opposition of a number of wealthy owners in the upper part of the Island to having streets opened by law in places where main or outlet sewers were needed to drain adjoining sections, has been a great detriment to whole neighborhoods as the house drainage has no escape except over the surface. The result is the dangerous pollution of the soil. This same pollution is taking place in our shanty districts on the West Side and the damage it is doing to that section will presently be counted by the tens of thousands of dollars. They should in compliance to the sanitary code be compelled to make sewer connections, in preference to incurring the expense of which they would vacate the premises and seek pastures new.

As the result of many years experience, sewers have assumed two general forms, egg shaped, and circular. The reasons for this are two-fold. Firstly; a good sewer should be constructed so as to carry off with maximum velocity both the maximum and minimum flows, and secondly; they should accomplish this with the greatest economy of materials and at the same time possess the greatest strength.

Two pressures are exerted, one vertical and the other horizontal, upon all sewers, the latter depending upon the angle of repose of the earth. It is also usually the least, and hence an elliptical sewer is theoretically the best. In certain cases as of quicksands, etc., however, the latter pressure may often be greatest. Besides the pressure, another element has to be considered, i. e., variable flow of the sewage. Now, since the less the length of the wetted perimeter in proportion to the sectional area of a sewer, the greater the velocity of flow, you can understand the reason of the employment of an egg-shaped sewer. They are altogether the best adapted to a variable flow of sewage, as they are more thoroughly self-cleansing. When the flow is comparatively uniform, the circular sewer is best, being cheaper and stronger. This form should always be used for sewers up to 18 inches in diameter, which are made of earthenware or concrete. For this statement I have the highest authority, both at home and abroad. When larger than 18 inches, for the same reason, they should be circular in all cases where the volume of sewage is sufficient to maintain it at all times half full, but the maximum flow never entirely fills it. The greatest care is necessary in calculating the probable volume of sewage likely to flow through any length of sewer in order to properly proportion the size.

Of the materials used in sewer building, the only ones of note are bricks, stone, stoneware, artificial stone, concrete, asphalt, cement, tiles, iron, timber and glass. The best of these will always be found to be the cheapest in the end. As I have already stated, the greatest wear in a sewer comes upon the invert, which is due to the erosion of the water, and the grinding effect of the solid bodies which are constantly washed through it. Hence, in selecting materials for a sewer, only such should be chosen as will best withstand the chemical action of the sewage or the gasses produced therefrom, as well as the mechanical action of the materials transported by the flowing stream.

Small sewers are usually made of stoneware or fireclay pipes. The latter are to be condemned as of insufficient strength. The former have failed in many cases entirely through ignorance on the part of the contractor in laying them in too deep a cutting with insufficient foundation, or in a few cases to the insufficient thickness of the pipe itself. Stone-ware pipes of 18 inches diameter should never be less than 1½ inches in thickness, and always greater when laid in unstable soil. They should always be bedded in concrete when it is desirable to have a permanent sewer, but it is done in this City in a few cases in bad ground. They should never be allowed to rest on their collars in the bottom of the excavation, but should be laid with their whole length firmly in contact with the floor of the trench. The best quality of earthenware pipes are those of well-vitrified imperishable material of true form and strong enough to withstand the pressure of the earth in excavations of 25 feet. Above all they should be thoroughly impervious, with a uniform glaze inside and out, no fire cracks should be allowed, and when struck they should have a clear ring. Salt glazed pipes are greatly superior to lead or glass glazed as the former permeates the whole body of the material, while the others form only a surface varnish. No lime should be allowed in their manufacture. Sewers of any description must be laid in a perfectly true line of fall from point to point, and recesses cut in the floor of the trench for the sockets.

Clay should never be allowed for an instant as a material for jointing any kind of sewers. It is easily washed out, forms a foothold for the roots of trees, &c., to insinuate themselves into the sewer, is pervious and would greatly impair the value of the best and most impervious pipe. It is easily squeezed out by the vertical pressure upon the pipes. The only jointing that should be tolerated in sewer construction is pure Portland or equally good cement.

A defect often encountered in sewers, both pipe and brick, is that in the jointing the cement has oozed into the pipe and formed on hardening small impediments to the flow of the sewage, nuclei for the collection of deposit. All joints should be absolutely tight as they would otherwise tend to be foul subterranean currents of water supplying wells and springs. It is now pretty generally admitted that Portland cement sewers can be built which will outlast most brick and pipe sewers, and are less liable to crack. They are cheaper than brick sewers of equal calibre, and are less liable to destruction by the chemical action of the sewage. They are capable of easy repair, are hermetically tight and are without joints. Fifteen and eighteen inch sewers are made 2 inches thick. Some miles of sewers have, of late years, been built in Paris of Beton Agglomeré, with great success, although it is a concrete by no means as good as Portland cement. Trees in close proximity to sewers should be avoided as there is danger that the roots will in search of moisture insinuate themselves into the joints and develop within the pipe forming a serious obstruction. An envelope of concrete about the sewer will form an effective barrier.

For the construction of brick sewers, only the best quality, hardest and smoothest bricks should be used, especially for the inverts. The latter should be made of some material like glazed bricks. Ordinary shaped bricks are totally unfit for the construction of small sewers, owing to the gaping joints which they form at the back. Radiated bricks only should be used. Invert blocks of terra cotta or stoneware are a great improvement both in wear and in the facility of construction. They are made both hollow and solid, the latter being much superior in strength. In the construction of all brick and concrete sewers, templates for the guidance of the workman should be used. In this connection I may state one of the advantages of pipe over brick sewers. The former are jointed every 2 or 3 feet, while in the latter one occurs every 8 inches, thus largely increasing the liability to leakage into the subsoil.

When the greatest internal diameter of a brick sewer does not exceed 3 feet and the depth of the trench in good ground is 20 feet or less, the thickness of the ring of brick work need not be more than 4½ inches. In 3 to 6 foot sewers it should be 8 or 9 inches thick, and increased in proportion to the increase in diameter. If the sewers have straight sides, this thickness must be increased 50 per cent.

One or two varieties of segmental sewers of stoneware have been considered good, but they are never quite water tight.

Concrete sewers when built, should be of the best grade of concrete, made of 1 part Portland cement, 2 parts sand, and 3 parts of 1½ inch broken stone. This is rammed into place behind a centre or mould of the exact section of the sewer. When carefully constructed, a concrete sewer is one of the best that can be built, and one of the most economical, since the thickness can varied to suit the varying conditions of soil, size, etc. They are exceedingly durable and easily repaired. The centres or moulds should never be removed until the concrete has thoroughly set. Concrete block sewers have also been successfully used. Concrete when used as an envelope for a single ring of brick work, as already described for pipe sewers, makes a fine but rather expensive sewer. Concrete sewers need the supervision of a foreman who will follow implicitly the directions of the engineer.

The junctions of all sewers with each other, and of house drains with sewers should be made so as to discharge the contents in the direction of the flow in the larger, to avoid deposits. This is rarely done in the case of house drains, which are merely stuck through a hole in the side of the sewer. Junctions of sewers with each other are usually made at manholes.

All sewers should be ventilated and there is but one way to accomplish this. Every manhole should have an opening in the cover when located in the centre of the street. These manholes should be as numerous as possible. It is unsafe to have them nearer the houses than the centre of the roadway, and London practice has proved the safety of this plan. They should under no circumstances be ventilated through the house drains as recently recommended by one of our officials. It is one of the most dangerous practices ever attempted, and has been tried and abandoned in many instances.

In the summer, people leave the city, partly or entirely closing their houses; the water in traps beneath unused basins evaporating in the course of a few weeks, leaving open communication between the interior of the house drain (and in some cases even with the sewer itself) and the air of the room which becomes polluted for the reception of its occupants on their return. What would be the result in such cases, if our house drains and soil pipes were doing duty as ventilators for the public sewers?

The subject of ventilating house drains is a complicated one, and occupies a volume in itself. It must be left to the engineer, as the conditions are very variable. Any plumber will tell you that he and he only can solve the most difficult problem in it, if it costs you half a million.

Our sewers of recent construction are, for the most part, self-cleansing, and require only an occasional flushing. Automatic flushing arrangements are often placed in man holes at points in a system where the flow of sewage is either very variable or very small in volume.

The gullies at street corners are not, as many people suppose, open connections with the sewers, but are all trapped. They are simply catch-basins for the road detritus and surface-wash of storms, and are periodically cleaned.

The foregoing remarks have given at best but a mere sketch of city drainage, and, in concluding, I am glad to be able to state that many of the methods and materials which have been here affirmed to be the best, have been employed and well carried out in that particular section of the city within the limits of interest to this Association, as will soon be proved, when more of the streets are drained, by its freedom from malaria.

Its greatest gain in this respect has been due to its slow growth, which will never be a source of regret to the owners therein. It is probably even now one of the best drained sections of the city.

At the conclusion of Mr. Elliot's remarks, Mr. H. H. Camman moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, which was carried, and he was requested to furnish a copy to be deposited in the archives of the Association.

Mr. Feitner having offered a resolution that the paper be printed in pamphlet form, Mr. M. A. J. Lynch moved an amendment that it be printed in THE REAL ESTATE RECORD. The latter amendment was carried, and the Association then voted unanimously to have it printed in these columns.

AN IMPORTANT STATEMENT BY A PROMINENT BUILDER.

Before the meeting adjourned, Mr. John D. Crimmins, of the Executive Committee, made some remarks, of which the following is a condensed but valuable report:

"It is evident, Mr. President," he said, "that the attention of investors and dealers in real estate has been strongly attracted of late to the WEST SIDE ASSOCIATION, whose practical usefulness as an organization for the protection of both public and private interests, has come to be generally conceded. In meeting with gentlemen from day to day, who are conversant with property values, the discussions very naturally turn upon the best localities for present and future investments. In this connection, the property adjacent to the Park, on the West Side, is certain to be referred to; and few questions are more common among respectable operators than this: 'Have you secured any lots adjoining the Park, on the West Side?' The direction and control of the disposition and uses of this valuable tract, are believed to furnish the first notable instance in this city, of any so large and splendid an area, restricted and engineered in its general management, by the bona fide and absolute owners, who are, of course, most deeply concerned in directing it to the very best public and private uses. These very important facts have been brought to the knowledge of many sound and conservative men (who are already turning them to good account), mainly through the published proceedings of the sessions of this Association. Of my own personal knowledge, within the last ten days, nineteen distinct purchases have been made, between the Eighth and Ninth avenues, south of One Hundredth street. There is every reason to believe that many others of the same character, in near proximity to these, have been very recently made, which have not come under my direct observation. Three of the gentlemen who have secured lots in this locality, have informed me that they have decided upon their plans, and will soon commence the erection of houses, equal, if not superior, to the average of those already built, between the Fifth and Madison avenues. The price of choice lots in the vicinity in question, have advanced thirty per centum within the last week, and have been sold at the increased rate. They are still going up." [Applause.]

The meeting soon after adjourned.

WHY NOT AN ALHAMBRA?

To the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD:

Some time ago I ventured to address you a note asking whether the time had not come for New York, as a great metropolis, to have its Alhambra or its Jardin Mabille. It is inevitable in the growth of a great city that it should have these great pleasure resorts. I know they are immoral. I take it for granted that human nature is not by any means perfect, but the city is even now swarming with small institutions of this kind, and it would really be a saving to the morality of the city if a superb establishment was opened that would be a marvel of beauty and in which outward decorum could be maintained. Unfortunately our laws are against the establishment of a really fine resort, because of the public supineness to the raids of the police upon suspected places. There is not a capitol in the world that would submit to such an outrage as that which occurred within a few weeks, when three hundred persons were arrested in a resort in Bleeker street and marched to the station-house to be discharged next day with trifling fines. These raids are of no possible value as the innocent and guilty are alike punished, and no good comes of the punishment. It is known that the ability of the police to make these raids without warrant of law puts questionable resorts at the mercy of the heads of the department. Hundreds of thousands of dollars is privately paid yearly by the keepers of these places to the police authorities for immunity. In London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna or even Madrid, the police captain that would make such a raid would be summarily imprisoned as a violator of the public peace and a public nuisance; but New York tolerates it, and as a consequence it is only the exceptionally vile who have the temerity to keep these dance houses and drinking places. There is sure to be a certain amount of sin committed in so large a city as New York, and as we cannot suppress it we can at least make it as unobjectionable as possible. As Burke well said, "vice itself may lose half its evil by losing all its grossness."

LIBERAL.

[We publish this letter as a curiosity. We have no doubt there are many who think as do our correspondent, and it is perhaps allowable to give such people a chance to air their views. But no respectable journal can afford to countenance any such institution as "Liberal" hints is desirable in this city. No doubt New York in time will have its gilded palaces of sin, but there is no need for advocating any such institutions in the public press.]

CHEAP FOR THE LOCALITY.

There are yet some houses left in the much sought after fashionable quarter, that have not been enhanced in price since the recent "boom" in real estate values set in. One of these houses is No. 51 West Fifty-seventh street, built only a year or two ago in accordance with all modern improvements, having a frontage of twenty-five feet on the north side of the street, and yet, in face of the fact that vacant lots in that identical neighborhood have been sold recently from $35,000 to $40,000, this mansion built under the personal supervision of the Messrs. Jardine, architects, can be had to day for $60,000. It forms part of the Einstein estate, and is the only one of the houses yet unsold on which there has been no advance in price. It would be impossible, in the presence of actual prices of lots and building material, to replace a house of this calibre in the same locality at less than $80,000. Everything forming part of this mansion has been finished in first-class style, with cabinet work throughout, ample dining and extension rooms, and the upper floors containing the modern saloon style of wardrobes and closets, all elaborately ornamented to suit the taste of the most fastidious. Solidity and good workmanship, linked to style and fashion, form the characteristics of this fine first-class house, which we can safely commend to the attention of investors. A watchman is always on the premises, ready to show visitors the various floors of this mansion.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

At last there is evidence that the Exchange Sales-room will reflect the activity which has characterized the Brokers' Offices during the past six weeks. Foreclosure sales have been few and far between, and trustees of estates seem to be more disposed to come to the front and face the miscellaneous crowd of buyers, and speculators now so numerous in the long basement of the Trinity Building. Considering the transactions of the past week those who have during the many years of depression kept their property from public gaze, though all the time anxious to dispose of it, to satisfy heirs or parties in interest, need not now be afraid to face the music. There was plenty of it in the air during the past week, and a good deal more of it on the floor of the Exchange. The partition sale held by A. H. Muller & Son was indeed an event of the market. The crowd of investors and brokers was immense, leaving hardly standing room for the occasional looker on. Nothing better can be said of this sale than that sellers were satisfied, and so were also the buyers. Not a single piece of property was "bought in," and all was disposed of advantageously, even to shrewd investors. It needs not our comments to show the excellent purchases made by Mr. Amos R. Eno & Son at this sale, where they secured Spring street property near South Fifth avenue, which already today, without further improvement, pays a handsome return on the investment. Mr. D. L. Einstein's purchase of No. 104 Greene street, for $23,050, also demonstrates the drift of mercantile ideas so far as real estate is concerned. There are lots in this identical block which can not be had to-day for $30,000, as it is well known that Greene street has before it an immediate and grand future. As it is understood that not only 104 but also 106 are to be improved with fine palatial warehouses to accommodate the ever growing wholesale business of our city, where modern structures in localities like these can be easily rented for $6,000 per annum, we were not surprised at the comments heard on the Exchange in regard to the low price at which 104 Greene street was secured. Many merchants present declared it to be their opinion that $28,000 would have been a low figure for this parcel. However, there is no accounting for the freaks of the market, while any number of capitalists were panting for the purchase of this or that piece of property, and the bidding assumed a character that tried the patience of the auctioneer, it was evident that there were still some investors left who believe that because they buy at public auction, therefore they must have it at a bed-rock price. True, they were accommodated on Tuesday, but on Thursday, when the attendance was equally large, things went off a good deal livelier, and West street, Washington and Franklin street property was disposed of by the Messrs. Muller, at prices, and to buyers, which will be found detailed below. Mr. Harnett, on Thursday, sold a four-story high stoop brick house, on West Twenty second street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, for $14,300, which would have brought a higher price if all those in want of such a house in this locality had known of the sale.

In order not to bide the transactions of the Real Estate Market, past or to come, from public view, we hereby inform capitalists and investors generally that Messrs. E. H. Ludlow & Co. will hold an executor's sale of splendid Broadway property, near Spring street, running through to Mercer, on Wednesday next. On the same day this firm will sell Cliff and Pearl street property, and, aside of eligible parcels in West Thirty-fourth street and East Thirty-fifth street, will offer an entire front on Park avenue, between Eighty-second and Eighty-third streets. On the very next day (Thursday), Messrs. Ludlow will sell business property, as well as uptown parcels; particulars will be found elsewhere.

To close an estate Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son will sell on Tuesday next Sixth avenue property, between Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth streets. Also, on Thursday next, houses and lots on First avenue, One Hundred and Sixteenth, One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, and One Hundred and Twenty-eighth streets. The sale on Wednesday next, by Mr. Richard V. Harnett, of Division street, Twenty-seventh, Fortieth, Forty-fifth and other property, should not be overlooked, no more than the tenements and stores on East Eighteenth street, which he will offer from his stand on the same day. It always has been the purpose of THE RECORD to fix the buyers attention to these public sales, and now that they once more become exceedingly active, we take pleasure in alluding to them in this connection.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

To say that the real estate market is active, reflects but faintly the idea that prevails in Pine street. "It is more than active," said a would-be investor, who went up-town disgusted, yesterday—"it is kiting, sir kiting." The gentleman, it must be admitted, was somewhat excited because he could not secure the property he wanted at his own figures, but after all, he only re-echoed the voice of Pine street. The representative of THE RECORD, who has the greatest difficulty now-a-days to divide the wheat from the chaff, sympathized with the poor—no, not poor—but rich gentleman just mentioned, and told him an old story of Jay Gould, who used to say that he could always make more money whenever he did not go down to Wall street. Pine street is fast assuming Wall street habits, and last week the street was full of rumors, points, anything in fact, either to depress or raise the price of lots in certain localities. It will be remembered that THE RECORD has stated during the past two weeks, that there was great activity in the Sixties and Seventies, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, as this is the section closest up for improvement, where prices were yet held at moderate figures. It became known to us early this week, that transactions had been closed in that section, and we know of one particular sale made to a prominent builder, on Sixty-eighth street. We were informed that six lots had been sold on the south side of Sixty-eighth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, for $7,000 each, to Mr. Abraham Dowdney, the well-known builder. Our representative at once called at the offices of several brokers most likely to know of the transaction, and at all of them he was most positively informed that no such sale had taken place. We then addressed the following letter to Mr. Abraham Dowdney, and also print his reply:

Office of the REAL ESTATE RECORD,
135 and 137 Broadway,
New York, February 18, 1880.

MR. ABRAHAM DOWDNEY,

DEAR SIR: A report reaches us from Pine street, to-day, that you have purchased some lots during this or the previous week, on Sixty-eighth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues. I cannot trace the correctness of this report, nor can I obtain the price, which is said to be $7,000 each.

As THE RECORD endeavors in its account of sales at private contract, to be as correct as possible, will you kindly tell me per return mail, the truth in regard to this transaction?

Truly yours,

EDITOR REAL ESTATE RECORD.

NEW YORK, February 19th, 1880.

To the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD:

In reply to your note of yesterday, would say, I am interested in the purchase of lots on the north side of Sixty-eighth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, for which $7,500 each, was paid. I also purchased some lots on the south side of same street for which I paid $7,000 each. I don't see why brokers and others refuse to give you the information requested by you, unless their object is to keep the sales in that vicinity quiet, that they may be enabled to purchase property at present low prices from owners who are not acquainted with actual values and contemplated improvements in that vicinity.

Respectfully,

ABRAHAM DOWDNEY.

In this connection we beg leave to say for the information of Pine street that this is a sample copy of many similar ones received at this office from buyers who are willing enough to tell us all they know without making the "boom" any longer or shorter than it actually is. Of course, the now well known fact that with the early spring building operations will be exceedingly active between Eighth and Ninth avenues has been the stimulating process in the last two week's activity, and while this activity on the part of investors to possess themselves of lots in that section continues there is a steady, but not over hasty, rise in prices. Messrs. L. J. & I. Phillips have sold at private contract during the past week, for Messrs. Arkenburgh & Earl, fourteen lots on the north side of Sixty-ninth street, beginning 100 feet east of Ninth avenue, for $6,500 each. Other lots in this immediate vicinity could have been sold at $7,000 each, but we know that the owner has refused this offer. In fact, taking the survey of this entire section, extending from Sixty-third street to Seventy-second street, we hear of no lot having been offered without being rapidly snapped up at the market price. One prominent operator who only, during the autumn, bought two lots and three gores on Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth streets, between these avenues, for $9,000, sold this plot during the week just ended for $19,000.

Here, however, is an official statement of a small transaction which may act as a sort of index to others. Jere Johnson sold, on January 27, four lots on the south side of Eighty-third street, 225 west of Eighth avenue, and on the north side of Eighty-second street, for $19,250. He resold them on the 6th instant, for $20,000 and sold them yesterday for $22,000. Again, on January 27, he sold four lots on the north side of Eighty-fourth street and south side of Eighty-fifth street, 325 feet west of Eighth avenue, for $19,250, and resold them on Thursday for $21,000. Of course, it is not always possible to get at prices agreed upon under private contract, and hence, though we know of the purchase of three lots on the northeast corner of the Boulevard and Sixty-third street, and also of four lots on the north side of Seventieth street, 100 feet east of the Ninth avenue, by Mr. John A. Monsell, the prices at which they have been secured have not transpired.

The sixteen lots on the south side of Ninety-first street, one on Eighth avenue and three on the north side of Nineteenth street, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Higginbottom last week for $100,000, as noticed at that time in these columns have, during the week, been resold for $114,000 through the efforts of Mr. John J. Clancy to a syndicate of builders, who will at once improve this locality. This is one of the best sales at private contract made by an up-town broker during the week.

As we go to press we hear that the purchaser of six lots on Eighty-fifth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, who secured them last week for $25,000, from Mr. Salem H. Wales, has just refused $30,000 for them.

Mr. Isaac Honig, one of the oldest real estate brokers in the market, said yesterday to a representative of THE RECORD: "The bulling of real estate has done considerable harm, as it prompts owners to advance their prices in certain localities, to figures that make buyers stand back."

Coming lower down, there has been, during the week, remarkable activity in Fifty-ninth street vacant property. Mr. R. H. Arkenburgh has sold, through Mr. William Lalor, one of the choicest parcels of up-town Broadway property, viz., southeast corner of Fifty-ninth street and Broadway—four lots on Broadway and one on the street—for $130,000. Not very far from the circle some seven lots, it is reported, have been sold to Mr. Havemeyer on the south side of Fifty-ninth street, between the circle and Ninth avenue. It is given out that during the early spring Mr. Havemeyer intends to build a first class apartment house in that locality.

It would be superfluous to say that numerous other sales of more or less importance have been made during the week, but we much regret that we can only print those that reach us from authentic sources.

Mr. Lester has sold the southwest corner of New avenue and One Hundred and Sixteenth street, two lots, for $3,000 each. Mr. Wm. Lalor has bought ten lots on One Hundred and First street, and six lots on One Hundredth street, 100 feet west of Eighth avenue, for $60,000, from Mr. Treadwell, and so we hear of the sale to Mr. G. Kilpatrick of a plot on the south-east corner of St. Nicholas avenue, adjoining 116th street, for $75,000—dimensions being 370x100x335x65.6.

Everybody rejoices at the sale effected by Mr. McRae, for Mr. Griffith Rowe, of the fine house on the southeast corner of Fifty-fourth street and Fifth avenue, built by the latter and Mr. Cornish since last year. The lot was secured at that time from an Ohio owner for $57,000. The building cannot cost over $60,000, and the entire property has just been sold by Mr. McRae to one of the Bonanza mining men at $205,000. Mr. Rowe is said to have pocketed a profit of $80,000 by this sale, which nobody begrudges him. The market only rejoices in the fact that Mr. G. R. is once more coming to the front.

The story in regard to the new bank building, known as No. 92 Broadway, resolves itself into this fact that the 27 feet front on Broadway, and also No. 4 Wall street, have been sold by Mr. Reese for $220,000 to the First National Bank and the Bank of the Republic. These concerns will jointly erect there a seven-story banking house, the lower floors of which are to be occupied by them, and the upper stories are to be let out as offices.

Of other business property sold at private contract, we hear that the estate of the late W. Wakeman has sold Nos. 13 and 15 Howard street, 25 feet west of Elm street, for $21,000. The premises are now rented for over $2,000 per annum.

Leonard J. Carpenter has sold during the week, for Robert Lennox Kennedy, the store No. 81 Murray street, to Warren Ackerman, for $25,000. Mr. Tay, lor has sold for Mr. Platt the store No. 79 Murray street, at figures which have not transpired.

Messrs. McCafferty & Co., of No. 507 Madison avenue, have sold during the past week, the two houses on East Sixty-eighth street, recently described in these columns. Messrs. Timpson & Peet sold for them No. 34 East Sixty-eighth street, to Mr. Bolles for $45,000, and Mr. McCafferty himself sold No. 36 East Sixty-eighth street to Mrs. Martine, for $43,000. During the earlier part of the week, Mrs. E. S. Crank of the same firm sold No. 7 East Fifty-third street, 167 feet east of Fifth avenue (21x55x100), for $35,000, to Mr. A. S. Whiton.

The estate of the late Mrs. Worth at Islip, L. I., has been purchased by H. P. Wood of this city for $20,000.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Sales room for the week ending February 20:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—Much the same general situation is to be noted on the market for common Hard Brick. The advantage is entirely with the selling interest and when any stock can be offered it finds buyers ready to snap it up, and without much resistance to the price asked. Some few arrivals of Haverstraws took place this week and they at once sold for $11 per M and those who secured the offering apparently thinking themselves lucky. Further receipts from Long Island have continued to sell at $11.50 per M and we understand a few Pales came to hand for which buyers were secured at $8.25 per M. Stock from yard in the meantime has been selling readily and with some freedom considering the amount available. Rates obtained were in all cases very high but still variable as in view of the liberal margin on which they are working dealers can afford to make occasional discriminations according to the circumstances under which negotiations transpire. So long as supply and demand stand in the present attitude toward each other, full prices must naturally be sustained, but it may be accepted as a certainty that as soon as adverse influences are removed the offering will increase from such supplies as may be left in the hands of manufacturers and it is intimated that unless the price goes off very materially some of the stock now at primary points under control of city builders will be thrown upon the market. With the exception of the rates above named there is no valuation, and we again omit quotations as simply nominal and useless.

CEMENT.—Rosendale continues to sell with freedom from yard and at full former rates, with stocks reduced. Saylor's Portland meets with full proportion of demand, and the manufacturers have advanced the cost to $2.65@3.00 per bbl. On foreign Portland there is a strong and somewhat buoyant market, in view of the small amounts coming to hand, the good demand for present and future delivery and the continued upward turn on the line of freight charges from abroad.

GLASS.—The market for window glass continues very firm, with a tendency to buoyancy. Manufacturers find themselves constantly beset with orders they are compelled to refuse, in view of contracts under which their product is exhausted about as fast as completed, and this naturally is stimulating. It is, however, difficult to give a quotation in view of the necessarily limited business. Importers are also short on supplies, as about all coming in has either to be delivered on contract or is quickly taken up by buyers standing ready for it, who secure stock first, and ask the price afterward.

HARDWARE.—The general situation is much the same as for some time noted. All kinds of domestic hardware are in good, full demand, with the reports from the interior indicating that most dependent points are short of stocks still, and that calls to replenish are likely to continue without interruption for some time to come. A very fair amount is going out on export account, but against this the imports are steadily increasing, and the indications are that ruling prices will draw a pretty full supply of foreign hardware. Cost here is well maintained, and additions are constantly making, though not quite so extensively as heretofore. The announcements since our last include the following:

The manufacturers of Rules have advanced their prices to discount 55 and 10 per cent. for Boxwood, and 45 and 10 per cent. for Ivory.

The E. D. Clapp Manufacturing Company have issued a revised list for Fifth Wheels, showing an advance of 75c per doz.

At a recent meeting the manufacturers of Sash Weights fixed upon the following advanced rates: Sash Weights, in lots of 500 lbs or more, 2½¢ per lb, net. For all dumb waiter and extra size Sash Weights, ½¢ per lb advance over the above-named price. Terms, net cash, thirty days. Regular standard sizes to run from two to thirty lbs.

The Stanley Rule & Level Co. have issued a new discount sheet, changing all goods that were formerly quoted 25 ¢ cent discount to 20 ¢ cent.

The New England and Ohio Butt Co.'s have revised their quotations for Cast Butts. Clark's Loose Pin Butts have been advanced to 25 ¢ per cent. The E. D. Clapp Mfg. Co. have advanced Fifth Wheels 75 cents ¢ doz.

Sargent & Co. have advanced Bailey's Plane and Plane Irons to discount 20 ¢ 10 ¢ cent, Jack Chain has advanced to 40 ¢ 10 ¢ cent, discount for Iron and 30 ¢ 10 ¢ for brass. Safety Chain has been placed at 30 ¢ 10 ¢ cent, discount. Japanned Screws are quoted 20 ¢ 10 ¢ cent, discount—before 25 ¢ 10 ¢.

The Nicholson Co.'s Files have been advanced to discount 20 per cent. N. R. Ostrander's Patented Speaking Tube Whistles have the following addition to list: Beveled Speaking Tube Whistle, No. 152, Whistle with Indicator, Nicked, $12 per doz; do 153, do without do, do $11 do; do 154, do with do, do

Bronze, $24 do; do 155, do do do, Gold Bronze, $24 do; do 155½, Nickled Roses for No. 152 and 153, $1.20 do; New Flanged Design Whistle, with Fast Rosette, No. 156, Whistle with Indicator, Nickled, $12 per doz; do 157, do without do, do, $11 do; The Round Whistle, Heavy Porcelain Mouthpiece and Japanned Body, No. 158, Whistle with Indicator, Japanned, $5 per doz; do 159, do without do, do, $4 do.

The manufacturers will, on March 1st, advance the price of Bonney's Hollow Auger to list $48 per doz., discount 25 and 10 per cent, and Bonney's Spoke Trimmers, list $10 per doz, discount 40 and 5 per cent. There is an advance in the price of Gem Door Springs to net list; Star Door Springs to 20 per cent discount, and Domestic Blind Adjusters to 5 per cent, discount.

LATH.—The market has remained quiet and more or less nominal. One sale, it is said, was made from first hands at $2.75 per M., and this is certainly the rate pretty much all receivers expect, and some talk even higher, but in view of the limited amount of business made public, it is best to accept quotations, cum grana salis, until the test of larger operations is obtained. A cargo here, and a buyer anxious or determined to have it would result in a very high figure, but there is the possibility that demand may have become checked by the cost, and that unusual efforts to get stock forward may bring forward a larger simultaneous arrival than generally calculated upon. We hear very irregular quotations for yard rates, and some about as low as the supposed cargo value.

LIME.—The market has remained firm and demand good enough to have exhausted much greater amounts of stocks were they within reach. There appears to be a very general expectation that a considerable further addition to cost will be made before spring.

LUMBER.—Our local wholesale market for immediate delivery is, to a large extent, nominal, owing to the limited supply, and, in most cases, entire absence of supply in first hands. Dealers have an idea of what they could obtain and, in some cases, the idea is a remarkably full one as the demand not only exists for a considerable amount of stock but buyers are anxious enough to compete sharply were they offered the opportunity. The same condition of affairs prevails to some extent on future deliveries, a very large proportion of the manufacturers refusing for a time to name a rate until they can see their way clear on orders already in hand. In fact, everything continues promising for a brilliant opening of the spring trade, and the market is strong and cheerful throughout. As noted in our last, there is an element of conservatism extant which gives currency to the view that the gain already made in price is all that can fairly be expected by manufacturers through legitimate stimulants, but not many are willing to predict any material reaction, nor do we think any would miss the opportunity to purchase a desirable offering under the expectation that holding off would give them better terms. Bonded stock is selling freely for export at extreme rates.

Spruce, so far as it has a market, is firm. Scarcely anything in the way of a random offering, however, can be depended upon for some time to come as transportation facilities are scarce and high and most of the room available is wanted to bring forward stuff on contracts. About $16.50@18, however, continues to be named as possible rates and, indeed, about as low as manufacturers could be induced to forward against, as they can do quite as well on foreign orders. We have seen letters this week from Calais, Me., reporting sales of many hundred standard of deals for the English market at prices proportionately as high as the above, while the sizes were such as would be considered long at delivery on this market. Specials are quoted at about $18@20, with buyers more anxious to close contracts than manufacturers or their agents.

Hemlock commences to take a rather more important position upon the list, and is said to have sold with considerable freedom on contract for future delivery, as well as to the full extent of the near-by offering. Quotations range at about $13.50@14.50 per M.

White Pine has not greatly changed except that rates are in a few cases a trifle better. On home account, the movement is good, unusually so for the season, and the export keeps up to a volume beyond the expectations of the most sanguine, causing a steady reduction of stock and a corresponding strengthening of the position of holders. In fact, dealers now calculate upon selling every foot of shipping quality before they can reach supplies to replenish. We quote at $17@18 per M. for West India shipping boards; $22@25 for South American do.; $16.50@17 for box boards; $17.50@18 for do, wide and sound, do.

Yellow Pine continues in demand and very firm, with a possibility that our figures are too low, if anything, but as business is almost at a stand still for want of an offering, all quotations will have to be accepted as nominal for the present. Buyers are to be found for delivery here or at depended points in goodly number, and also for cargoes to be shipped direct from place of production, but as with other classes of lumber, the full capacity of the mills is said to be engaged so far ahead as to preclude the acceptance of further orders for a time. Manufacturers, too, expect their product to be wanted to make good the shortage on other kinds of lumber and a "boom" for Yellow Pine is predicted with confidence. We quote random cargoes at about $21.00@22.00 per M; ordered cargoes, $23.00@4.00 do. reed flooring boards $20.00@21.00

Cargoes at the South $13@14.50 per M. for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Atlantic ports; $12.75@14 for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Gulf ports; hewed timber, $8.50@14.

Hardwoods continue in demand, and when offered command extreme rates. Supplies, however, are small and business limited. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $3@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $31@35; do. do. culls $18@20 do; cherry, $45@75 do; white wood, 1/2 and 3/4 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $43@45 do; hickory, $35@45 do, for Western, and $63@75 for good nearby stock.

Shingles are firm and sell fairly. The export movement is cultivated to the greatest extent at this season, but there is an occasional opening on home account, especially for cedar. We quote Cypress at about $6 for saps, and $8.50@9 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $4 for 18-inch, and Eastern saw grades at $2.50@4.50 for 16 inch as to quality and quantity. Machine dressed cedar singles quoted as follows: For 30 inch $16@22.25 for A and $28.75@33.25 for No. 1; for 24-inch, $6.50@16 for A and $16.7@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch, $5@10.50 for A and $11.25@15.75 for No. 1.

Yard trade has been good at all times and in many cases very free, with a steady weekly reduction of stock on the more desirable styles. This, and the situation of the wholesale market supports and stimulates values all around.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Swe. barque, 598 tons, from Pensacola to a direct port United Kingdom, hewn timber, 36s., sawn timber, £5 12s. 6d., and deals, £5 10s.; a Nor. barque, 654 tons, from Doboy to the United Kingdom, sawn timber, $5 10s., and hewn 33s. 6d.; a Nor. barque, 617 tons, from Doboy to Cork and United Kingdom, sawn timber, £5 10s., and hewn 36s., direct port 2s. 6d. off; a Br. barque, 522 tons, from Doboy to the United Kingdom, hewn timber, 33s. 6d.; a Br. barque, 567 tons, from Portland to Liverpool or the Clyde, timber, private terms; a Br. barque, 1137 tons, from St. John, N. B., to Liverpool, Bristol or Glasgow, deals, 52s. 6d.; a Br. barque, 623 tons, from St. John, N. B., to Limerick, deals, 55s.; two schrs., 108 tons and 149 tons, from Pisarinco, N. B., to New York, spiling, 34c. 3/4 foot; a schr., 150 tons, from Wilmington to Point-a-Petre, lumber, $6; a brig, 335 tons, from Pensacola to Santos, lumber, 20 net; a barque, 250 M lumber, from Brunswick to Port Spain, $8; a brig, 350 M lumber, from Pensacola to New Haven, $8.50; a schr., 200 M lumber, from Brunswick to Philadelphia, $6.62 1/2; a schr., 165 M lumber, from Mobile to New York, $5.50; a schr., 125 tons, hence to Jacksonville and back with lumber, about $9.50 for the round; a schr., 275 M lumber, from Savannah to New York, $6.50; two schrs., 300 M lumber each, from Apalachicola to Philadelphia, $8.75; a schr., 200 M lumber, from Brunswick to New York, $7.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office,

BAY CITY, February 17, 1880.

There is not much to be said of the market different from what has been noted for the past month. The advantage is on the side of the manufacturers and holders of lumber. The stock now on the docks can only be touched at outside figures, and no great desire is manifested to contract next season's cut, except when figures are offered which are sure to cover future possibilities. The stock on the market is steadily decreasing and the common reply to the query, "Are you selling any lumber Mr. A?" is "I have none to sell, sir." The warm weather prevailing must put an end to logging operations and result in disaster to jobbers and revive the conundrum, will there be logs enough for next season's cut? Sales are made at quotations, but mostly comprise stock to be cut. The improvement in shingles continues and an active inquiry pervades the market.

We continue quotations as before:

The following from the Northwestern Lumberman:

CHICAGO, February 12, 1880.

Under the influence of the colder and more settled weather of the past week, the indications are, as a whole, materially improved. Some prominent dealers report 10 per cent. more trade than in the corresponding week of last year, notwithstanding the cut railroad rates which then formed so great an incentive to retail buyers to stock up their yards. Others report trade "full an average," others "beyond our expectations," others "fair," but in no case have we found a dealer who did not express himself as fully satisfied with its present volume and future prospects. Values are evidently advancing, although no advance is noted in the lists. One house which sold 100,000 feet of fencing at $14, afterwards paid $14.50 for 80,000 feet, and offered the same price for 400,000 more, which was declined. Small timber, of sizes which were held at $12 three weeks ago among dealers, is now quick at $12.50 in the interchange among themselves, and certain sizes have sold at $13, and are in demand at that price. The general impression among the trade is that until the green stock of the spring cut begins to arrive, and, probably, until August, prices will be firm, with an advancing tendency. With the exhaustion of dry stock, green lumber, which must be held for seasoning, will probably drop off somewhat, but as it reaches marketable condition will regain its firmness, and the closing part of the season will witness a range of prices probably higher than those now prevailing. This we give simply as the surmise of those best qualified to judge of the prospects of the future. The railroads are consuming large quantities of lumber, one road having purchased $14,000 worth within the past two weeks for its own use in Nebraska.

The news from the logging districts is favorable for a crop of logs fully equal to the stock of last year; that it will be in excess is hardly to be apprehended. As we have often stated, there are but few streams which can materially increase their boomage capacity over last season were the winter prospects favorable for an increased supply, which is not at this date the case. The expense of logging has considerably increased in many, and, probably, in a majority, of the logging districts above the legitimate advance which has occurred in supplies. While it is true that sprinkled roads can be utilized in the absence of snow, to a great extent, the operation involves a great amount of labor in requiring a more elaborate grading of the road, while the work of skidding from the stump to the road cannot be assisted by the sprinkling process. With warm days, hauling upon these artificial roads is greatly impeded, and night work is necessarily increased, while the expense multiplies, and the amount of work performed is materially lessened.

The transportation facilities from the mills to the market will be materially lessened the coming season by the withdrawal of a large number of vessels, hitherto relied upon, which are already chartered for the iron trade, while little or no aid can be expected from the better grade of vessels so long as the present accumulations of grain shall furnish them with cargoes for trips to Buffalo and other lower lake ports. The amount of lumber which this class of vessels will transport on return trips will form but a small proportion of the accumulations to be moved. We sum up the markets of the week with the assertion that trade is good. Prices are firm with an advancing tendency noted on all grades, and the outlook for the season is all that the most sanguine can expect. From the country, reports are of the most encouraging character, indicating a larger consumption than in any former year.

Looking at the future, it is evident that the era of low prices cannot again be reasonably expected to return. The demand for lumber will no doubt continue for a couple of years, affording fair remuneration to all who operate in it. After that the question of stumpage will fully control the market. The lumbermen, being out of debt and forehanded, will naturally decline to part with their pine without a reasonable remuneration. Already we hear of stumpage on the Menominee River advancing to $2.50 and $3, while on the Manistee, lands which were held but a year or two since at $1.50 and $2 stumpage, are now held firm at $4 and $5, and sales are not infrequent at these rates. With an increased cost of the standing timber, and its greater concentration in the hands of those able to hold it, there can be no doubt that the policy of refusing to put it on the market, except at remunerative prices, will largely increase with each year. Without endeavoring either to bull or to bear the market a careful examination of all points entering as factors to determine the future of the trade must, we think, convince the candid reader of the correctness of our conclusions. That the demand is yearly increasing with the growth and development of the country, especially those portions which possess no timber resources in themselves, is true, and while there is no present danger of a famine, every candid mind will acknowledge that the limit of supply will at no very distant day be reached. The fact that in the Saginaw tributaries logs as small as six inches in diameter are no longer rejected by many lumbermen is a most suggestive subject for consideration.

THE PROVINCES.

The Toronto Monetary Times and Trade Review has the following on Canadian lumber and timber.

The prospect is brightening for our lumber interests. During the last week of January and the first week of this month, there have been an unusual number of American buyers in Ottawa, brought thither, no doubt, by the "jump" in prices of Michigan woods; and 2,000,000 feet were sold in the last week of January. At Quebec, one firm has sold both its old and new stocks of deals, 15 vessel loads; and another concerns expects to load 25 to 30 vessels. Messrs. Gilmour & Co.'s prices at a recent large sale were reported to be $104, $63 and $37.50 for 1st, 2d and 3d quality, respectively. The indications are that our deals will go more largely to Britain than the United States this year. The increase in rates of charter for the early Spring timber fleet is as 70s against 6s last season, and, according to the Chronicle, a number of vessels have been chartered in England at the former figure. From New Brunswick, we learn that the lumber exports thence to European ports last month were four times as large as in January, 1879. Bristol, Penarth and Liverpool taking the largest quantity of deals, but London, Glasgow, Queenstown and Liverpool all the timber. An indication of the demand may be found in a sale of inferior lumber, made within the week on the Northern Railway at $13 per thousand, which, in December last would scarcely have brought $8. And on the Ottawa, we are told, from $21 to $24 is being got this week for merchantable sidings. These are some of the indications of revival which are as welcome as they are novel.

With a view of learning what stocks were held in Canada, and on what scale operations were being conducted this winter, we began correspondence at the close of last year, with lumber operators from Lakes Huron and Erie, to the Baie des Chaleurs. While we have not heard fully from them all, the figures and opinions given by the sixty or seventy who replied to our circular enable us to form a tolerable approximation to the actual cut.

Beginning with the Western peninsula of Ontario, where but little pine timber remains, we note what is doing in various woods. Some 2,000,000 feet of white ash, white oak, sycamore and balsam were intended to be got out in Essex; the soft weather has, probably, curtailed operations. On the Au Sauble River, (Bruce), 1,000,000 feet; at Buckhorn, (Kent), 500,000 feet ash, oak, maple, sycamore, &c. On Bear Creek, square white oak, rock elm and staves; out of Greenock swamp, (at Mitchell & Newry), 3,000,000 feet of lumber are expected; in Oxford and Norfolk Cos., (Tilson, McKnight, McColl), 21,000,000; Ancaster, (Thompson) 1,000,000, which quantity, of 25,500,000 or say at most 30,000,000 feet, probably represents the cut of the peninsula west of the County of Simcoe, if indeed, this quantity be not lessened by the lack of snow thus far. In the Muskoka District, we learn, so despondent were a number of the operators, on account of the open weather, that some of the camps have been broken up, and operations abandoned for the season. Notwithstanding this, the cut this season is expected to be larger than last. Operations on the Georgian Bay are expected to be about as large as last year. In the Ottawa District, with colder weather, lumbering has been actively carried on.

There is intended to be got out during the present lumbering season the following quantities of lumber at the following points: Feet, board measure—Total for Georgian Bay, 149,000,000 feet; total for Muskoka district, &c., 113,500,000 feet; total for Midland district, 50,500,000 feet; Ottawa River and tributaries, 280,000,000 feet; other points, 91,500,000; total Ontario and Quebec, 684,500,000 feet. If to this 684,000,000 feet we add the cut of New Brunswick, 80,000,000, we have 1,064,000,000 feet as the total of the Dominion.

The cut of New Brunswick is estimated to be larger this season than last. One authority places the quantity of deals and boards to be got out at 370,000,000 feet, another more nearly 400,000,000. Expected shipments from that province are distributed as follows:

	Feet.
St. John.....	200,000,000
Miramichi River.....	100,000,000
Baie de Chaleur.....	30,000,000
Shediac, Richibucto, &c.....	30,000,000
St. Croix River.....	20,000,000
Total.....	380,000,000

We note that the quantity wintered at Miramichi was, at the close of 1879, 11,000,000 superficial feet in the log and 41,000,000 feet sawn stock, against 12,000,000 in logs and 35,000,000 sawn in 1878, and 14,000,000 in log and 25,000,000 sawn at close of 1877.

The shipments from all New Brunswick ports were as under of deals in the years named:

	Feet.
1878—Deals shipped.....	348,166,000
1879— ".....	327,338,000

And in 1877 there were from St. John, Miramichi and Richibucto, without other points, as much as 388,279,000 feet, showing that the decline of the two latter years was considerable.

FOREIGN.

The Timber Trade's Journal has the following:

GLASGOW.

With the exception of a cargo American Birch Timber brought here coastwise, consigned to Messrs. Edmiston & Mitchell, there are no imports to report at this time.

On Thursday, Messrs. Edmiston & Mitchell held a public sale of American timber at Greenock. There was a good attendance, and fair prices were obtained.

Of course the limited stocks on hand at present, especially of the best timber, and the length of time likely to elapse before fresh cargoes can be imported, inclines the seller to hold rather than dispose freely at unsatisfactory rates.

ABERDEEN.

Messrs. Neil Smith, Jr., & Co., held a sale on Saturday last when there were exposed 14,000 cubic feet waney and square pine, 4,000 feet deck wood and beam fittings, also oak, elm, birch, pitch pine and Michigan pine deals. There was a large attendance of buyers, and prices realized were considerably in advance of some former sales. We quote the following as an average: waney pine, from 2s. 6d. to 3s. 2d., deck wood from 1s. 6d. to 1s. 11d.; pine deals, about 3s. 6d.; pitch pine, about 1s. 7d. per cubic foot.

The London Timber Trade's Journal has the following on the Australian timber market.

From advices received by the last Australian mail, we learn that the stock of timber at Melbourne is very heavy, and that prices are not likely to improve for some time to come. Stocks have been added to by an arrival of Oregon timber per William Mudgett; but as yet it has not been offered at auction. Rough Oregon, in large parcels, is worth about 11s. 6d. to 12s.; flooring t & g, 6x1, sells up to 19s.

Sydney reports the timber trade unusually dull, the market continuing to be overstocked with Oregon timber and redwood. Cedar, in log; trade excessively dull. One fine lot from Cape Byron sold at 17s. market value from 10s. to 18s. per 100 ft. superficial. Queensland cedar, in log; no business doing it is quoted at 21s. per 100 ft. superficial, girth measurement. Pine, in log; shipments continue to arrive, several sales have been made at the current rate, 7s. 3d. per 100 ft. superficial, very little demand and prices will gradually decline. Hardwood, in log, from the Clyde and southern ports; very little demand at 6s. 6d. per 100 ft. superficial; hardwood, in cargoes, sawn and assorted; there is little demand from southern at 8s. to 9s. per 100 ft. superficial. At Adelaide we note that the cargo ex "Gevalia" from the Baltic was sold by auction at from 3½d. to 3¼d. as 9x3. Since then a cargo has been placed privately to arrive at 3¼d. as 9x3. Flooring-boards are without any material alteration. The cargo of Oregon ex "Lady Bowen" was offered publicly, but only a portion was disposed of at market rates. Cedar is firm, but there is not much doing. We append particulars of the auctions which have come to hand:—Messrs. Maurice Salom & Co. have sold at Port Adelaide the entire cargo of the "Gevalia," from Ljusne (Baltic), consisting of 12,930 redwood deals, planks and battens assorted—9x2, 9x3, 9x4, 8x3 and 7x3, 11x3, and 11x4, for Mr. Thomas Graves, at from 3½d. to 3¼d. per foot as 9x3; also for Messrs. Stilling & Co., portion of the cargo of Oregon timber ex "T. J. Southard," at 1s. 8d. to 1s. 9d. per cube.

NAILES.—Business still appears to be somewhat behind the calculations of many dealers, buyers moving with much caution and very rarely in excess of early and well-known wants. This, no doubt, is the result of the full cost of goods. Stocks, however, remain under perfect control and the product under careful adjustment to the requirements of the market and holders are very firm at full former rates. We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $5.25; 8d and 9d, common do. per keg, $5.50; 6d and 7d, common do. per keg, $5.75; 4d and 5d, common do. per keg, $6.00; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $6.75; 3d, fine, per keg, $7.50; 2d per keg, $7.50.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $5.75. Floor casing and box, $6.00 to $6.75. Finishing, $6.25 to $7.25.

CLINCH NAILS.

1¼ to 1½ in. 2 & 2½ in. 2½ & 3¼ in. 3 in. & longer.
$7.75 to $7.85 $7.25 $7.00 $6.75 per keg.

PITCH.—Stocks not very large, but kept full enough to meet the calls, with a small margin to spare. Prices about as before and ruling steady. We quote at $2.00 to $2.12½ per bbl. for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—No call for consumption and domes it continues about as usual, and sellers secure a fair margin over the wholesale cost. From first hands stock have had an irregular movement, but as a rule were held well up on cost, with a further advance recently asked. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about $45 to $46 per gallon, according to the quantity of the stock handled.

TAR.—A moderately active jobbing trade has been done and in some cases at a slight advance. The wholesale market without much animation and the tone on values unsettled, though slightly tending to weakness. We quote at $2.72 to $2.74 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2.42 to $2.44 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

OILS.—The market undergoes no great change. A fair average distribution of jobbing parcels takes place and prices rule about steady, while in a wholesale way there is some little irregularity, but mostly in an ordinary form. Linseed oil quoted at 80 to 85c. from crushers hands.

PAINTS.—Demand is good and improving. Considerable amounts of stock are wanted on local account and for near-by dependent points, while from the interior there is a steady growth of orders, with indications that the spring trade will be good. Stocks are ample for all present calls, but compact enough to remain under good control, and holders ideas on value are full and strong, with a slight inclination to buoyancy in some cases.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

DIRECTORY OF

RELIABLE REAL ESTATE AGENTS.

We have carefully investigated the responsibility of all Real Estate Agents named in this Directory, and find them to be in every way competent and responsible. We therefore recommend them to capitalists and real estate operators generally as being the best agents to be secured in their respective section, as shown by letters from prominent business firms, which may be seen at the office of the REAL ESTATE RECORD.

THE RECORD FOR 1880.

THE REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS' GUIDE, published at 135 and 137 Broadway, enters with the New Year upon its twenty-fifth volume, a fact which alone justifies the estimation in which it is held by investors, capitalists, builders and dealers generally.

Without desiring at all to boast of the safe guide THE RECORD has been to investors in realty during the depression now happily passed, we are safe to say, and challenge contradiction on the subject, that of all the publications in New York City, THE REAL ESTATE RECORD has been the only journal that comprehended the financial situation, and warned its readers against coming disasters in 1872 and 1873, and again encouraged them to renewed enterprise when the dark clouds began to disperse.

Having received ample support and praise for our work from those whose praise is worth having, THE RECORD enters upon the new year with a full determination to pursue the same untrammelled course it has followed in the past, speaking the truth on all matters affecting realty and the growth of our city and suburbs. The year 1880 will probably see the inauguration of active building operations on the too long neglected West Side, and also along the upper portions, particularly the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards. How to build and where to build are questions not only affecting owners but also architects, builders and, in fact, mechanics generally. To all of these THE RECORD will be a necessary adjunct to their labors, as its columns will carefully reflect all that is going on toward building up that section.

No business man, however, who cares at all to be up to the spirit and enterprise of the times in which he lives, should be without it, as it furnishes regularly every Saturday the following information:

- First—All the Chattel Mortgages filed in New York, Kings, Dutchess and Schoharie counties and New Jersey.
- Second—All the Judgments docketed in New York and New Jersey.
- Third—All the Real Estate Mortgages recorded in New York and New Jersey.
- Fourth—All the Real Estate Conveyances in the same places.
- Fifth—All the Foreclosure Suits against real estate in New York and Brooklyn.
- Sixth—A complete list of all the property to be sold from week to week under legal proceedings.
- Seventh—A complete review of the real estate and building material markets.
- Eight—General editorial articles on all matters affecting property in New York and the suburbs.
- Ninth—A complete record of all the Satisfied Judgments.
- Tenth—A list of all property affected by assessments and a notification of the time the assessment is handed in to the Collector.
- Eleventh—The proceedings of the Common Council affecting real estate.
- Twelfth—A complete record of all new buildings projected in New York City or Brooklyn, together with the name of the owner, architect and builder.

MARKET QUOTATIONS.

C. W. SWEET,

Nos. 135 AND 137 BROADWAY

THE RIVERSIDE AVENUE.

We have taken some pains to get an answer to the question often asked, whether the contractors on the Riverside avenue are authorized to keep up barriers to exclude carriages from the avenue, and we find they are not.

The terms of the contract provide that the work shall be completed within twelve months from the date of the contract, and this time expired years ago. There is no provision in the contract giving the contractors any authority to keep exclusive possession of the work.

Under these circumstances, the city ordinances apply to this case (Rev. Ord. 1866, ch. 14, p. 227-230). These ordinances provide that until a pavement is finished and fit for use, passage may be obstructed for the space of one block at a time, and for not over two days after the street is finished.

Any person who wishes to drive over this Riverside avenue may approach it, and, if his passage is obstructed, he may have an arrest of the person who obstructs him have a determination of the legal question, which would settle it for all other passengers; or, a similar result might be obtained by making a complaint to the Chief of the Bureau of Obstructions, who would have power to remove the barriers.

THE SITUATION REVIEWED.

The general outlook for the business of the country continues satisfactory. We are not likely to see this year so marked an advance in prices as was witnessed last year. In the Stock Exchange, especially, the year 1879 will be memorable for the great advance in market values which occurred in the Western and South-western stocks. The history of Iron Mountain, Kansas Pacific, Missouri, Kansas & Texas, Atchison, & Santa Fe and, nearer home, the coal stocks, is not likely to be repeated this year. There has been a levelling up of market values to a point which some operators regard as dangerous, but which clearly cannot be duplicated in the stock market, at least, during the present year. No doubt there are bargains yet for those who are on the inside in the stocks and bonds of the roads so far neglected, for, as we have repeatedly pointed out, the process is going on continuously by which the minor roads are all being taken into the transportation system of the country. Even the express stocks and the palace car stocks have felt the "boom," and Pullman, for instance, which at one time sold below 80 is now in demand at 120. There has been no actual consolidation of the palace car companies, but it is inevitable that it will take place during the course of the coming year.

Nor is it likely that any such advance in prices as has been witnessed in the iron trade will be repeated this year in any one department of industry. The change from extreme depression to great hopefulness has made the history of the iron trade during the past year phenomenal. But gradually the movement is extending into other departments of commercial business. Stocks always feel the first flush of excitement, then the general merchandise of the country and finally land and labor. It is evident that there has been so great an enhancement of values that the retail dealers have been putting up their prices. This, with the increased demand for labor, has led to a movement among the working classes for better compensation, and not a journal can be taken up without some notice of strikes and efforts by workmen to advance the market value of their labor. For every such case which gets into the press, there are thousands where the employers have voluntarily advanced wages. It must be borne in mind that there can be no real or permanent revival in business until the spending classes, the millions who labor, are in receipt of better wages. However much individual employers may deplore the necessity of increasing the compensation of their working people it must be remembered that it is the small dealers and stores which are the little streamlets which finally feed the great tides of commerce. It was the drying up of these little rivulets, the cutting down the wages of the operators, which gave us the dull times from 1873 to 1878.

The better feeling in all parts of the community comes from two sources. The rich have become richer, the stocks and evidences of debt in their possession have very greatly increased in value during the last year and a half. This makes them feel not only like living better but gives a reason for new enterprises, which did not exist before resumption. Every land owner who has had five to ten dollars per acre added to the market price of his possessions, every holder of Western or Eastern railway shares, which have doubled in value during the past year, all persons interested in iron mines, mineral properties, etc., feel so much better off that they do not hesitate to engage in new businesses and are more liberal with their employees. Thus, the great capitalist class have been stimulated to increase their ventures, to take new risks, to build houses, open factories, project extensive improvements because of the assurance that there was a margin of profit in every useful business that could be entered upon. This feeling among the wealthy class has reacted upon the working people. They have had abundant employment and better wages. The money they have received has been spent for clothing and personal comforts, and this has been felt through all the channels of trade. There are fewer idle people to support; there are more active workers; there are greater profits in business, and hence we may expect for some time to come that there will be increasing demands insuring better wages for the working classes, to which the employers will be forced to respond, to their own ultimate benefit as a class.

We will see a great deal of railroad building this year, especially west of the Mississippi. It will be particularly active in the mining regions of this country. Before the close of the year 1881 there will undoubtedly be three more lines to the Pacific, one on the thirty-fifth parallel and another running through Texas to El Paso and connecting with the Southern Pacific Road. By that time, also, the Northern Pacific Road will be almost built so as to connect Lake Superior with Puget Sound. This will give four trans-continental railways, and the only question is whether there will not be some crippling of enterprise in the East due to the heavy demands made from building up the region between the Rocky Mountains and the Sierra Nevada. What, with new mines, new railways and other permanent improvements, there will be an immense absorption of floating into fixed capital west of the Missouri River.

We are also entering upon a debt creating period. From 1870 to 1878 was the period of liquidation when we stopped all enterprises in in order to pay our debts. But large as the paper money debts were found to be in 1873, and which it cost so much distress to liquidate, we judge that the debts to be piled up within the coming seven years will be much larger in amount. We now have telegraphs and gigantic corporate enterprises under way, which will call for immense sums of money that can be far more readily obtained now than in any former period in our history. Of course, this means that when the time comes there will be another crash. Indeed, a panic in Anglo-Saxon communities simply means a period of liquidation. The most consistent theory of our periodical panics is that while the natural increase of wealth in any community is not more than two and a quarter per cent. per annum, the interest asked for money, in this country is between six and fifteen per cent. It follows that the debts created by the high rate of interest as compared with the low rate of the addition to our wealth piles up an indebtedness which can only be settled by its repudiation and this brings about what are known as commercial panics. France has no such panics, because the Frenchman does not incur debts. England and the United States have them periodically, because we discount the future and take upon ourselves indebtedness which some time will have to be repudiated. Last year we began to get into debt. This year we will add very largely to our obligations, but there is no danger of a crash for several years to come. The increase in obligations will be probably more rapid than of old, due to the greater rapidity with which combinations of capital can be brought about, and hence we do not think that the crisis can be prolonged as it was in the paper money era. But there is no danger this year, nor next year, nor probably the year after. Everybody in the country will be at work, everybody will apparently make money and of course everybody will be happy. As land and labor are the last to fall in value, so land and labor will be the last to rise in value. The labor strikes we have seen show that the movement has reached the working classes and the evidences are everywhere becoming plain that land will soon rise largely in price all over the United States. This will be caused by the natural increase of our population as well as by the additions daily made to our currency.

There is one indication, which must not be overlooked. Our imports are increasing very largely while our exports are stationary. The flood of gold from abroad has ceased for the present, at least, and it is very unlikely that it will be renewed on any such scale as we had last year. There will be no eighty million dollars come to this country from Europe. If we hold our own and add a hundred millions from the product of our own mines we will do exceedingly well. Indeed, the probabilities are that the drain of gold from here back to Europe will soon commence, for from all accounts the importations this coming spring will be unusually heavy. Then we can hardly expect to have any such crops during the year 1880 as we had in 1878 and 1879. Nature is not always so bountiful. She is apt to be niggardly after being so liberal, and we look for a large falling off in our food exportation during the Fall of this year and the spring of next year.

One of the probabilities of the future also is war in Europe. The nations of the Old World are a series of vast camps. The energy and activity of the various nations are concentrated upon their gigantic armaments. With such an array of officers, eager for promotion, with the machine all ready for operation it should not take anybody by surprise when the troops are set in motion. Indeed, war is sometimes preferable to peace with its heavy expenditures for standing armies, but war abroad means additional business for the United States. It may involve giving us back our commerce. It certainly will largely stimulate many of our manufactures and give us a growing market for our provisions. Its effect upon stocks at first will probably be depressing. The securities which are now being so liberally bought would probably be returned to us and this would depress the stock market. But deplorable as war is, if one should break out this year between Germany and Russia, in which France might take a part, then we may expect to see the present booming times, in this country at least, continue until the war was over. So looking over the whole field, both actual and prospective, it is clear that while there may not be the same excitement in the stock market, the year 1880 will be even more prosperous in all branches of business than was 1879.

AN OLD-TIMER ON VALUES.

Mr. Griffith Rowe, now a Nestor in the real estate market, is nevertheless, not one of those who are anxious to wipe out the past. He likes to talk of times gone by, of scenes and incidents that attracted his attention and stimulated his ambition when he was still a youngster. Now that he has reached near the three score and ten allotted to a real estate man, as well as any other man, and after he has gone through the last panic with his honor untarnished, though with a reduced bank account, it was a real pleasure to hear the old gentleman talk of past experiences, and to note his prognostications as to the future. Mr. Rowe drew an imaginary map of Manhattan Island when the writer was talking to him, and after he had thoroughly impressed his listener with the important results which must follow this shape of the Island, he said: "I am now about 69 years old, and yet I remember that in 1820 three hundred dollars per acre was considered quite a price for Broadway, Eighteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-first street property. Real estate in that section was divided at that time in ten acre plots, and yet at that time we could look from Broadway clear over to the Eighth avenue. I remember when John Edwards bought from the Varian estate about thirty acres and we used to go out sleigh-riding to Twenty-first street, then called Lover's lane, where there was a grand headquarters known as Robinson's. Many a morning we used to stand there and listen to the morning gun which was fired every day in what is now called Madison Park."

"All these reminiscences are very interesting Mr. Rowe, but what lessons do you draw from them to guide people in their investments of to-day?" asked the writer.

"Well," said Mr. Rowe, "New York at that time had only about 100,000 population. It is a queer shaped city, and if we believe in the census about to be made, we'll find that it has over a million, probably a million and a quarter of inhabitants. These people have to live somewhere. True, we are getting more wealth poured into our city. But why should all this wealth go west of the Central Park? Is there room for them there? That is the question. Our people have traveled by this time. They have seen London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna, and if they have any money to expend on palatial residences, they want to expand. Where can they do so? Now let us look at it. New York, while east of the Central Park it is 5,000 feet to the East River, is only 3,200 feet wide west of the Park to the Hudson River. There you find already now any number of slaughter-houses, factories, gas-houses, planing mills, and, last but not least, Mr. Vanderbilt's elevators and freight houses. There is not room enough there for a large number of wealthy investors, who require more than ordinary twenty-five foot lots to build their grand residences upon. I do not want to deprecate the values on the West Side, let those who own property sell to the very best advantage, but I do not see how for a permanent investment rich people will go there. The whole section is too contracted, and aside of the gas-houses and factories it is too near the great shipping interest which is sure to settle down there, whatever they may talk or do about the Harlem and East Rivers. There is virtually a valley west of the Eighth avenue, but going further up I must change my views. I think from One Hundred and Tenth street, upward toward the Fort Washington region, there will be a fine future and ample room for grand residences, but the question is whether our present generation will invest there to an extent so as to make a "boom" there. The property, for instance, that is shortly to be sold on what is known as the Carman estate will bring good prices, and everything invested therein will ultimately realize handsome profits. It is that upper section which is going to be occupied with handsome and extensive residences, and not the lower part of the extreme West Side. As to the line of the Fifth avenue, it is as nearly central as anything can be, through the heart of Manhattan Island. It has had its ups and downs, but now is permanently settled and will remain the heart of New York."

NEW YORK AS A SCIENTIFIC CENTRE.

Prof. J. S. Newberry, at the last meeting of the Academy of Sciences, spoke with much bitterness of the want of interest shown in scientific matters by the principal citizens of the metropolis. After an experience of fifteen years, he reluctantly had come to the conclusion that New York was a city for business or pleasure, but that science had but few votaries within its limits.

There probably is some truth in the complaint of Prof. Newberry. New York, so far, has been a better city for trade and pleasure than for science, literature or art. We may as well realize first as last, that unless this city becomes the scientific centre of the country, it cannot maintain its place as the metropolis. A business mart or a pleasure resort can never alone make a great city. The capitols of the world have been made so because they were the headquarters of kings and courts. The seaport commercial cities are never the capitols. New York is the only instance on the globe of a seaport being also the principal city of a great nation. Paris is a vast pleasure resort, but this is not what made it a great city. It is the seat of empire, the home of art, the headquarters for the literature and the science of all France, and it is this which makes it the metropolis of Western Europe. If people interested in the realty of this city understood their true interests they would encourage the establishment of an immense polytechnic school, such as that in Paris. Our School of Mines is very well in its way, so are Columbia and New York colleges and the University on Washington square. We have, at least, two fine medical schools, but we have no college for young women, no scientific schools worthy the name, nor is the city conspicuous for the aid it gives to science applied to the industrial arts. It is in this direction we must grow, if we would keep up our prestige with the world. We submit this matter to those who are interested in the future glory of the metropolis.

MINING VENTURES.

All our intelligent readers must have noticed the steady growth of the mining fever. Nearly every one has made a venture in some speculative property west of the Missouri River, many of which have been the reverse of profitable. Our leading Broadway hotels are fairly thronged with adventurers who have mines to sell or shares to peddle. The transactions of the Stock Exchange and Mining Board give but a faint idea of the large sums of moneys which is going into this now popular industry. We warn investors not to be in too much of a hurry to take stock in mining companies. No description of property is so deceptive as are mines, and from what we hear, we are led to believe that there will shortly be made known facts which will injure the reputation of the now famous Leadville region. These silver deposits have been so easily worked and have yielded such large returns that the promoters have been able to put them on the market at very high figures. But it seems these deposits are not permanent. A number of these "horizontal" veins have already been worked out and others are on the point of exhaustion. It is rumors such as these that has broken down Little Pittsburg from thirty-three to under twenty.

A great many mines have been sold in New York, the stock distributed and everything got in readiness for presenting them to the public. It is very certain that when these securities come to be marketed they will fall off in value. We expect, indeed, to see something of a panic in mining circles before the summer arrives, and that, too, in the so-called best class of stocks, those which are held, as yet, in first hands.

We would not be understood as deprecating mining as an industry. The money now being invested will no doubt, in time, return a handsome interest, but there will be many cruel disappointments. The best way to work mines is by private persons associating, employing competent experts and operating the mine as one would run a manufactory.

But after all why invest in mines, except where one has special information or is thoroughly up in the business? There is more money to be made to-day in buying real estate in the city of New York than in any mining venture on the market. Now is the golden season for real estate investors. Money wisely laid out now will yield a very large return.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

The attendance at the Exchange Salesroom during the week was really enormous. Whether people came simply to purchase, or to find out what was going on in the market, at no time since the establishment of the Exchange has there been such a vast crowd in the Salesroom, and locomotion, at times was exceedingly difficult, especially on Wednesday and Thursday. There were numerous offerings of choice parcels, as well in business localities, as in the more remote parts of the city, because executors and trustees are now disposed to come forward and test the market, after having kept aloof from it during the many years of depression. To them the immense crowds that daily filled the floor of the long room must have been an encouragement of no mean order, when they mounted the stands of their respective auctioneers. And yet all the property they offered was not disposed of at figures, which, no doubt, they had fancied to themselves. In fact, some of it was even in the face of a large attendance of would-be buyers, entirely withdrawn from sale. Any number of capitalists were on hand, on several days of the week, but their bidding was languid, hesitating, and in the language of an old operator, "there was an absence of life and energy on the part of bidders," quite in contrast with the immense attendance. It took all the ingenuity of the auctioneers to draw out bids on the part of men, who seemed disposed to buy and yet were constantly hesitating. It may be accounted for by the fact that a new generation is now virtually occupying the floor of the Exchange Salesroom. Mr. A. H. Muller, Sr., said to the writer yesterday, "when I look down from my stand, I find all new men. The old class of buyers appear to have nearly all gone. They are dead. I can see it better from my stand point than anybody else, and I find but few, if any, of the old timers there. True, there is a great deal of money pouring into the market now, but the men who handle it are nearly all new faces."

While the status of the buyers now frequenting the real estate market, their want of experience, etc. may account, in a measure, for various low prices obtained during the week, as will be found in the list of sales attached to this article, a very important lever in the non-realization of prices was casually alluded to by one of the auctioneers on Wednesday. On that day Mr. Richard V. Harnett, who was disposing of some very valuable property, and had his stand surrounded by a motley group of people, interrupted the regular proceedings by denouncing those who made it a business to run down whatever property was offered. "I speak not only for myself, but also for other auctioneers in this room," said Mr. Harnett, "and, now, that I have broached the subject, I warn bona fide buyers against the sayings and doings of a clique of men who come to this Exchange for the purpose simply of deprecating values, so that they themselves can buy it at the lower figure, and then resell it to the parties bidding. These practices are common here. I have noticed it when off the stand. I have been circulating among the crowds facing the stands of other auctioneers, and I have invariably been able to detect the men engaged in this nefarious business." These words were deliberately spoken from the stand by the auctioneer, and had a good effect. We print them here for the purpose of warning bona fide investors against the sharks that follow in the train of a sound, active market, and by their contemptible insinuations endeavor to throw mud even on what is really gilt-edged.

The Broadway property, however, knocked down to Mr. Warren Ackerman for $78,100 (No. 545, running through to Mercer street), at the executor's sale, held by the Messrs. Ludlow & Co., on Wednesday, was put down by experts at "all it was worth," considering, as was stated in these columns last week, that Mercer street is but a back yard to Broadway. A well-known operator had figured it at $70,000, and when he saw it go beyond that figure turned his back on the stand. The Cliff and Fulton street property, sold on the same day, was disposed of at figures advantageous to the buyer. Mr. Harnett's sale of Twenty-third, Twenty-seventh and Forty-sixth street property, on Wednesday, also resulted extremely satisfactory, but the sale of One Hundred and Fifteenth street lots, at $3,500 each, showed the real strength of the market. Considerable East Side property, previously offered, was withdrawn by the Messrs. Ludlow; but some Sixth avenue property, offered by Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son, on Tuesday, was disposed of at quite satisfactory figures.

The auction room, as well as the brokers' offices will, for the next few months, attract the attention of investors, and hence we take pleasure in announcing that aside of the Carman estate, which is to be sold during the last week of March, there is also to be another large auction sale of choice property during April, particulars of which will be given through these columns in future issues.

During the coming week, Mr. Harnett will sell at auction, property on East Eighteenth street and East Twenty ninth street; also, on Thursday next, several lots on the Eleventh avenue, Ninety-fourth, Ninety-fifth and Ninety-sixth streets. Brooklyn property, as well as eligible parcels in the annexed wards, will be offered by the same auctioneers during the week. Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son will sell, on Tuesday next, eligible Third avenue property, between One Hundred and Twenty sixth and One Hundred and Twenty-seventh streets, and also an excellent house on West Fifty-fourth street.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

The legal holiday, as well as the succeeding market day, somewhat created a lull in the numerous private transactions that have been the distinguishing feature of the real estate market during the month. Nevertheless, amid noise less confusing, there has been no let up in the activity that is witnessed in all the brokers' offices. Some of them begin to see the folly of keeping their transactions quiet, as they have learned by this time that after all there is only a short space allotted to Pine street on the map of New York. What one broker does not profess to know, another is most anxious to communicate, and where both are anxious to keep matters quiet, THE RECORD man is sure to stumble over a buyer or seller willing enough to give all the information required. Sometimes also he hears it mentioned that four or five brokers form a little syndicate of their own and purchase a choice plot, selecting one of their number, least suspected, to take title—but all this, of course, he puts down as so much "gossip," and hence prints it in this column, so as to make a note of it in ample time, before the deed is placed upon record.

There have been numerous sales at private contract during the week between Eighth and Ninth avenues. The "boom" in that direction is apparently suffering no abatement. We know positively of $11,000 having been offered for lots on Sixty-third street, between the Eighth avenue and the Boulevard, which two weeks ago could have been secured for $9,000, and that this offer of $11,000 has been refused. All along the Sixties and Seventies, in that section, holders are asking an advance of prices. The latest transaction we hear of is the purchase by Mr. William H. Scott, of the northwest corner of Sixty-third street and Eighth avenue, comprising three lots; for $65,000—a price that stunned many a would-be buyer in that section when he was told of it. And yet the writer met several persons who considered these lots "cheap," and who said that the owner would not part with them under $85,000.

The sixteen lots on One Hundred and One Hundred and First streets, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, bought by Mr. Lalor last week for $60,000, have since been resold by him for $64,800. Any number of small sales have been made in this section, only somewhat lower down, but between the same avenues, all showing a decided advance.

Going eastward across the Fifth avenue line, also in the Sixties, we hear of a prominent dealer who succeeded last week in pocketing a profit of $27,000 on six lots between the Fifth and Madison avenues, and again turning back westward we are credibly informed that fourteen lots along the Boulevard, Eighty-fourth and Eighty-fifth streets, have been sold for about $95,000, the further details of which have not as yet transpired.

Four lots on Madison avenue, beginning at the southeast corner of Sixty-fifth street, and one lot on the street, have been sold for $85,000 to S. T. Drake and D. H. Hays, the street lot being figured at $15,000.

The four lots on Fifty-ninth street, beginning 15 feet west of the Eighth avenue circle, have been purchased by Mr. John D. Crimmins for $55,000.

The six lots on the north side of Seventy-ninth street, between Fifth and Madison avenues—one of the finest up-town streets—purchased two weeks ago by Mr. J. Campbell, President of the Pacific Bank, at $2,000 each, have been resold during the week for $23,500 each, through the efforts of Mr. Wm. P. Seymour, of 171 Broadway, to Messrs. Squire & Woolley, a firm of builders who have been erecting some first-class houses in that section for some time past, and who now propose to construct there a block of elegant mansions of various dimensions.

Scott & Myers have sold at private contract during the week four lots on the northwest corner of the Boulevard and Eightieth street, for $32,000, two lots on the south side of Sixty-seventh street, 100 feet east of the Ninth avenue, for $13,000, and one lot on the north side of Eighty-second street, 85 feet west of Madison avenue, for $14,400.

Messrs. Lespinasse & Friedman report the following sales made at private contract during the week: One lot on the northeast corner of Ninety-fifth street and Riverside Park, 25x124, for $10,000; four lots on the south side of One Hundred and Thirty-first street, 125 feet west of Seventh avenue, for $14,000; one lot on the south side of One Hundred and Eighth street, 150 feet east of the Boulevard, 25x100, for $2,500.

It will be remembered that Mr. Goelet who, a few weeks ago, purchased the residence of the late Peter Moller, on the northeast corner of Fifth avenue and Thirty-second street, refused to take title, owing to certain restrictions imposed upon him along with the transfer of the property. These restrictions, we have since been informed, have been removed, owing to the action of adjoining owners. We now understand that the sale of this mansion and stable has been effected to another party for $160,000, the purchaser being a Broadway merchant, who, it is said, looks upon that corner as a fine site for a first class business, which is slowly creeping up the avenue.

We are requested to state that the purchaser of Mr. Griffith Rowe's house, on the corner of Fifty-fourth street and Fifth avenue, is not a Bonanza mining man, as was reported last week. The purchaser is Mr. Henry M. Flagler, a capitalist, well known on the Produce Exchange and who expects to occupy his new mansion shortly after its completion in May next.

J. Edgar Leaycraft has sold at private contract the following houses: No. 222 West Forty-ninth street for $13,000, No. 453 West Forty-seventh street at $10,500, and No. 349 West Twentieth street at $9,700.

Mr. Jas. Meagher has sold to C. S. Dunn, of Claffin & Co., two houses on Fifty seventh street, south side, between Sixth and Seventh avenues, $30,000 each, and one on same block to Mr. Wright for same price.

Quite a number of sales at private contract are also reported from "the annexed district." We note especially the sale of five lots on One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street and Willis avenue—four lots on the avenue and one on the street, for $10,000, all cash. It is now thoroughly understood that the roads to be constructed in the annexed district are to run through private property which will be either purchased by the company or donated to it by the present owners. No person is to be injured by the road without proper remuneration, nor is it expected that anyone will suffer loss by the construction of the proposed railroads. Wherever the track shall cross a street the grade of the latter roadway will either be depressed or elevated, so that the trains will not cross a carriageway or sidewalk at the same level.

Mr. William R. Grace, of this city, has purchased the Milton Smith farm at Great Neck, L. I., comprising 135 acres, for $19,980.

WEST SIDE ASSOCIATION.

At last Saturday's meeting of the West Side Association complaint was made that notwithstanding the vigorous action of certain property owners, under the lead of Mr. Camman, to stamp out the squatters, more new shanties were being added to the West Side district. The presence of the shanties retards building operations, and quite a number of people refuse to settle down there, owing to these nuisances. On motion of Mr. J. W. Pirsson, the association adopted a resolution urging the legislature to forbid the erection of any other than fire proof buildings between Fifty-ninth and One Hundred and Twenty-Fifth streets.

An important statement was made by President Olmstead that the Commissioner of Public Works had intimated to him that any street openings desired on the West Side, from Fifty-ninth street to Harlem, could now be accomplished through a single proceeding and at the cost of one dollar per lot.

We know there is an abundance of money in New York just now, and yet those who require a loan find it difficult to secure it at the proper rates. Often, also, they become disgusted at the bill of expenses and fees that is tendered them even after they have agreed on the rates. Those who require money and have good improved property to offer as security, are recommended to call upon Mr. Frederick S. Buckingham, at 39 Park Row. His rates are low, his charges are moderate and he is bound to place the money at his command to satisfy not only his client but also the borrower.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Sellers have lost the advantage and the market generally is easier. The few arrivals last week from points on the Hudson River were simply the advance cargoes of liberal amounts which have since followed and for the first time in many weeks there has been a large surplus of stock afloat awaiting custom. The actual consumptive wants have probably not fallen away at all, but now that bricks are light buyers seem very much less inclined to call for them and the demand assumes a modified and more cautious form, especially as it is believed the chances are largely against the closing of the river again this season. In the absence of any leading transactions made public, values are a little nominal as we write but the top figures appear to be about $10.50 for Hards, and $8 for Pales with some very common of the latter sold down to $7 per M. Among holders we notice a little irregularity of feeling, some inclining to modify cost a fraction more and get business started, while others express a determination to stand out for extreme rates until the wants of consumers force a more positive demand and fuller bids. Some few additional arrivals have come in from Long Island but the fear of a break on values is said to be checking shipments in this direction. There is a fair distribution from yard but at very irregular figures.

CEMENT.—There is not much positively new since our last. Demand for all kinds, both domestic and foreign, is good, with buyers readily submitting to the rates asked, and sellers talking of still higher figures. Especially is this the case on foreign, as advances at hand report the loss or detention of about all the stocks coming forward on cheap freight rates, and, as a consequence, a material addition to cost laid down here of any duplication of supply forwarded.

HARDWARE.—There does not appear to be any positive change in the situation. The demand is reported as brisk and encouraging to the belief of still greater growth, the factories are kept busy to their full capacity and full prices are maintained without difficulty, with the prospect that further additions to cost may be expected at any moment. Indeed, manufacturers in many instances continue to withhold price lists altogether, and contract only upon a price fixed at the time of sale. Local consumption is good and very promising, especially for builders' hardware. The most recent changes in prices made public include the following: The manufacturers of Eagle Anvils announce a new list, as follows: Small Anvils (Minims) No. 000, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb, at \$1.25; No. 00, 4 lbs, at \$2; No. 0, 10 lbs, at \$2.75; No. 1, 15 lbs, at \$3.25; No. 2, 20 lbs, at \$4; No. 3, 30 lbs, at \$4.50; No. 4, 40 lbs, at \$5.25; No. 5, 50 lbs, \$6; No. 6, 60 lbs, \$6.50; No. 7, 70 lbs, \$7.25; No. 8, 80 lbs, \$8; No. 9, 90 lbs, \$9; and all anvils of 100 lbs up to 800 lbs, 10c. per lb, discounts to remain as before.

Henry Disston & Sons have issued the following supplement to price list of January 1st: Ball and Socket Saw Clamps, $18 per doz; Adjustable do, $12 per doz; Gauges for regulating cleaner teeth of Cross Cut Saws, 50c. per doz; Champion Cross Cut Saws, Extra, No. 1, 55c. per foot; do do do, C. S., No. 2, 50c. per foot; do do do, Keystone, No. 3, 45c. per foot; Wood Saw Rods, Straight Swivel, Plain Loop, Improved Double Thread Loop, Swivel Loop, 20 inches, $11 per gross; 21 inches, $11.25 do; 22 inches, $11.50 do; 23 inches, $11.75 do; 24 inches, $12 do; Post Hole Diggers, $37.50 per doz; Little Giant Pruning Hook and Saw, $19 do; do do Hook only, $12.50 do; Imp. Pruning Saw and Knife, Japaned, $12.50 do; do do do, Tinned, $15 do; No. 1 Saw Screws, $2.25 per gross; No. 2 do, $3 per gross.

PLASTER PARIS.—There is a continued full and quick demand for calcined, which is readily reducing the already small supply of lump and strengthening the position of manufacturers. Indeed, they have already made an additional advance of $10 per bbl. on most grades, and still higher rates are talked of.

LABOR.—An unsettled tone is shown on this market and the indications are very strong that considerable trouble is brewing. As a natural sequence of the general increase of values on all kinds of merchandise, it has been expected that labor would follow in due course, and, indeed, most contracts have been figured on a basis of higher wages to all classes of mechanics. The hopes, however, that experiences of the past and a more intelligent comprehension of the irrevocable laws of supply and demand would induce workmen to save money for themselves and prevent misery to their families by accepting legitimate influences, seem doomed to disappointment. In short, the "strike," through which ignorant labor attacks the capital, whence comes its very life, is again impending in nearly all the trades connected with the building interest. That curse to the workmen, the trade unions, issue their decrees and the poor fellows subject thereto commence to spend the few savings they have only lately laid aside, while idly awaiting the one chance out of a hundred for permanently attaining the object sought. Carpenters, bricklayers, plasterers, painters, etc., etc., are all mentioned as moving in this matter and, in a few cases, have made much progress toward perfecting their plans for striking. The "orators" and "resolutionists," of course, spread themselves in the characteristic manner, and, as a sample of some of the bosh indulged in, we print, for the amusement of our readers, the following resolutions, recently adopted by an association hailing under the title of the "United Order of American Carpenters":

Resolved, That we, the carpenters of New York city, are determined to organize for united action in demanding increased remuneration for our labor, as our present wages are inadequate to meet our reasonable wants. And, furthermore, we consider organization necessary to secure to us the enjoyment of the privileges that have been ours for years. And that we stigmatize as outrageous the action of a few contemptible bosses for endeavoring in an underhand way to rob us of them, and we hereby inform them that we will take steps to checkmate them in their sinister designs, especially as we are satisfied that they cannot procure the sanction of the great majority of our respectable employers to their aims.

Resolved, That we publicly denounce the action of the capitalists of Rockaway Beach, and especially their superintendent, in scouring the Far West and Canada for pauper labor to work for starvation wages, to the detriment of tax paying mechanics of the city of New York; and resolved, that we extend our sympathy to the striking piano and cabinet makers, who are striving with united efforts to win an honest day's pay for an honest day's labor, and to the painters, who are meeting for the same purpose as we are tonight.

LATH.—Enough business was done at $2 75 last week to fairly establish the rate for the time being, but it does not appear to be very well maintained and the feeling is now easier. We hear of no sales positively made at a concession from the above, but the evidences are pretty strong that it would not be insisted upon, could the buyers who now rather hold off be induced to negotiate in a more liberal manner. For the present, however, the wholesale quotation would have only a nominal basis and is omitted.

LIME.—A strong, cheerful tone continued to be shown on this market. Demand has been full enough to exhaust every thing offering and would have taken more with full prices readily paid. Receivers predict a ready sale for all the stock they can offer, and the cost somewhat higher on both grades.

LUMBER.—Very much the same general condition of business is to be found on this market as for several weeks past except that the decided buoyant feeling is not quite so prominent. Demand is very full and in some cases beyond the amount manufacturers will engage to meet, but buyers evidently are moving with greater caution and rarely negotiate unless compelled to secure supplies to carry out contracts already in hand. The liberal addition recently made to values in a measure contribute to this result, while the nearer approach of the season when the opportunities for reaching a larger amount of supplies must rapidly increase, are not without effect. Indeed, we already learn of offerings from points heretofore entirely cut off, with agreements to deliver within thirty to sixty days. It should not be understood, however, that anything like a reactionary feeling is extant as the position is very strong in all respects, and the selling interest quite as confident and hopeful as ever. Indeed some are inclined to accept the present attitude of buyers, who may be inclined to stand off, as tending to strengthen rather than weaken the position, and the theory that investigation and trial will develop the thoroughly fortified state of sellers, and ultimately bring back suspended demand in full force. Crop prospects are thought to have improved somewhat but all authorities are extremely careful in venturing upon predictions as yet.

Spruce has shown some little irregularity, but in most respects receivers retain the advantage and could, no doubt, find a place for a considerable amount of stock were it within reach and at full rates. Some arrivals have taken place and quickly disappeared, mostly owing to sales, while in transit, but more are expected and it is not improbable enough to test the claim that buyers stand ready to exhaust all they can lay hands upon. Specifications for specials are tendered with freedom still, and manufacturers keep the capacity of the mills for weeks ahead under constant contract. About $16.50@18 00 for random, up to $20 for specials are named as nominal values. A great number of vessels have recently been chartered to load at Portland for this port at $3 per M, and will bring both specials and randoms.

Hemlock in good demand where anything in the way of attractive quality can be shown and the market firm, with $13.50@14.50 quoted, and in some cases a fraction more.

White Pine continues to find steady and full favor and shows a decidedly cheerful market with former rates maintained without difficulty and an inclination to something higher on bonded goods. The latter have run down even faster than hoped for, and the export demand continues so full that there is every prospect of the almost entire exhaustion of supplies. Home demand is also good and promises to continue without much abatement on all the usual outlets. The consumption of box boards has been greatly stimulated by the almost unprecedented movement of merchandise of all kinds since the first of January. We quote at $17@18 per M. for West India shipping boards; $23@25 for South American do.; $16.50@17 for box boards; $17.50@18 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine has come to hand with some freedom, but about every cargo appeared to have a place provided, and we hear of no increased offering on the open market. There is demand enough to provide for quite a liberal amount if here and the call on specials for future is full, but the mills have all they can attend to and manufacturers will only contract for very distant date. We quote random cargoes at about $21@23 per M.; ordered cargoes, $23@24 do.; green flooring boards, $2@22 do., and dry do. do., $22@24. Cargoes at the South $13@14.50 per M. for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Atlantic ports; $12.75@14 for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Gulf ports; hewed timber, $38.50@41.

Hardwoods remain firm and in demand, but the movement is restricted by the limited amount of stocks available. Some Western dealers are said to have recently been in attendance and closed fair contracts for future delivery. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $31@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $31@35; do. do. culls, $18@20 do; cherry, $45@75 do; white wood, 1/2 and 5/8 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do, for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Among the yard dealers the report is very generally of a cheerful character regarding the condition of business, but a great many are hemoaning the limited and broken assortment they are compelled to present to customers.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Nor. barque and an Am. schr., each 400 tons, from Fernandina to Natal, Brazil, railroad ties, $16; a schr., 327 tons, hence to Jacksonville, $70, thence to Port Simon, railroad ties, $14; a Br. barque, 744 tons, from Doboy to a direct port United Kingdom, 33s 6d. for hewn, and £5 7s. 6d for sawn; two Nor. barques, 627 and 415 tons, from Doboy to Cork and United Kingdom, timber, 35s. for hewn, and £5 10s. for sawn; an Ital. barque, 529 tons, hence to Montevideo, lumber, foreign charter; a schr., 200 tons, from Savannah to Aspinwall, lumber, $11.50; a schr., 330 tons, from Portland to Cardenas, lumber, $5; a schr., 602 tons, same voyage, shooks and Heads, 22c.; a Br. brig, 332 tons, hence to Demerara, old shooks, 17c.; a Br. schr., 176 tons, from Weehawken to St. John, N. B., coal, 60c., and back with lumber, $3.75; a schr., 200 M lumber, from Jacksonville to New York, Philadelphia or Baltimore, $8, $7.50 or $7; a schr., 230 M lumber, from Sailla River to New York, $7.50; a schr., 314 tons from Barren Island to Savannah, phosphate, $1.75, and back from Fernandina to Philadelphia, lumber, $6.30; a schr., 200 M lumber, from Brunswick to New York, $6 75; a schr., 270 M timber, from Doboy to New York, $8.25; a schr., 100 M lumber, from Savannah to Baltimore, $5.50; a schr., 160 M lumber, from Brunswick to New York, $6.75; a schr., 180 M lumber, from Savannah to Philadelphia, $6 and $6.50; a schr., 370 M lumber, from Darien to Philadelphia, $6 50; a schr., 300 M lumber, from St. Marys to New York, $7 2.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.
STATE.

The Albany Argus has the following:

During the winter there has been marked activity among the lumber traders; buyers are earlier in the market than they have been at any time within the past five years, from New York, New Jersey and the East on the lookout for lumber. Several sales of round lots of pine and coarse lumber have been made and at improving prices; among them we note one lot of 2,000,000 feet common box on p. t., but at a material advance on the current price at close of last season, to come through at the opening; 500,000 feet pine to be dressed here and shipped on p. t. The receipts of both pine and coarse lumber during the winter, by rail, have been free.

We find the following in the Tonawanda Herald, respecting Georgian Bay Timber:

During the past few years considerable Georgian Bay timber has been sold in this market, but this season will witness a great falling off in the amount. The following paragraph from the Alcona (Mich.) Review will partially explain itself:

"E. Evans, of the firm of Evans, Yocom & Co., of Tonawanda, N. Y., made his annual tour of the Shore last week on business connected with the company. This firm, we understand, wishes to buy from two to four millions of large white pine, as well as a million also of good average Norway, for the market, in addition to the stock now under contract. This firm operated quite largely in the Georgian Bay country last season, but owing to the 'red tape' system of the Canadian government, and the excessive charges of crown land dues and export duties, they will [not for the present operate there."

If the Canadian Government wants to invite trade with dealers in this market, it must be less exacting in its demands, and act fairly with those who desire to purchase the vast quantities of raw material which remain at present unproductive and comparatively worthless in its present condition. In the vicinity of the Georgian Bay territory are millions upon millions of feet of excellent white pine timber, good for the next fifty years. But operators find impediments in the way at every turn, partly through inefficient legislation, and partly because of conceited and incompetent officials. The benefit to arise from the development of the timber interests accrues directly to the Canadians themselves. They are crying out for more money and more enterprise, and then stifle the very industries that will afford them relief by too much red tape and excessive charges. We hope to see wiser counsels prevail in the near future, and witness a greater desire on the part of the Canadians to encourage American buyers.

THE WEST.
SAGINAW VALLEY.
Lumberman's Gazette Office,
BAY CITY, February 24, 1880.

The market maintains the decidedly firm tone heretofore noted, and no change need be expected until the log problem is fully settled. It is still involved in so much uncertainty that manufacturers are indifferent about making sales of cut, although sales are made occasionally. Side figures, such as that made by Nester of 2,000,000 feet choice stock at $7.25, $15 and $32. Spileman & Sullivan, of Tawas, last week sold to H. W. Sage & Co., of Bay City, their winter's cut of 1,300,000 feet at $6 50, $ 3.50 and $30. Other sales have been made at $7, $14 and $30, and these figures are about a fair indication of the market. The impression prevails that they will be maintained throughout the year with but little variation. No one desires to see extravagant prices rule, but the general desire is to obtain fairly remunerative rates and an active trade.

Shingles have received more attention recently, the revival seeming to have struck them at last. Parties have been actively engaged in picking up lots for sale and contracting for the season's cut, paying prices ranging from $1.35 to $2 65. Salt is going forward at a lively rate, some 40 cars being shipped per day.

We continue quotations as before:

OFFICE OF LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, }
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 19, 1880. }

The season for securing the necessary crop of logs has so far passed away that the probabilities begin to approach certainties. The late start which the loggers got, together with the unfavorable weather of January, leaves the loggers of the three States of the northwest so far behind, that with all the good weather that can be reasonably expected they will not be able to catch up with the work, or secure near as large a crop as in 1879. This fact has a strong influence in keeping prices firm in all the larger markets, besides which an almost unprecedented demand for lumber (at this season of the year) continues to make the wholesale men happy. Chicago is shipping about 1,500 M per day, but is manifesting a little nervousness about getting rid of the large stock on hand, notwithstanding they are aware that Chicago is the only point on the continent where there is any surplus stock to carry over beyond the spring business. They have been making it hot for their railroad companies for a lower rate to Kansas, and have secured a reduction in the rates upon the ground that the new lumber line from Wisconsin via St. Paul to Kansas City was taking the trade away from Chicago that that city had enjoyed for several years past. It remains to be seen whether the Northwestern combination will reduce rates correspondingly or wilt at the dictation of the Chicago lines. We have no idea that the lumbermen of that city would be happy even if they were going to be hung. In summer they are anxious to load up, and in winter equally so to unload, even if they do so without profit.

St. Louis has a nice trade of half a million a day, with which her lumbermen seem to be contented, but are taking care to keep their stock good, which makes the receipts about equal to the shipments; their supply comes from the South largely. The Eastern markets continue firm, but the reports do not compare so favorably with last year's business as they do in the West.

A very firm market has ruled at Minneapolis. Increased inquiry for spring stock for early shipments is reported, and the stock of thoroughly dry lumber is scarce. Stock scarce in the latter part of the season is too heavy for profitable shipment, but much of it must be taken to supply the spring trade. An advance on dry common lumber is likely to be made at an early day.

The following from the Northwestern Lumberman:
CHICAGO, February 12, 1880.

The trade of the year has opened up in volume far exceeding the anticipations of the dealers in this city, and each and all with whom we have conferred, report orders on hand and a prospective trade fully warranting the prognostications of a largely increased aggregate for the year. During the week past, the dealers report large orders received, while their traveling men and correspondents report most favorably from nearly every section. Stocks are badly broken in almost every grade, and purchases among dealers is a marked feature, as but few if any are able to fill all the items in the orders received. We are surprised to learn of a decided shortage in the supply of common boards, and learn of several instances in which dealers have sought from each other even so ordinary a size as 1 inch 16 feet boards; of course under such circumstances prices are decidedly firm.

One manufacturing dealer has refused an offer of $2 advance upon the closing prices of last fall, for stock wintered on the mill dock, and embracing no special sizes or grades. Fencing is decidedly firm at $14.50, and the stock limited. We can learn of no grade of lumber which is in excess in this market, and of none on which a decline in prices will be for a moment considered by holders.

Freights will undoubtedly be much higher in the spring, and vessel men now decline to contract for early trips to Muskegon at less than $2. We learn of one instance in which $1.50 was offered for four trips of a 300,000 vessel and contemptuously declined, as estimation of $1.75. These figures would last have been seized with avidity. The increased cost of freight, added to the increased expenses of the winter's logging operations will prove an important factor in determining values for the coming season. Per contra, it is undeniable that the new lumber transportation line from the mills in Wisconsin to the West is beginning to have an effect upon the trade of this city with some sections of the Northwest. When, however, the quality of the stock is considered and the amount of lumber now on hand at the mills, it must be apparent that no permanent damage can be done to the trade of this city, which will be in position, through the facilities of interchange among dealers, to fill orders which cannot be looked at by individual mill men, whose power to compete with such a market as Chicago is limited to the small stocks of lumber carried by each, there being no locality carrying stocks which will not be speedily exhausted, leaving no facilities for filling mixed bills, the facilities of interchange among dealers being an all important item in an extended and mixed trade. With present prospects, however, the demand will be equal to the ability of both sections to supply, even if both were acting as allies to each other.

THE SOUTH.

The Savannah Morning News reports:

LUMBER.—Mills are supplied with work for the present. Demand good. Prices range about as follows:
Ordinary sizes... $15 00@18 00

Mill timber $1 below these figures.

FREIGHTS.—Lumber—by sail—There is a fair supply of loading tonnage in berths at present, but all arrivals coastwise are readily placed here or at near ports for full figures. Off-shore business continues very dull. We quote: to Baltimore and Chesapeake ports, $5 50@6.00; to Philadelphia, $6.50; to New York and Sound ports, $6.25@7.00; to Boston and eastward, $6.50@7.50; to St. John, N. R., $8; [Timber from $1 to $1.50 higher than lumber rates]; to the West Indies and windward, $7.00@8.00, gold; to South America, $17; to Spanish ports, $14@15; to United Kingdom, timber, 33@34s., lumber, 25 5s., 5 10s. From 50c. to $1 additional is paid here for change of loading port.

FOREIGN.

The Timber Trade's Journal of Feb. 7th reports as follows:

LIVERPOOL.

The past week has been a very quiet one so far as regards orders in the market, and it may be said generally that there is at present existing a slight relapse from the excited condition of the market which has presented itself during the past few weeks. This may, possibly, be only a temporary retardation of that flow of business which is general throughout the country, and may be due to local influences which can only have a temporary effect.

It cannot be doubted that the high prices asked abroad for all descriptions of wood goods must sooner or later have a great effect upon this market, and as they seem to be based upon the short supply available for this country, there is little room for doubt that buyers here will have to pay corresponding rates. Latest advices from America point to the fact that the cost of timber, deals, &c., is going up in the market from day to day, and as freights to this country are firm at about usual rates, it is impossible to see where any reduction in the present rates of the market is to come from.

In fact, everything points the other way, and those who have already bought goods for the ensuing season have, so far as can be seen at present, had the best of the bargain. This is evident to all those who have made purchases of Baltic, Canadian and pitch pine goods, as they can now place their contracts on profitable terms without the exchange of money by simply transferring their documents for a consideration. The inquiries for timber, deals, etc., from outside ports, which are at present scantily supplied, keep this market somewhat on the move, but it would be much more satisfactory to all dealers if there were a legitimate demand from the immediate district. Stocks generally are light, as has been shown in the tables already published, and it only needs a few good orders in the market to make a very strong impression upon it, and if such should arise during the next week or two, buyers will then find out that the prices they have been accustomed to pay during the past two or three years are no longer in existence.

GLASGOW.

The general tone of the market during the week has been quiet and steady. There have been no fresh arrivals of importance to produce any change in the position of our timber merchants and brokers. Parties purchasing at present generally do so sparingly to supply immediate wants, and have to pay the full advanced rates for which wood is now held.

Messrs Singleton, Dunn & Co. held an auction sale at Greenock on the 29th ult., at which the following prices were obtained:

	Average c. ft. per log.	Per c. ft.
Quebec yellow pine—	70	17½d.

METALS.—Copper.—Ingot has weakened a trifle in cost under increased offerings from outside sources. There was, however, a fair demand to receive the supply and the market retained a reasonably cheerful tone. We quote at 24@24½c cash and 24½@25 for future for Lake. Manufactured Copper has continued in good, steady demand and quite firm at full former rates. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary size over 16 oz per sq foot, 34c per lb; do do, 16 oz and over 12 oz. per sq foot, 36c per lb; do do, 10 and 12 oz. per sq foot, 38c per lb; do do, lighter than 10 oz. per sq foot, 40c per lb; circles less than 84 inches in diameter, 37c per lb; do 84 inches in diameter and over, 40c per lb; segment and pattern sheets, 37c per lb; locomotive fire box sheets, 34c per lb; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz per sq foot, 32c per lb, and Bolt Copper, 34c per lb. Iron.—Scotch Pig has been offered with greater freedom, and at times with the appearance of considerable pressure the market showing a weak unsettled tone. We quote nominally at $33@35 per ton, according to brand and quality. American Pig has been quiet, buyers standing off, to await the issue on what appears to be a weakening tendency. There is not, however, any decided shading on cost as yet and some holders refuse entirely to name a concession from old figures. We quote at $41@40.50 per ton for No. 1; $38@39 for No. 2; and $37.50@38.50 for forge. Rails are still wanted to a liberal extent, but the difficulties of making deliveries induces buyers to hold off in hopes of securing some concessions, by creating an impression of dullness. We quote at $65@70 for new iron, and $83@85 for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails $43@44 per ton; scrap, $42@45. Manufactured iron sells with continued freedom, the supply is small and the market well maintained on all kinds. Common Merchant Bar, ordinary sizes, at 37c. from store, and refined at 4c, wrought beams at 46c@47c. Fish plates quoted at 3.8c; track bolt and nuts, 4.8c; railway spikes, 5¼@5½c; tank, 4.8c; horseshoe, 4.7c; angle, 4.3c; best flange, 6.3c; and domestic sheet on the basis of 5@5¼. for common, 10 to 20. Other descriptions at corresponding prices with 1-10c. less on large lots from cars. LEAD.—Domestic Pig has sold to about the average extent, with former prices obtained and the market firm, but plenty of stock offered for the outlet. We quote 6@6¼c. The manufactures of lead are firm and quoted: Bar, 7½c; Pipe, 7¼c., and Sheet, 8¼c., less than the usual discount to the trade; and Tin lined pipe 15c. Block Tin pipe, 40c. on same term. TIN.—Pig has continued to favor the buyer in price, and a fair amount of stock was offered, but without attracting increased demand from any quarter. We quote at 23¼@25c. for Banca, 23¼@23½c. for Straits, 23@23½c. for English Refined, 23½@23¾c. for do. Common. Tin Plates are in light, uncertain demand, and the market on the whole weak, but holders refrain from pressing their stocks to sale. We quote I. C. Charcoal, third cross assortment, $9.62½@9.75 for Allaway grade, and $9.75@9.87½ for Melyn grade; I. C. Coke $8.25@8.37½ for B. V. grade; $8.37½@8.50 for Yspity grade; Charcoal terne, $8.87½@9.12½ for Allaway grade, 14x20; $18@18.12½ for do., 20x28; Coke terne, $8.12½@8.25 for Glais grade, 14x21, and $17@17.12½ for do., 20x28—all in round lots. Spelter not active, but firmly held at 6½@6¾c. according to brand. Sheet Zinc in fair demand, and steady at 8¼@8½, according to quantity.

NAILS.—The good control still held over the production, as well as the amounts in hand under speculative ownership, gives the selling interest quite a decided advantage, and full rates continue in all cases to be insisted upon. Demand, as before, has a slightly careful strain, but necessity compels a gradual increase of orders, notwithstanding the recent addition of 15c. per keg goes beyond the limit against which buyers had previously been contending. We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $5.40; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $5.65; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $5.90; 4d and 5d, common do per keg, $6.15; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $6.90; 3d, fine, per keg, $7.65; 2d per keg, $7.90.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $5.90. Floor casing and box, $6.15@6.90. Finishing, $6.70@7.40.

CLINCH NAILS.

1¾ to 1½in. 2 & 2¼in. 2½ & 2¾in. 3in. & longer.
$7.90@8.00 $7.40 $7.15 $6.90 per keg.

OILS.—The jobbing business in most kinds shows some improvement, both on local and shipping account, and dealers succeed in preserving a very full line of value. Wholesale movements irregular, but not tending to weaken prices. We quote at 80@85c. per gallon for linseed oil from crusher's hands.

PAINTS.—Nearly all the leading jobbers report a good and steadily growing business, with the amounts already moving more than confirming expectations as to the volume of distribution. This naturally imparts a healthy, cheerful tone, and hopes are entertained of a still greater improvement to come. Stocks and assortments are full and available to the extent of the demand, but holders firmly insisting upon extreme rates in all cases.

PITCH.—Demand has been somewhat uncertain, but for the week reaches nearly the ordinary proportions. The supply quite equal to all calls and available at about former rates. We quote at $2.00@2.12½, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The general tendency of the position is in sellers favor. Stocks continue under control, and, while occasional fluctuations in price take place, they are in the main due to speculative manipulation. Consumption is very fair and tending to increase, however, and this gives a good support to the position. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 45½@47 per gallon, according to the quantity of the stock handled.

TAR.—Demand continues in much the usual form and volume, and there is not more than the ordinary small and fractional fluctuations on cost. Supplies fair. We quote at $2.00@2.12½ per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2.00@2.12½ for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows: 1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded. Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

DIRECTORY OF

RELIABLE REAL ESTATE AGENTS.

We have carefully investigated the responsibility of all Real Estate Agents named in this Directory, and find them to be in every way competent and responsible. We therefore recommend them to capitalists and real estate operators generally as being the best agents to be secured in their respective section, as shown by letters from prominent business firms, which may be seen at the office of the REAL ESTATE RECORD.

INVESTMENTS IN REAL ESTATE.

There are a few notable characteristics in the recent movements in the real estate market, the chief of which is the proportionately small amount of capital going into these investments. Take the West Side, which is a favorite field, all the money which has gone into investments there in the last year would not aggregate over two million dollars. Contrast this with the movements of capital in Wall street; it does not exceed many a single operation of daily occurrence. The result is that there has not yet been enough money put in the real estate market to move it more than one section at a time. If the time should come that any respectable amount, say five millions, is employed there in purchases, the effect, as every real estate dealer sees, would be surprising. Real estate used to be the great field for investment and speculative enterprises. Now it is comparatively one of the smallest. Government securities take up the money held for investments by the hundreds and thousands of millions. If this money were released, or if there were no such securities, millions would be expended in improvements and building on property. Hundreds of New York capitalists would do what Edward Clark is now doing alone. If there comes the feeling that a row of buildings or a large apartment house, is a safe and profitable investment, and Mr. Clark is now proving this, the transfer of a few millions from four per cents into real estate would make a boom that would start the market into an extraordinary activity.

In the present peculiar state of the market with not enough money moving to keep all parts of the field active at the same time, the phases are very interesting. Take one illustration; street lots between Fifth and Madison avenues, and from Sixtieth to Seventieth street, will sell at $25,000 to a builder who will erect a house on it, and sell it at a profit. This establishes that value for the lot, as actual and productive and not a speculative value. Taking this as a starting point, the scale of values, according to just gradations, shows that lots on that part of Fifth avenue are worth $50,000. Eighth avenue, with its finer and higher grade, and unobstructed views over the park, and, being a few years behind in point of occupation, will be worth about half of the Fifth avenue. The Boulevard, if the surface railroad is extended through it as promised, will be worth a proportion, say three quarters of what the Eighth avenue is worth; and Riverside, which a year ago was worth nothing to speak of, with its magnificent river views, the beauty of which few have any conception, will be worth as much as the Eighth avenue, or, as some people think, worth more than the Fifth. If there was a full flow of money into investments of this character, prices would be pretty well sustained in these different divisions of the field. As it is, the tide of value is approaching these graded levels with irregular and fitful movements, and the attention of buyers is attracted to only one line at a time; the different divisions are taken up and advanced in turn. If the profitable employment of money should attract a large amount of capital, and particularly if improvements should go on, the phases of the market might change in a day.

A QUIET LOOK AHEAD.

Last week we reviewed the situation in the general business of the country in a somewhat hopeful spirit, but perhaps it would be well to point out some possible dangers which cautious business men should constantly keep in mind. We are living in "bull" times, when prices are advancing and all the evidences of wealth are increasing in market value. Hence everyone is disposed to be jubilant and perhaps incautious; for steady, old fashioned business men have noticed that in the race for wealth it is the rash and adventurous who have made the most money during the past year and a half. We ourselves have no serious apprehensions for the next few years, and yet there will be certain minor disasters against which we wish to call the attention of the business community.

First, in importance, is the condition of our currency. We have repeatedly pointed out in these columns the danger which has come upon us from the addition of all the gold and silver of the country to our greenback and bank circulation without any attempted reduction in the volume of paper. Our gold and silver practically did not count before resumption. Since then we have added at least three hundred million of gold and silver to the available currency of the country. It is the experience of history that all such additions to the currency, whether it be gold or silver, or paper, have a tendency to swell prices. Voltaire, the famous French philosopher and writer, was asked how he became rich. "Oh," he said, "I have a friend among the directors of the Bank of France. When the bank is about to issue currency he lets me know and I buy; when the currency is to be contracted I sell." And this is the secret of a great deal of the money making of the day. The keys of the financial situation are not held so much by the great stock speculators as by the inside money lenders and those who are familiar with the secrets of the Treasury Department, and the banks and capitalists who lend money have an advantage over all other operators. The outside public playing against these great money kings in the end surely lose the game, "for the dice are loaded and the cards are stacked." It is the great bankers who are absorbing the money of the world.

The danger lies just here. Resumption was all right, so long as our exports largely exceeded our imports and gold came pouring into the country. This has kept prices rushing up, and will continue to keep them advancing until such time as our imports begin to exceed our exports. Already our importation of gold and silver has ceased and our exportation has commenced. Since the 1st of January over a million dollars has left this port for Europe, and by May it will be found that a steady drain of the precious metals will be leaving our coast. We should have tried to retain our bullion by putting behind every greenback an honest dollar of gold or silver. In place of one, two five and ten dollar bills, we ought to-day to be circulating gold and silver. In other words, we ought to have made every possible use of bullion in our own country. But the present is a Greenback Congress and would not listen to anything that favored contraction, while the business men were so absorbingly employed in making money that a reform in the currency did not interest them. Hence we are going ahead recklessly with our top-heavy currency, and sometime within the coming two years there will be a crash. When the drain of gold becomes so great that an alarm is created, there will be a rush upon the Treasury for a liquidation of the greenbacks; gold will disappear from circulation and be quoted at a premium, and then look out for a terrific break in prices. It will be temporary of course. The prosperity of the country will continue, but people who hold high priced stocks or goods on margins will suffer severely. The speculative element will be sharply punished. Wise action by Congress would anticipate this trouble and avoid it, but Congress is not wise, and the business men of the country do not appreciate and do not care for what will happen in a couple of years from now. Here, then, is the first peril in the future, namely, the suspension of specie payments by the government upon an excessive demand for gold for greenbacks. Secretary Sherman evidently anticipated some such trouble for he insists that Congress shall leave him his power to pay out greenbacks instead of gold upon demand.

Our second danger is unprofitable investments. The country is so hopeful, people are so eager to make money, there having been a margin of profit on everything dealt in since 1877, that the adventurous and sanguine are looking around for new investments. So long as they confine themselves to the legitimate business of the country, no harm will come of it. But there are many mining adventures and railroad enterprises which are certain to be unprofitable. The city is swarming with people from the Pacific coast with mining schemes, and some of our most conservative operators and bankers are catching the fever. The fall in Little Pittsburg foreshadows what may happen to a number of equally promising stocks. We now recall the petroleum mania and its disastrous issue, but the losses in that business will be as nothing compared with what may come through unwise investments in mining shares. We have nothing to say against the business. It is one of the most promising industries of the country, but somehow stock operations in connection with mining matters have usually resulted disastrously. It is inevitable that after a time dividend paying mines will be discredited, and the dealing in mining stocks will be regarded as mere gambles. For years past, the favorite stocks on the San Francisco Board were the non-dividend paying. That is, for one that pays dividends there are twenty that do not. The Californians will not touch a dividend paying mine on account of their uncertainty. It is the gamble, before the mine becomes dividend paying, which is attractive to the real mining stock speculator. This is what will occur here in the city of New York, for the business is undoubtedly being transferred from San Francisco to this business centre. It will add largely to the wealth and importance of New York, but individuals will suffer severely, and the money be made by the great manipulators.

But it is idle to pursue this train of thought much further. It would require more space than we could afford, to point out the possible unprofitable employment of capital. One thing is very certain, that real estate at present prices affords a most inviting field for investments. We do not advise any one to go in debt, but property purchased here in the city of New York, is something one can be sure of for many years to come.

VALUES ALONG THE EIGHTH AVENUE.

While there appears to be a general impression that there has been a great rise in values recently on Eighth avenue property, south of One Hundred and Tenth street, and the streets running between this avenue and the Ninth, we desire to call the attention of our readers to the table hereunto annexed. It will be seen that nine years ago lots in that locality were worth not only, but actually sold at figures far above the ruling prices of to-day. In some instances the discrepancy between the two periods quoted is really amazing. Here are the facts, taken from official sources:

† February 24.

In this connection it should be remembered that Fifth avenue lots at that time (1871 to 1872) were selling at $50,000 each, the same price which they command to-day, and yet Eighth avenue property sells to-day for less than one-third of its value. If anything ought to have advanced more proportionately it certainly is the line of the high graded avenue (in that section, where the ground is free from all hospitals, nurseries and other nuisances. By studying carefully the above table it will be seen that notwithstanding the present activity in the real estate market, there have been as yet no extravagant prices paid for this section this year. In one word, even at present figures there is plenty of room left for sound and profitable investments near the localities designated in the table given above.

A POSSIBLE DANGER.

Mr. D. G. Croly, formerly an editor of one of our daily papers, in a communication to the press published about a year since, made a number of predictions, some of which have turned out correct, but among the unfulfilled ones was a forecast to the effect that within a certain number of years the principal cities on the Atlantic coast would be captured by some enemy of the United States. Mr. Croly declared in this article that our whole sea coast was practically defenceless against a single ironclad of any of the nations of Europe. He argued that there was no instance in history, of a rich and defenceless nation which had not been spoliated by some powerful neighbor. He declared we had no navy and were utterly at the mercy of any nation which had a single efficient ironclad. Substantially the same statement has since been made from several authoritative sources. Officers of the Navy and the Army have officially declared that New York, for instance, was without any adequate protection in case of a foreign war. Senator Bayard on the floor of the Senate said recently that he could see nothing to prevent a modern ship of war, armed with modern guns, from entering New York Harbor and putting the city at its mercy. If the whole navy of the United States were to attack an English, French, German or Italian ironclad, the latter would be perfectly safe, and the officers could go to their meals without paying the slightest attention to the inefficient vessels and low calibre guns which now form the inadequate protection of our sea coast. The United States has not one great vessel. Its harbor defences are behind the times; it has no torpedo system; it has no navy and no great guns. The United States originated the monitor system. It is the foreign nations which now have the monitors suitable both for defence and attack. It was American gunners who invented the mighty ordnance of the modern times, but it is not we who have the cannon, but England, France and Germany. It would take several years to prepare a navy. It will consume many months to give us parks of cannon suitable for the protection of our harbors. It will take time to develop any competent torpedo system. A recent article in the New York Sun points out that our harbors are defenceless unless we have floating batteries armed with the heaviest ordnance. We have neither one nor the other, and it will take a year to prepare even defences of this kind. That we live by the sufferance of other nations is not realized by the American people, nor is it likely to be until some great disaster overtakes us. We submitted as a nation to the humiliation of the surrender of Mason and Slidell during the civil war. We had no navy competent to cope with Great Britain, and we had to apologize humbly for an act which our best judges believed was justified by precedents made by Great Britain and other maritime powers. True, we are potentially the greatest military nation on earth, but, as Mr. Croly said in the article we referred to, an unarmed Hercules is at the mercy of a child armed with a pistol. We are utterly defenceless. During the war of 1812 a British army landed on our coast and took possession of the city of Washington, burned the capitol and destroyed the national library. There is nothing to prevent the same feat from being performed again, for our army is a skeleton, our navy a myth, our defences useless. This is a matter for the holders of property in New York to consider. A foreign fleet in our harbor would mean an immense indemnity levied upon the metropolis. We judge that the nation at large would allow New York to pay the penalty, for it must be remembered that it is impossible to get the representatives from beyond the Alleghanies to spend any money for a fleet to protect our seacoast.

The Western and Southern members vote unanimously against any appropriations for increasing our commerce, or for securing the cities along the coast. Congressmen are responsible, not to the nation, but to their petty constituencies and the farmers of Ohio, and the cattle growers of Texas do not see why they should pay for guns or ships to protect New York, Boston or Baltimore. If in addition to the heavy debt we now labor under, there should be obligations given to raise several hundred million to induce a foreign fleet to withdraw from our harbor, it would be a serious matter for the real estate men of the metropolis. Should not our Chamber of Commerce, our Stock Exchange, all the representative interests of the city unite in calling the attention of Congress to this vital matter? Or, if Congress will not act, why not raise a fund for floating batteries and large guns and an efficient torpedo system to at least protect us from this, by no means, imaginary danger.

SOME PLAIN WORDS ON PLUMBING.

In a recent issue of THE RECORD we quoted the remark of a prominent builder, that, if Mr. William A. Butler proved to be as good a County Clerk as he is a plumber, the city would be benefitted by it. Certainly no fault has, as yet, been found with the new incumbent, and, as our business with the County Clerk's office is of daily, almost of hourly occurrence, we can honestly say that the various joints of that complicated institution are running exceedingly smooth, that there is no leakage anywhere, and that during the hours of business its chief permits no (political) pipes to be laid. It is as plumber, however, that a representative of THE RECORD greeted Mr. Butler the other evening, and, the latter having laid aside the cares of office, readily entered upon the now widely discussed topic of sewers, sewer-gas and the plumbing business generally. In the course of a long conversation, the substance of which we give for the benefit of owners and builders, Mr. Butler said:

"It has always been the custom, heretofore, to remove sewer-gas after it has entered the house; my idea is, to keep it out of the house altogether. Besides sewer-gas, however, there is always decomposed matter that accumulates on the inside of the soil-pipe, which becomes coated inside. This emits a smell as foul as the sewer-gas proper, and must also be cured. Now, we have in our place of business a contrivance which prevents the sewer-gas from ever entering the house and prevents any trap from being syphoned. We also have hit upon the proper plan how to wash out the soil-pipe. With the method at our command, sewer-gas cannot enter a house, and we are willing to try it anywhere and demand no pay if not successful. If the builder of any house finds that my representations are not correct, he need not pay us. About twenty years ago I was the very first man who run the soil-pipe through the roof as a ventilator."

"Now, as to the sewer question, generally, I can assure you that the more patent traps and the more patent arrangements are used, the worse is the plumbing work and the more are the complications. Simple devices, based upon intelligent experience, are generally most successful in our line of business. Plumbers, as a rule, are blamed for bad work, where they should not be blamed at all. Owners of houses will spend thousands of dollars on fresco and cabinet work, and when it comes to the plumbing work—the most material part in a house, as it affects the health of the inmates—instead of looking for honest men in whom they can place confidence that they will do an honest job, they invite proposals from a dozen different plumbers, and give it to the lowest bidder. In many cases, this results in a bad job. If at any time an owner has plumbing work to be done, the plumber who is not honest should not be employed at all, but, if he is, he should be paid fairly for his work. The rule has been in the plumbing business that the best mechanics have had to figure against the very worst of botchers. A man who employs good workmen has to compete against botchers, working for another man who will not pay reasonable wages. I have always found in my business that to employ good mechanics at good wages pays far better in the long run than to have botchers at a low rate of wages.

In most instances, however, you will find that the fault of bad plumbing can be traced directly to the owners of the property. A plumber simply follows directions as given to him, he is not allowed to use his own judgment, and, hence, should not be held responsible for the judgment of someone else. Let owners employ nothing but competent men to do their work, and honorable men at that. Let these men so engaged exercise their own judgment, and be held strictly responsible for their work, and you will find in nine cases out of ten that it will be a perfect job of plumbing. There are also a large number of men engaged in building, who think they can get the work done cheaper by buying their own material and hiring men to do the job. This is one of the dearest ways that any owner can think of in the plumbing line, and will prove so in the end. I have known cases myself where men overhauling their houses would spend thousands of dollars on the ornamental part without hesitation, and look around for weeks for a cheap plumber to do a job that would take down and spoil their fresco work in a very short time. They then go around town blaming all the plumbers, while really they themselves are to blame."

"I am in favor of making a radical change that will benefit all buyers of houses. I suggest that a man when he takes a house should be enabled to go to any respectable plumber, get from him a certificate, at a certain cost, if necessary, that the plumbing work in said house is in perfect order. Then let the party who issues the certificate be held strictly responsible for what he states over his own signature, and you will see a most tangible reform in the plumbing line, that will not only benefit owners of property but the entire building trade."

CAN REAL ESTATE BE TRANSFERRED LIKE PERSONAL PROPERTY.

To the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD:

Notwithstanding the plausible arguments put forth by Mr. Olmstead at the meeting of the West Side Association, I doubt whether the ideas in regard to "capitalizing" real estate are considered practical by the majority of property owners or business men. It has heretofore been hinted at by the same learned gentleman that there should be as little trouble in transferring real estate as there is in disposing of personal property. "Why," exclaims Mr. Olmstead, "should Jay Gould be permitted to borrow a million of dollars on his securities in five minutes, and why should the man who wants to borrow money on his real estate be compelled to go through a long process of searches, pay a large bill for expenses and wait several weeks before he can get a dollar?" The reason is, I beg to say, in reply, that in personal property, the law upholds the rights of the holder of the value as against all other parties, and superior to all the equities between these other parties. In real estate, on the contrary, every transfer of property, or security based upon property, such as a mortgage or a lease, is taken subject to all the equities that exist between the parties.

We are told then, let the law be changed; but that is impossible. There are fundamental principles underlying this which cannot be changed. The entire current of law and precedent has been in favor of the immediate negotiability of every security on personal property, and against the negotiability of securities based upon real estate. This arises from two necessities:

First. In banking and commercial business, men must be enabled to loan on personal property on the instant, and on what appears on the face of the papers.

Second. In respect to real estate, the necessity is absolute that the title be proved and everybody's interests guarded and nobody deprived of the right of property, without his own act or deed.

To illustrate, the man who owns say $20,000 in real estate, may have borrowed once or twice money on that property, he may have granted a lease, he may have promised his grandmother a certain income from it, or granted an old aunt at some time or other an interest in the same. Now all these loans, leases, promises and grants are matters of record, and as no property should be transferred, unless the rights of all these parties be protected, it strikes us as simply chimerical to ask for a radical change in the law prescribing the rules now governing such transfer. On the other hand, say that A, B and C are about to enter upon a certain enterprise. They need $10,000 before three o'clock to-day. A at once gives a note, B and C endorse it. D takes this note to the president of the bank. This note, it is true, is a fraud or sham, because A has not "value received," for the amount. It is simply an accommodation note. Still the president of the bank (except of course in case of forgery) is justified in taking the note and the law upholds him regardless of all equities between other parties.

There is no doubt, as Mr. Olmstead suggested, that the modus operandi of searching titles can be, and in fact should be simplified, but that our lawmakers will ever consent to "capitalize" real estate, or to permit the issue of certificates, even though they contain all the liens on any particular piece of property, is entirely out of the question. Such certificates when issued would never command the confidence of financial institutions that are called upon to loan money upon the same, and for any other purpose they would be practically useless—as, after all, the honest real estate investor of the future will continue to be just as careful in examining his title as has been his grandfather before him.

CONSERVATIVE.

IMPORTANT DECISIONS ON LIENS BY THE COURT OF APPEALS.

The law, which is said to abhor secret liens, nevertheless tolerates some which are fraught with much inconvenience to conveyancers and danger to purchasers. The decision of the Court of Common Pleas in this city two years ago, in Curnen vs. The Mayor, &c. (7 Daly), recognized a lien of this character, contrary, we think, to the general opinion of the profession and the usage of conveyancers; and the recent reversal of that decision by the Court of Appeals removes the inconvenience which would result from following the rule laid down by the lower court. The action was against the Mayor to restrain the city from selling plaintiff's land for the payment of assessments. It appeared that certain individual defendants, "Killian Brothers," intending to pay assessment liens on their property in Fifty-fifth street, by mistake paid the assessment which had been imposed upon the adjoining lot, the mistake being caused by misinformation from the clerk in the collector's office, and thereupon an entry was made opposite the entries of the assessments on the adjoining lot "paid by Killian Brothers." Subsequently, Curnen bought this adjoining property and caused searches to be made for arrears of assessments, and the searcher, finding the note of payment, returned the property free from such liens; and plaintiff, Curnen, accordingly bought and paid for the property as if free. Subsequently Killian Brothers, by action against the city, obtained judgment for the sum they had paid by mistake; and, by virtue of the judgment and special directions contained in it, an entry was made in the books of the collector, opposite the statement, marked paid in these words, "Lien restored." The Court of Common Pleas held that on principles peculiar to the powers of municipal corporations and on the grounds of public policy the lien thus marked restored was valid and effectual against the plaintiff. It resulted from this decision that careful conveyancers, to avoid the effect of similar errors, have found it necessary to absolute accuracy in searching titles not to rely upon a return that there were no assessments unpaid, but to look to the entries of payment or other evidence to ascertain by whom the payment had been made. Very few took this trouble, but the risk of mistake and error in neglecting it was not a trifling one.

The Court of Appeals hold that the doctrine of estoppel in such a case applies against a municipal corporation as against other parties; and if such a lien is erroneously discharged, it cannot be restored as against bona fide purchasers or others standing in a similar relation whose transactions are entered into in ignorance of the error and in reliance upon the truth of the record.

Another recent decision on a question of secret liens is that involved in a Special Term opinion in the same Court, holding that under the present mechanics' lien law in force in this city, the lien arises by virtue of the doing of the work or furnishing materials, not, as formerly, by virtue of the filing of the notice of a claim of lien on that account, and that the statute which protects mortgagees, etc., in good faith intervening before filing notice, and does not protect grantees, precludes the Court from giving a grantee taking a conveyance after the inception of the lien, but before filing of notice, equitable priority over a lien. The inconvenience resulting from this rule is of no different kind from that which is involved in cases where a purchaser has to look to possession as actual notice, but it requires attention to another point, in case of purchasing property that is under improvement.—Daily Register.

THE LIEN OF JUDGMENTS.

REAL ESTATE AND ITS BURTHENS—REMARKS MADE BEFORE THE WEST SIDE ASSOCIATION.

In the course of his address, made before the West Side Association last Saturday evening, Mr. Dwight H. Olmstead claimed that the greater part of statutory liens on real estate should be abolished. The statute, he said, provides that judgments shall be a lien for ten years from the time of docketing upon any real estate which the judgment debtor may own during that period. Now, in the first place, is it right and fair to subject the whole real estate of a community to the possible lien of the few constituting the creditor class? Why should both the seller and purchaser of all real estate be put to the delay and expense of searching for judgment to say nothing of the depreciation of the property in consequence of it being thus hampered? I do not think the creditor class entitled to this consideration and protection against the interests, I might say the rights, of the great body of property-holders. In the second place, the system is not a real but only a fancied protection to the creditor. It is of little or no assistance in enabling him to collect his debt. If the creditor does not intend to pay the judgment when recovered, he will take good care to have his real estate transferred before that event happens. In the third place, as a matter of fact, debts are not generally or often collected by means of execution and sale of real estate. I have taken pains to cause an examination to be made of the records in the County Clerk's office in this City, and find that during the past three years the following were the only sales of real estate made under judgments and execution during those years. In 1877 only 16 sales, 1878 only 31 sales and in 1879 only 24 sales; in all 71 sales during the period of three years past. It has been said, and I believe with truth, that there is more paid each year to the County Clerk in this City by real estate owners for fees for searches for judgment than the total amount recovered on the judgment. Indeed, I consider the whole system of the collection of debt, as existing in this city, a fraud upon the public, beneficial only to the lawyers, the judges and the clerks and officers of the various courts. I undertake to say, from a personal inspection of the records, that no more than five per cent. of the judgments docketed in this city are ever recovered. The real estate owners of this city have good cause to find fault with a system which is an incubus on their property, not only in its direct bearings, but indirectly by reason of the taxes paid by them to support it; and they should take immediate steps to abolish it by associated and continued effort.

OTHER LIENS ON REAL ESTATE.

The following is a list of the statutory liens upon real estate in this city, exclusive of mortgages, leases and other papers recorded in the Register's office:

Judgments, decrees and forfeited recognizances of the various State and Municipal Courts, notices of lis pendens, insolvent assignments, certificates of sheriff's and marshal's sales, notices of foreclosure by advertisement, general assignments, orders appointing receivers, mechanics' liens, unsafe building liens, Health Board liens, judgments of United States Circuit Court, judgments of United States District Court, petitions and decrees in bankruptcy in United States District Court, mortgages to United States Loan Commissioners, bonds of receivers of taxes and their surties, warrants of attachment, taxes, assessments, water rates and sales for the same.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

The public sales at the Exchange, though not numerous during the past week, were significant as showing the firm tone of the market. It was, indeed, a satisfaction to many frequenters of the salesroom to see at last some property sold under foreclosure bring an amount in excess of the encumbrances. Of sales of this nature, we notice particularly the Thirty-second street property, near the Sixth avenue, sold on Tuesday by Messrs. Lespinasse & Friedman, and the sale on Wednesday of a house in West Twenty-sixth street, by E. H. Ludlow & Co. The sale held on Tuesday by Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son of the Third avenue as well as of the Fifty-fourth street property, as will be seen by the annexed list, resulted in fair prices. The sale of the week, however, was the offering of speculative property on Eleventh avenue, Ninety-sixth and Ninety-fifth streets, by Mr. Harnett on Thursday. Though there was not an exceedingly large attendance, the bidding was spirited and energetic throughout. The result must have been a surprise even to the owners of the property, common report having it that they figured on $2,500 less than the total aggregate, which reached $36,975 for the ten lots. The corner plot of Ninety-sixth street and Eleventh—or rather West End avenue—was bought by Mr. Boighton. Lespinasse & Friedman bought the two inside lots for $3,400 each, and Mr. B. Fellman the four lots south of Ninety fifth street at an average of $3,100. The moment the southeast corner lot, 25.2½x100, of the avenue and Ninety-sixth street was disposed of at $4,750, the prices for the inside lots were fixed in the minds of many persons bidding on the same. Of course Ninety-sixth street is a one hundred foot street, but Ninety-fifth street, below it is not yet opened. Putting this and that together, it was the unanimous opinion of experts and close observers of values that the sale had been exceedingly successful. We may add that the prices obtained at this sale, which was bona fide throughout, are 30 per cent. higher than those obtained at the Monsell sale held by Mr. Coates on December 18th last. Lots on the southeast corner of Eleventh avenue and One Hundredth street were then disposed of at $2,600 each, and it will be found, by fair comparison, that our estimate of the percentage of advance is a correct one.

There were other sales of more or less importance, but none of any influence on the speculative market. The sale of the Brennan mansion, ex-sheriff Matthew T. Brennan's house on the Eleventh avenue, northeast corner of One Hundred and Fifth street to satisfy mortgage and interest of $21,750 did not come off, but was adjourned. The next day the daily papers reported that Mr. V. K. Stevenson, Jr., had sold it under private contract to Mr. Dexter Allen, related to the Vanderbilt family, for $44,000. Since that time, however, we have seen a letter from Mr. Judson Jarvis, who we believe is a son-in-law of the late sheriff and authorized to speak in behalf of the family, containing the following language, "the rumors started in the Exchange Salesroom that the property corner One Hundred and Fifth street and the Boulevard has been sold at private sale is untrue. Oblige by not giving the rumor any notice."

In Brooklyn during the past week a portion of the Brevoort estate, on Atlantic avenue, extending from Bedford to Franklin avenue, has been sold under foreclosure for $31,000. A lot in Pierrepont street, 175 feet west of Hicks street, 25x100, was sold under foreclosure for $20,000.

The most important sale during the coming week, at the Exchange Salesroom, 111 Broadway, will be the peremptory auction sale, by Mr. Richard V. Harnett on Tuesday, 9th inst., of twenty-six excellent building lots on Lexington avenue, One Hundred and Second and One Hundred and Third streets. We refer builders and investors to the particulars given in our advertising columns in regard to this sale, and can only add from information received by us from authentic sources that this sale will indeed be peremptory. The lots are all ready for improvement, and now that the elevated roads are bringing so many people to the upper end of the island, notably to the East Side, builders and others engaged in improving that section of the city can do no better than come to the Exchange Salesroom on that day and secure a number of these lots, which are thrown on the market from first hands.

The next sale of importance occurs on Wednesday, when Mr. Hugh N. Camp will sell the grounds, buildings and machinery of the late New York Steam Sugar Refining Company on South, Montgomery, Water and Cherry streets.

On the same day, Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son will sell business property in Greenwich and Reade streets and on Thursday the same firm will sell, by order of the executor, a fine house and lot on West Twenty-eighth street near Broadway and also a four story brown stone house and lot in West Twelfth street between Fifth and Sixth avenues.

Many investors on the West Side are already looking forward to the sale of the Carman estate, which, as will be seen by an announcement in another column, is set down for the 23th inst. We will speak more at length of this favorite locality in our next issue.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

The principal topic of conversation in Pine street during the week, has been the breaking up of the Stuart block on Sixty-ninth street, between Madison and Fifth avenues, by the sale of nine lots to Mr. John D. Crimmins, and report has it that other lots have been sold to different parties. The Crimmins purchase of nine lots, is, however, a fact, for which we can vouch, he having signed the contract for the same on Thursday, paying $27,500 for each of the lots. They are on the south side of the street, and virtually compose the top of Lennox Hill, the ground is all fine gravel, no water can possibly get there, and they present a view nowhere met with in that section of the city. It was in 1834 that one of the Stuart brothers bought the entire block from Mr. James Lennox, for $220,000, and many a time since has he refused a large advance, some say a million and a half for this hill. In fact, it was kept out of the market entirely until after the recent death of one of the Stuarts, when the surviving brother made up his mind to sell. Mr. Crimmins, now that he has secured this property, though willing to sell, states that he does not want to part with any of the lots except to investors who desire to build there. Speculative builders might be disposed to erect houses there of smaller dimensions than are required for that locality, and as the purchaser himself intends to build one mansion there having more than 27 feet frontage, he desires to see his neighbors follow his example.

The next sale of importance effected during the week, is the one made by L. J. & I. Phillips, of the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and Eighty-third street, 102 feet on the avenue, and 160 on the street, for $180,000. This property is directly opposite to Mr. Arnold's, and has been sold for Mr. D. H. McAlpine. It was only a few years ago that this identical property was purchased by an expert for $210,000, and resold by him at a considerable advance. The present purchaser secures the six lots at a rate considerably lower than they have heretofore commanded in this market.

Another interesting topic that agitated the minds of brokers was the fact that, during the past few days, a few drygoods merchants had made up their minds to invest $350,000 in West Side lots. Some had this figure as high as $500,000, but this was beyond the mark. The first plot secured by one of these investors is the one composed of twenty lots, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, Ninetenth and Ninety-first streets, for $126,000. This was bought by Mr. John A. Monsell, in the middle of February, for $95,000, sold by him for $100,000, and resold by Mr. Clancy, for Mr. Higginbottom, as was stated in these columns a week ago, for $114,000. Mr. Clancy is again the successful broker in disposing of them at the advanced price above named. From other transactions in the same locality, and as will also appear from the details given below, it will be noticed that property between the Eighth and Ninth avenues is in great favor. Eight thousand has been refused this week in the Seventies, and very few lots can now be obtained on Seventy-second street. Six thousand and sixty-five hundred is now refused on Heiser Hill (Ninety-first and Ninety-second streets), and the avenue lots are held at $5,000. The property secured for $126,000, we are credibly informed, is now out of the market and will be held by the investors.

To come down to detailed transactions, we have again to refer to the studied silence of brokers in regard to contracts closed by them, especially as to sales of speculative property. When told that, in addition to the $180,000 sale of Fifth avenue property reported above, made by the Messrs. Phillips, that firm had closed many other contracts during the week, further information was flatly refused. It was only through the instrumentality of a gray-haired investor, and a friend of THE RECORD, who happened to be present, that the broker was induced to give particulars of the following transactions, which he had closed: Southeast corner of Riverside avenue and Ninety-seventh street, three and a half lots for $27,000, to S. L. Jacobs; thirteen gore lots on Tenth avenue and Ninety fourth street, to Edward Friend, for $30,000; four lots on Boulevard and One Hundred and Eleventh street, $27,500; four lots on the south side of Seventieth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, for $23,000; two lots on the north side of Sixty-seventh street, 350 feet west of Eighth avenue, for $15,200; two lots on Seventy-first street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, for $15,000; southeast corner of Fifth avenue and Eightieth street, 25x100, for $40,000; also the following houses: One on Fifty sixth street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues, to Mr. Sidenberg, for $39,000, and No. 63 West Fifty-third street, 20 feet front, for $33,000. Other sales made by this firm were refused. It was ascertained, however, that the price at which they sold, in February, the three lots on the corner of the Boulevard and Sixty-third street, to Mr. John A. Monsell, was $30,000. The buyer has since been offered $40,000 for the same.

As we go to press, we hear that the same energetic firm has closed a contract for the sale of the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and Seventy-fourth street, belonging to Mr. Tiffany, being six lots in all, viz.: four on the avenue and two on the street for $200,000.

Messrs. Scott & Myers have also sold considerable property at private contract during the week. They, however, only furnish the following for publication: two lots on Sixth avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-first street, $9,000; twelve lots on West End avenue and Ninety sixth street, $45,000; thirteen lots, Ninety fourth street and Tenth avenue, $31,250.

Mr. L. N. Fowler, whose business office is on Ninety-ninth street and Tenth avenue, has sold a plot of ground, extending 14 feet along Ninety-eighth street and 75.8 on the Tenth avenue to the centre line of old Broadway, to Thos. Goodisson, for $12,500; also two lots on the south side of Ninety-eighth street, 100 feet east of Eleventh (West End) avenue, for $5,000, to George Boerum; also to Mr. Smith Ely, Jr., an irregular shaped lot on the north side of One Hundred and Thirtieth street, near Tenth avenue, for $1,650. Mr. Fowler has also sold a two-story and basement brick house and lot on the north side of Ninety-ninth streets, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, for $1,000, to Wm. L. Hale.

Going still further up town, we hear of the purchase, by Mr. Brennan, of three lots on the north side of One Hundred and Thirtieth street, 250 feet east of Eighth avenue, and three lots on the south side of One Hundred and Thirty-first street, for $19,000, all cash.

From the East Side of the town, Mr. L. Froehlich reports that he has sold Nos. 120 and 126 East Sixty-fifth street to D. L. Newbery & Brother, for $37,000; No. 315 East Forty-ninth street, to Mrs. Lewis, for $7,000, and No. 337 East Fifty-first street, to Joseph Schwarzschild, for $10,000.

Messrs. R. McCafferty & Co. have sold during the week to Mr. Sol. Sayles, No. 33 West Fifty-fifth street, four-story, 15x65x100, at $19,500.

In the lower part of the city, there are also reported some large transactions. Mr. A. S. Rosenbaum has purchased the southeast corner of University place and Eleventh street, comprising four lots, from Mr. Sternberger, for $100,000, all cash. The broker in this transaction is an old-timer, well-known in the vicinity of Liberty street, and whose modesty has induced him to veto our desire to publish his name.

The sale to the Open Board of Brokers, of No. 42 Broad street (21 feet), and No. 38 New street (32 feet), has been effected by Mr. H. H. Cammaun. The price paid is $60,000.

Mr. William Lalor, well known in the market, has moved into some fine offices in the basement of the Trinity Building, Mr. George W. Carrington sharing office facilities with him.

HOUSES THAT WILL BE SOLD READILY.

Messrs. Breen & Nason, the well known builders, have just completed six first-class houses in the choicest part of New York, well worthy the attention of buyers. Four of these houses are on the south side of Sixty-sixth street and two on the north side of Sixty-first street, all between Madison and Fifth avenues. Two of the Sixty-sixth street houses measure 25x98x100 and the two others measure 25x62x100, the Sixty-first street houses being also of the latter dimension.

While it would be superfluous to say anything to the trade in regard to the style of houses generally built by Breen & Nason, who are so favorably known among those looking for dwellings for their own occupancy, we, nevertheless, print the report of a representative of the Record, who made a careful survey of these houses. He found the basements all furnished in hardwood, the first floors in mahogany and oak, the second floors also in hardwood and the third and fourth floors in pine. While the houses, that are 98 feet deep, have elaborate and ornamental bay windows, all the other houses as well have their ontrances beautified with massive brown stone columns. The effect of this additional ornamentation adds enormously to the imposing and stylish appearance of these houses.

The parlors, rear parlors and extensive dining rooms, with their grand mirrors as well as the beautiful marble tiling of the halls, show that inside as well as outside, not only the design, but the effect, has been to construct first-class residences. In fact, it is but seldom that the display of mirrors, for instance, seen in these houses, is anywhere equalled, even in these times of building activity, where so many builders endeavor to overtop their competitors in the finish of their work. The elaborate mantels, also, which are of hardwood, are extremely ornamental, on the lower floors. Those on the upper floors are of marble, the variety of taste and ornamentation being constantly kept in view by the builders. It ought to be stated here that the firm which built these houses are themselves manufacturers. They owned the lots when they set to work building the houses, and everything possible made of wood connected with the structures has been manufactured by themselves.

Of course, in residences like these it is understood that there are ample staircases, so as to divide the servants' department from the rooms of the family proper. Hence, all of them have rear staircases for the servants, so as not to interfere with the comforts of the family. Mr. Zittel, of Third avenue, who has charge of the sale of these houses, will be pleased to show investors or purchasers over these premises. The prices vary from $55,000 up to $55,000, but we can say this, that, considering the locality and the frontage of the houses—all of them being 25 feet wide—no better houses, more honestly built and ornamental throughout, can be found in a district where everybody, who is anybody, now insists upon residing.

HOUSES EASILY REACHED BY RAPID TRANSIT.

Mr. Thomas F. Treacy, whose energetic building operations and successful sales of houses along One Hundred and Tenth and One Hundred and Eleventh streets, between Madison and Fourth avenues, have been heretofore alluded to in these columns, has recently begun the construction of five more houses, two on One Hundred and Sixteenth street, near Third avenue, and three on Lexington avenue, corner One Hundred and Eleventh street. These houses are only 20x55x100, are just the class required for those who, now that rapid transit has annihilated distance, are willing to reside far up-town. All of these houses are finished in the most approved style, special attention having been paid to plumbing arrangements. It will be found that the halls, parlors and other rooms in these houses have ample space, that everything has been furnished with style and elegance even, and that the ornamental part has not been neglected. Mr. Charles W. Romeyn, who has been superintending the construction of the houses formerly mentioned, is also looking after the new houses now going up, and the entire number of these houses really constitute in themselves an improvement for that section of the city, which reflect great credit on the architect and builder. The sale of these houses, we understand, has been entrusted to Mr. Hall J. How, of Pine street, who is disposed to extend liberal terms to those desirous of purchasing them, before the active springtide will necessitate a rise in prices.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Values have again shaded off a fraction, but not to the extent hoped for by many buyers, and finding that receivers were quite determined to stand out firmly against any immediate serious decline, those in want of stock have come forward and purchased with greater freedom. The demand, in fact, has been good and general, and the sales so close to the offering as to fairly exhaust the previous accumulation, together with the receipts following, and leave very little afloat unsold at the present writing. Consumers object to the cost, of course, and none have taken supplies except as a matter of necessity, but actual wants are really quite large, and, with the favorable weather for pushing operations, it is not considered judicious to fight the market at the moment. A strike among the workmen is also believed to be impending, and while contractors have as yet come to no conclusion as to how they will meet this issue, it is considered just as well to accomplish just as much work as possible before any demands are made, even should these be reasonable enough to receive favorable attention. About all the supplies at hand have come from the "River," and the rates quoted are generally at $9.50@10.00 per M, though some very ordinary stock sold lower. Pales have met with a full demand, and first-class grades close firm at $7.00@7.50 per M. Fronts are wanted, with a very small supply of Crotons available, and holders firm. On the best brands the rates asked are $12.00 per M for browns, and $13.00 for darks and reds afloat, and $2.00 additional from yard. Philadelphia and Baltimore Fronts are for the present nominal in a wholesale way.

CEMENT.—Rosendale continues in good demand, with the stock diminishing and the market firm. The choice and favorite brands are still held at $1.25, but stock can be had as low as $1.15 per bbl. We understand it is the intention of manufacturers to endeavor to open the new season at $1.10 per bbl. Saylor's Portland is reported in quick demand, and strong at the recent advance. All imported stock seems to be well sustained in value, with a free trade, the distribution covering quite liberal shipments to the West in addition to considerable calls from ordinary sources.

GLASS.—The market throughout is strong and active. On the foreign stock there seems to be a pretty sharp fight just now, between the leading importers, and, while the rates accepted frequently show almost a total absence of margin, it is impossible to secure a positive advance. This, however, does not affect the domestic article, which is already well sold ahead, in some cases, three or four months, and continues in quick demand. The American manufacturers, at a recent meeting, advanced prices to 10 and 10 per cent. discount, and jobbing cost has gone up in full proportion.

HARDWARE.—Pretty much everything in the way of a seasonable article of hardware is under demand, and the market generally retains a full volume of business. In fact, it has been almost too full for a few of the manufacturers, who, some time ago, ran much behind on their orders, and as yet not only find it impossible to catch up, but are getting in a worse position than ever. They seem to think, however, that this sort of thing can be worried through with so long as buyers are willing to book their orders, and take the chances of price at time of delivery. Values are firm, but more settled and not many new lists of late announced. Henry Disston & Sons have made an entire withdrawal of quotations on Files. On the balance of their catalogue the discounts at present are as follows: Pages 11 to 17, inclusive, except Segment Saws, 35 per cent; page 12, Segment Saws, special; pages 18 to 61, inclusive, 20 per cent; pages 62 to 65, 15 per cent; pages 66 to 81, 20 per cent; pages 82 to 88, 50 per cent; pages 89 to 91, 65 per cent.

LATH.—The indications of an easier tone, noted in our last, were well founded, and the market has set back to $2 50 per M. At this, however, we have reports of a great many parcels sold, and the tone now appears to have steadied up again with few, if any, sellers willing to listen to bids below the above. A great many lath are known to be wanted here and around about and receivers express some fear that supplies will not be adequate, but, at the price, and, considering the season, it will be strange if this theory holds good for any length of time.

LIME.—Demand continues good and the supply of Eastern at hand, with the bulk of the cargoes afloat for this port, have been disposed of at full former rates, or $1 and $1 25 per hbl., respectively, for the two grades. State lime is also in good demand, but is easier under the offerings brought in by rail, which are available at 90c. from cars at 33d street.

LABOR.—Up to the present writing, nothing of any serious nature has taken place on this market. The lathers employed by a few contractors known to be in a great hurry to push their work had a demonstration, and secured what they asked for, as they were really too insignificant to fight, and it was hardly worth the trouble to look up hands, even though they could be picked up on almost any street corner; good sized boys, with sense enough to drive a nail straight, being about all the skill required. This some of the sensation dailies dignified with the name of "Strike." The more important branches of labor, however, are evidently becoming restless under the machinations of the evil advisers who arrogate to themselves the position of leaders, and several of the alleged trade unions are understood to be making preparations to order their members on strike. The marble polishers and brick layers are as yet the only ones giving open indications, but certain "signs" point to two or three other trades connected with the building interest.

LUMBER.—Taken altogether there is a toning down of extreme views and even among the selling interest there is admission that the "edge is off" to some extent. A considerable amount of desirable stock can yet be placed but the extreme anxiety of buyers has been appeased and calls are now made with greater caution and closer calculation to nearby wants. The commencement of the new season, some shading already on freight rates, and the temptation to manufacturers, through current prices, to rush stock forward as rapidly as they can secure facilities, all tend to this result, while additional influences are to be found in the withholding of contracts for building consequent upon the high general cost of material and the strong indications of serious labor strikes. Demand in fact no longer takes the initiative in opening negotiations and while the selling interest has not as yet so lost advantage as to compel it to submit to serious concession, it must now seek the custom that recently seem to develop spontaneously, and also frequently finds it necessary to make moderate allowances before operations reach a successful issue.

Spruce shows an inclination to weaken. Outside of the specials recently received, those expected and the occasional random reached, dealers are not controlling much stock, but they evidently feel less alarm about the prospect of a supply, and become correspondingly careful with their bids. A great many vessels have recently been chartered, some at reduced rates, to bring lumber from the Eastward in this direction, and we hear less said about the hungry buyers standing ready to take all they can lay hands on, but find an increase in the looking around for a good place to offer the stock when it comes to hand. New points of supply are becoming available and manufacturers anxious to obtain some share in the high prices. We quote nominally at $16@17 Random and $17@19 for specials.

Hemlock is rather under neglect again but there does not appear to be a great amount offering, and the rates are named at about $13.50@14.50 somewhat nominally.

White Pine appears to be in about as good, if not in rather better, condition than any other class of stock at the moment. There is more than the average home demand for all ordinary consumptive purposes with occasional orders to fill from nearby points where supplies have run out entirely, and the export movement is reported as holding up to a full aggregate. Accumulations are shrinking daily and even with full transportation facilities it is considered doubtful if any important additions could be made. We understand that the bulk if not all the Clear Pine likely to be available for this market for a long way into the season is controlled by two or three holders, who are determined to stand out for rates relatively higher than those now ruling here. We quote at $17@18 per M. for West India shipping boards; $22@25 for South American do.; $16.50@17 for box boards; $17.50@18 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine continues to be offered moderately and indifferently, and only at an extreme limit of valuation. Buyers, however, have either contracted for all they want at present, or do not like the rates as the demand is very light beyond a few odd calls for cargoes to be exported direct. Valuations are somewhat nominal. We quote random cargoes at about $21@23 per M; ordered cargoes, $23@24 do; green flooring boards, $2@22 do., and dry do. do.. $22@24. Cargoes at the South $13@14 50 per M. for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Atlantic ports; $12 75@14 for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Gulf ports; hewed timber, $18.50@19.

Hardwoods are selling very slowly by car-load and less freely from yard as manufacturers, in view of the danger from striking workmen, are unwilling to increase stocks. Values nominally unchanged. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $3@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. c. lls, $18@20 do; cherry, $15@75 do; white wood, 1/2 and 3/4 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do; hickory, $35@45 do, for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Shingles are steady and meeting with a moderate home and shipping demand. The stock not very large. We quote cypresses at about $6 for saps, and $8.50@9 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $4 for 18-inch, and Eastern saw grades at $2.50@4 50 for 16 inch as to quality and quantity. Machine dressed cedar shingles quoted as follows: For 30 inch $16@22.25 for A and $28 75@33 25 for No. 1; for 24-inch, $6 50@16 for A and $16.75@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch, $5@10.50 for A and $11.25@15.75 for No. 1.

At the yards business appears to be going along swimmingly, a full and general distribution of stock taking place, and former rates obtained without difficulty on all grades.
